Late Rally in New York is Smallness of Receipts Acts as Bullish Factor in Chicago.

Heaviness prevailed thruout yesterday's limited dealings on the Toronto Exchange, the spirited rally at New York on definite prospect that the United States railroads will receive today, owing, more or less, to persistent smallness of receipts, despite announcements of a better supply of railway cars. The market closed firm, %c to 1c net higher, with January $1.21% and May at $1.19½ to $1.19%. Oats the late break in United States Steel on Tuesday. the late break in United States Steel on Tuesday. Dominion Steel sold at 51%, a loss of half a point, with only 20% bid at the close, and Steel of a rada was heavy at 50. Mackay cold at 73%, or 1% below Tuesday's guotation. Canada Permanent was marketed to the extent of 130 shares at 165, the minimum. The war loans averaged about half a point lower, forfeiting the gains scored toward the close of last week, but the reaction was a natural one in view of the fact that buying for conversion purposes is at an end, and that the new issue will soon be listed and in competition with the earlier offerings.

The day's transactions were: Stocks, 310; war bonds, $22,200.

GAMBLING

In ordinary times not one business man in a thousand understands "fin-ence." In the e war times, when the ence." In these war times, when the covernment necessarily spends first and collects afterwards, and in amounts med of before, not one in ten comprehends how the trick is thousand comprehends how the trick is done. Then, too, with the government business increased a million fold, there is tested government machinery to handle the vast volume. Harriman, rail-road wizard, once said he would give half of his fortune to the man who could handle the U. P., S. P., C. B. Q. mixup. War business greater than the combined three railroads is today handled by men unknown nationally. inknown nationally.

Men who have spent their lives in tanneries are given the building of ships the shoemakers. Men who have spent their lives in tanneries are given the building of ships costing billions and the big shoemakers leave the making of forty mildions of soldiers' boots, bringing them scores of mil-Bons of profits, to their office boys, while they regulate the nation's food, fuel and clothing. It must be so in sudden, wholesale war.

Government affairs today are necessarily chaos; the people do not know it—well they do not—but our great President does, and is doing titanic work to straighten things out, to the end that the whole country knows that four fundamentals are not chaotic: Our boys are being got to the firing line, our food, fuel, clothes and munitions are being got to our allies, our government is ready with its money bags to pay the stupendous bills, and the whole American people stand ready to willingly and enthustastically hand over to the government the wherewithal. Under these conditions, so soon after the war's beginning, it is small wonder the country is standing on new side lines calmly waiting the eventuating of any miracle necessary to keep things going smoothly until the end.

There will be no miracle. Everything in this as in all other wars will be subject to the inexorable laws of cause and effect. The government must have 50 billions. It will get 50 billions, There are but two ways to get it, direct taxatten, pay as we go, or bonds—mortgage the future. Elther way or both, the government will collect from the American people 50 billions, which are now in the rorm of stocks and bonds.

Let us look this condition square in its vitals—let us quit fooling with fairy-ings, for this, the finance end of war, is the main shaft of it ald. If the government cannot have unlimited money to finance lits own army, its own affairs, its allies' armies and affairs, and have it without internal war, then the Jig is up, and civilization's guts will be trampled by the Huns.

To take 50 billions from the people by direct taxation is impossible unless the government confiscates the country's industries.

To begin confiscating now will bring panic so great as to shrink wealth values over 50 billions.

Liberty Bonds must be the way out. The people can buy 50 billions of bonds only by selling directly or indirectly, their present stock and bond wealth.

They cannot sell directly, except for a short time, because there is no one to buy 50 billions—therefore they must downat they are doing now in the second Liberty flotation, sell them indirectly by borrowing on them at the bank, trust and insurance companies and other quasi government institutions. In the end it will be the equivalent of government condiscation, government ownership, but orderly, harmless confiscation.

In the end the people will own the best securities in the country—Libertys—government bonds carrying interest as high as government—run industries can earn, and the government will run the country's industries, seeking only profit enough to pay its Liberty Bond interest.

The first working out of this condition—it is already working—will be selling of stocks and bonds and buying of Libertys. As new Libertys come and the people grow to understand actual condition—it is already working—will be selling of stocks and bonds and buying of Libertys. As new Libertys come and the people grow to understand actual conditions, the selling of stocks and bonds and buying of Libertys. As new Libertys come and the people grow to understand actual conditions.

Armies in Field.

London, Dec. 5. — The situation in Russia is unique in history, according to the Petrograd correspondent of The Morning Post, writing Saturday, but it is not yet advisable to raise the curtain upon the "mysteries of the tragi-comic drama." The correspondent insists that "Russia will right herself if generously allowed the necessary latitude by the puzzled alles, and next spring it will put new armies in the field to fight the invader with the success that marked the Russian efforts earlier in the war."

"In the meantime," he adds, "the situation is extremely curious. Some force which is above or beyond all the contending parties is putting the spokes into the wheels of all of them."

The correspondent instances the arious interferences with the administration, without, however, eluciating his suggestion.
