of a Father-Raised Country.

"Surely a man will be found in Canada big enough for the task of solving Canada's problems today. If not, God will raise up a woman for the work, as he raised up Deborah, a mother in the job, then God will find a woman to lead us," said Mrs. (Rev.) G. M. Young at the evening "Mother and Daughter" service in Chalmers Presby-

Bolshevism.
Girls and women of today should prepare themselves to be great leaders.
Qualities essential to successful leadership were self-confidence, enthusiasm, decision of character and faith in God. Reference was made to social unrest, social evils and impurities existing today. The advent of women into national and public life would result in a purification of social, political and national life.

Special musical selections were given by the church choir, a special orchestra and by a vocal quartet. and by a vocal quartet.

The Bible lesson was read by a very young lady, Miss Nan Kilman, and other young ladies acted as ushers.

The morning subject discussed by Mrs. Young was "Woman in the Home."

Telegrams from Sir George Foster and Sir Henry Drayton express regret to the London Advertising Club that London Made-in-Canada week came at a time when they found it impossible to be present. However, they sent congratulations and intimated that they would watch its success. In a cheery letter S. Frank Glass alluded to the affair, stating that Canada was now at a crucial stage in its career and the necessity of purchasing made-in-Canada merchandise should be taken to heart by the public at large.

Fourteen Sections.

To simplify the handling of the big parade it has been divided into fourteen sections. Following the hombers will come the Seventh Regiment Band. Several members af the Advertising Club carrying the largest Canadian flag in the city, will take their place ahead of the Advertising Club's float, which will be drawn by four horses.

Mrs. Young found her text in the Book of Judges, in passages which referred to decadence in the life of Israel. Until Deborah arose, conditions were growing steadily worse.

"We want the mother-heart today in Canada," said Mrs. Young. "We want in the home and in the state. The fair deal. The father-heart says, 'Let them fight it out.'

"If there were mothers in the councils of our state, there wouldn't be so much profiteering." declared Mrs. Young, referring to the fact that in the past both state and church had excluded women from thoir councils.

No Boishevik Danger.

Germany was a fair example of a father-raised country, said the speaker. Many people today were afraid of Boishevism in Canada. With women taking their place in the affairs of the nation and enjoying an equal status with men, there was no danger of Bolshevism.
