

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Jimmy Coon and His Friends

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest.

THE BEAVERS ARE NOT AFRAID.

When the big black bear climbed up in the roof of the beaver's house that winter night, every member of the Beaver Family woke up with a start, and the young beavers began to cry in great fear. And no wonder they were frightened, for the great bear was digging a hole through the roof that made Mr. Bear's mouth water. What do you suppose it was?

Let me tell you something wonderful about that house. It had a ventilator in the roof. This ventilator was made by the builders to let some fresh air into the beaver's house, so that they would keep well and strong. And you can see that the smell of beaver meat came up through that ventilator, just as it would come up through a chimney in any house. And that sweet smell of beaver meat made Mr. Bear almost wild for his breakfast, for he hadn't had a bite to eat for three days, and he was almost starved; and the beavers inside were very still, and he heard Mr. Bear say to himself: "My, I never smelled such a sweet smell in my life as that beaver meat!"

When the little beavers heard their father's comforting words they stopped crying, but they cuddled up very close to their father and mother, and still trembled as they heard the big bear still walking around on the roof. Mr. Bear kept them awake for several hours, for he had dug through the snow in the roof, and now he was trying to dig a hole through the poles and logs and frozen mud.

All the beavers inside heard the big bear's claws as he tried to pull off the poles, and the little beavers trembled as they heard his sharp teeth as he tried to bite through the logs. You see, what made the big bear bite and claw to dig

The great bear was digging a hole through the snow on the roof.

BE AN APPLE PARER FOR ONCE

The boys overseas have cleared the Huns out of France and Belgium, but even at that many of them will be overseas for a long time yet. The least the people at home can do is to pay a visit to the apple-peeling bee, and help Miss Priddy and her workers clear the apples out of the munition factory at the foot of King street before Saturday. Those boys over there get very little fruit, and if the people at home can be the means of sending it why do they not do so? Circumstances have arisen which make it necessary for Miss Priddy to leave on Saturday, so that a big army of helpers will be necessary to finish the work these last days.

Advertiser Patterns

A Stylish Dress in Tunic Style.

2631—This is a good model for combinations. The undershirt and trimmings could be of plain or checked suiting and the tunic, waist and sleeves, of serge. One could also combine silk or satin with crepe or gabardine, in this way.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 5 yards of 44-inch material. Width of skirt at waist edge is about two yards.

Date Filling—One pound dates, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup hot water. Stone dates, cut in small pieces, and boil till soft, stir often to prevent burning.

Ans.—The ace samples which you inclose are very pretty, and I am forwarding them to the reader you refer to. Your cookie recipe sounds so good, and its eggless-ness will commend it to many.

1. Your writing is fairly good. 2. A few.

Contingent Party.

"A Sensitive Mother," should advise you not to have the "coming-out" party until she is 18 years of age. It would be decidedly better form.

BE AN APPLE PARER FOR ONCE

The boys overseas have cleared the Huns out of France and Belgium, but even at that many of them will be overseas for a long time yet. The least the people at home can do is to pay a visit to the apple-peeling bee, and help Miss Priddy and her workers clear the apples out of the munition factory at the foot of King street before Saturday. Those boys over there get very little fruit, and if the people at home can be the means of sending it why do they not do so? Circumstances have arisen which make it necessary for Miss Priddy to leave on Saturday, so that a big army of helpers will be necessary to finish the work these last days.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Readers Are Invited to Phone All News of This Kind to the Society Editor. Phone 3670.

Mrs. Edward Pratt of Toronto will be a guest in the city today to address the High School Girls' Club on the subject, "The Girl in the Modern Movement."

Miss Whitehead, principal of Molton Ladies' College, Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. E. H. Miller, while attending the Baptist convention, now being held in this city.

The quiet wedding of Harry R. Drew of Toronto, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drew of Etobicoke, was solemnized in the Westminster Presbyterian Church on Saturday night at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. B. McAllister, officiating. The bride, Miss Gertrude, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Watson, of Etobicoke, was given away by her brother, Allan Watson, and wore a suit of grey Highland serge, panna velvet hat, black fox fur and corsage bouquet of white roses.

Several friends of Mrs. J. B. McAllister gathered at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rose Thompson, 22 Campbell street, where Mrs. McAllister lies very ill. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. McAllister, and a pleasant afternoon was spent, tea being served in the living room. Mrs. McAllister was the recipient of several large bouquets of roses and mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McNally of Brantford have returned after spending a few days with Miss M. Elgie.

Patriotic Western Ontario

Address All News for This Column to the Editor of the Women's Page.

GREATEST NUMBER OF

The Goldstream Women's Institute wishes to thank the members and surrounding community for the generous response to an appeal for chickens for the Parkhill Canning Centre. The committee packed 85 chickens and forwarded them, this being the greatest number of chickens the canning centre had received from one source.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Burgess Joint Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Women's Institute and the Red Cross Association is being held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Proctor. The annual Christmas bazaar under the auspices of the Women's Institute will be held in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Friday afternoon, December 6. Donations of fancy work, cooking and home-made candy are urgently requested. Tea will be served, the entire proceeds to be in aid of the Red Cross relief work.

CLINTON'S WOMEN'S INSTITUTE. The Women's Institutes of Clinton, Ontario, have combined efforts brought about the establishment and maintenance of the Clinton Hospital. This report was submitted to the board of health at its last meeting by Mrs. J. F. Thompson.

The work was begun at the beginning of October at 404 Talbot street, later being continued at the latter day. The hospital was opened on Friday, November 22, at 10 o'clock. It is situated in connection with the inside and outside work the facts and figures can only be approximately given, owing to the nature of the order, which is purely a voluntary one, existing to give first aid to the injured and to render help in case of sickness, no machinery was in existence to tabulate accurately the cases dealt with, and further, that I was too busy to improvise such a department. It may be assumed, however, that the facts given are rather an under-estimation than an over-estimation of the work done.

FLORENCE W. L. AND PATRIOTIC LEAGUE.

The Women's Institute report their work for the month of October, when they shipped to Hyman Hall: Seventeen suits of pyjamas, 63 pillow cases and 10 towels, with total value of $21.00. The following articles being sent to the Red Cross headquarters at Toronto, in November: The executive met and packed boxes for overseas, the following articles being put in the boxes: Twenty-four fruit cakes, 18 dozen cookies, 12 packages of figs, 10 packages cream cheese, 18 chocolate bars, 48 packages of gum, maple sugar, honey, jelly, cocoa, coffee, fruit and condensed milk. Goods to the value of $21.00 were purchased on boxes amounted to $14.02. Mr. James Bentley gave a donation of $5 for the Red Cross.

The Women's Patriotic League reports the following for November: One hundred and fifty-six towels, 25 suits pyjamas, 33 towels, 22 personal hygiene kits, over 600 packages of food, 100 cases have been dealt with for over a short or long time. Reckoning on a basis of health, 10,000 hours of duty, or 1,000 days of ten hours. At this rate, 80 per cent of the work done was without pay. This, however, only covers the hospital work, and if the outside work were reckoned up, too, another 3,000 days would be added, making almost four times the number of duty days.

JANEY CANUCK CHAPTER PACKS OVERSEAS BOXES

The Janey Canuck Chapter has sent about 20 parcels overseas, some going to soldiers having "no next of kin," the names being secured from the records at Ottawa. The contents consisted of 221 boxes sent overseas, 100 towels, Christmas cake, shortbread, handkerchiefs, soap, shaving soap, toothbrush, washcloth, stationery and nuts.

WHY CORRESPOND.

Dear Miss Grey, I am writing a letter in your corner some time ago from a high school girl who wished to correspond with a girl from another school. I will answer if she writes first. I shall leave my address with the Mail-Box.

Now, Miss Grey, could you please tell me on what day January 2, 1905, fell? Ans.—(1) Referred to H. S. girl. (2) A Friday.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL WORK REPORTED TO LOCAL HEALTH BOARD

700 Patients in All Dealt With by No. 1 and No. 4 Divisions.

The following is a report of No. 1 Ambulance Brigade and No. 4 Division, whose combined efforts brought about the establishment and maintenance of the Clinton Hospital. This report was submitted to the board of health at its last meeting by Mrs. J. F. Thompson.

The work was begun at the beginning of October at 404 Talbot street, later being continued at the latter day. The hospital was opened on Friday, November 22, at 10 o'clock. It is situated in connection with the inside and outside work the facts and figures can only be approximately given, owing to the nature of the order, which is purely a voluntary one, existing to give first aid to the injured and to render help in case of sickness, no machinery was in existence to tabulate accurately the cases dealt with, and further, that I was too busy to improvise such a department. It may be assumed, however, that the facts given are rather an under-estimation than an over-estimation of the work done.

The first case was admitted to the hospital on Talbot street on October 7. The hospital continued to admit patients from that time until November 10, when the hospital was closed. During this time 38 patients, the last two being discharged on November 2.

"On October 27 the front portion of 404 Talbot street was reopened as a children's hospital, and 11 children were nursed there, the hospital finally closing on November 14, when the last child was discharged. The hospital was home, where she is still nursing it.

Miss Dockstader, took the last child home, where she is still nursing it. The hospital was closed on November 14, when the last child was discharged. The hospital was home, where she is still nursing it.

It would be invidious to make any distinction in the work done by the cases of those nurses who will receive pay (perhaps seven or eight), let me say that where a day was charged that day was not reckoned on the board of health schedule, but consisted of as much as 20 hours. In many cases the charge was made or expected. In justice to those who have filled accounts, I must say that in most cases those nurses gave up their business positions and forfeited pay, their employers kindly sending them for the emergency.

Not Possible to Give Full Account. It is impossible for our account to reflect, owing to the fact that previously stated, that we had no statistical department. We are further handicapped in that some of our accounts were direct to the board of health, and of some accounts we have no account, owing to the nature of the purchases, a considerable sum being spent in this way. If the total seems unduly inflated it is because of the fact that much of the expenditure is on capital account, such as beds, hot water bottles, bandages, etc. No account was put in for materials taken from our regular stores, which would amount to at least $100, nor is any account taken of street car fares.

Thirty-seven members of No. 4 Nursing Division were on constant duty, as well as five probationers and ten outsiders, who generously helped in making a total of 52. Four members of No. 1 Ambulance Division did ambulance work, as well as Mrs. Dunn, my first officer. Whenever a patient was sent for, an ambulance man and nursing sister accompanied the patient to the hospital.

Mrs. Thompson asked the board to furnish her with particulars of cost, so that her full report might be sent.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE BIBLE LESSON FOR SUNDAY, December 1, 1918.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Lumsden, D.D. Joseph sold by his brothers.—Gen. xxxvii, 18-28.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

19. Verse 24.—They put Joseph into a pit to die by starvation: when any reigns in the heart, what is the limit of its cruelty?

11. We learn from Gen. xlii, 21, that Joseph brought them in great sorrow and anguish to spare his life, but their malice was only increased. How do you explain that the more barbarous an act is, the more malice is gratified? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

12. Verse 25.—Whose lot would you rather covet, and why, Joseph in the pit, or the brothers eating bread at the mouth of the pit?

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

A splendid wash—EARLY!

Purity—complete cleanliness—garments that are unworn and unfaded—with the wash-board rub-and-scrub done away with the clothes are out early—that's a Sunlight Soap wash day. Good news!

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, Toronto.

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

Those Troublesome Toes. Dear Miss Grey—For a long time I have resisted the temptation of writing to you when you were, oh, so busy, but have yielded. It's the same old story. May I please have that stocking pattern? My terrible feet will go through their covers, although I have scolded them repeatedly. If ever I can be of service to you or the readers I will gladly come forward. Yours truly, SCOTCH THISTLE. Ans.—I'm sorry your feet are so "restless-like." The pattern has gone forward, and perhaps when you get re-footed, so many scoldings won't be necessary. Then maybe you'll yield again to the terrible temptation of writing us.

We're All Glad. Dear Miss Grey—I wrote once before and thought I would write again, if you're willing. We're all so glad this war is over; I know I am. A cousin of mine was killed not so very long ago.

I think it was "Lonely Reader" who was asking for Sweetheart coupons; enclosed you will find some. Hope the little boy gets his bicycle.

Miss Grey, here is a recipe for "Feather Muffs," which are rather nice:

Feather Muffs—Four tablespoons butter, 4 of sugar, 1 egg, 3-4 cup milk, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder. This recipe makes twelve nice fluffy muffs.

Would you mind telling me the meaning of these names: Ninetta, Stanley, Pearl and Isabel? I remain, Many thanks.

Ans.—Very pleased to hear again from you, little "Pan." I do not know the meaning of Stanley; Ninetta is a combination of Nina and Etta. Nina has the same derivation as Nan and Anna, which means grace. Isabel means consecrated; Pearl, precious as a pearl. I have sent your coupons to "Lonesome Reader," for her cousin.

Many thanks.

It's a Pleasure.

Dear Miss Grey—I am a correspondent for The Advertiser and a lady asked me the other day to ask you to print in your page in the paper, the recipe for pumpkin marmalade, and oblige.

Ans.—It's a pleasure to do so. "Scribe."

Pumpkin Preserve—Choose a good sweet pumpkin, pare, slice and take out the seeds; allow 1 pound of sugar and half a lemon for 1 pound of pumpkin. Put the pumpkin on to boil, adding a little water; when nearly tender add sliced lemon, sugar and a little salt. Boil for 1 hour, then when the conserve will be dark and rich-looking. Put into jars and seal up.

Pumpkin Preserve No. 2.—Cut up a tin to-day and reduce your milk bills. A pound makes four quarts.

Canada Food Board License No. 14-25.

Saving Lives in France and Belgium

THOUSANDS of tins of Klim, pasteurized separated milk in powder form, have been sent by the "Friends of France" and other organizations to the starving French and Belgian people. A nurse writes: "Please send us more Klim. It is the greatest benefit to the refugees, the old men and women and the children."

Get Klim for use in your own home from your Grocer. It has the natural milk flavor. It is genuine. Use Klim from the tin as you need it. Mix dry with flour, sugar, eggs, etc., in cooking. Make into liquid for table use, by whipping into water according to directions.

Order a tin to-day and reduce your milk bills. A pound makes four quarts.

Canada Food Board License No. 14-25.

Come Mother, This Castor Oil

Is What You Need—Don't Cry!

If you, mother, had to swallow the awful dose—Think back to your childhood days—Ugh!

Give your children Cascarets instead. Cascarets taste like candy. Every child loves to take a Cascaret. Besides Cascarets act better on the little liver and bowels when the child is bilious, constipated, feverish and sick. Cascarets are delightful—harmless—cheap!

Each 10 cent box of Cascarets, the pleasant candy cathartic, contains directions and dosage for children aged one year old and upwards. When the little one's tongue turns white, breath feverish, stomach sour, there is nothing better to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and constipation poison from the child's system. Give Cascarets, then never worry.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Clearing Sale OF ALL USED Pianos and organs

For Three Days Only, at HEINTZMAN HALL

At the Great Reductions of $150 to $200

Owing to the great demand for the world's best piano, Heintzman & Co., we find our floors overstocked with slightly used pianos—some as good as new—which we are compelled to sell regardless of price or terms.

Come Today, If Possible. If not, write for catalogue, as these wonderful bargains will not last long at great reductions. Full allowance will be given in exchange on new piano on or before one year from date.

This Beautiful Player Piano, Mahogany Case, Like New, Was $800.. .. Sale Price, $375

SQUARE PIANO, PRICE $25.00 CHOICE OF SIX SQUARE PIANOS.

WE also carry a full line of the world's famous talking machine, the Sonora. If there was anything better in talking machines we would be selling it.

A SMALL DEPOSIT will hold any instrument till Christmas. Terms arranged to suite you. Store open evenings.

HEINTZMAN HALL

242 DUNDAS STREET. PHONE 1039.

POLLY AND HER PALS.

SO THIS IS THE THANKSGIVING WE WERE TO HAVE. GOOSE, EN?

GREAT GUNS! GAL! HERE! HERE! HAWT HE?

YEAH! BUT YOU AIN'T GOT THE GUMPTION 'T BUTCHER THE BUTE!

I'M A GOOSE GOURMAND. GALS, BUT I DON'T HAWKER FER 'EM ON THE HOOF!

THE HON. CORNUED-BEEF AND CABBAGE IS SERVED!

DITTO!

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.

LOVE BLINDS OUR EYES TO FAULTS.

The wise man in the text says, "Hatred stirreth up strife; but love covereth all transgressions." and it is true. Most of our difficulties arise from being caused by lack of love; most of the trouble we have with others is because we do not love; most of the faults we see in others only exist in our loveless vision. But when there are real faults, the tendency of love is not to see them, or to palliate them, and we endeavor by kindness to change the faults of our disputants without stirring up any strife with them. We should, therefore, cultivate love, both objectively and subjectively; look at the faults of our friends through the glasses of love, and love them by applying the balm of love.

By Cliff Sterrett

Golden Text: Hatred stirreth up strife, but love covereth all transgressions.—Prov. x, 12.