

WINS M. A. WITH HIGH DISTINCTION

St. John Student Continues Good Work at Harvard University.

The Maritime Baptist publishes the following: Bernard Francis Haley won his M. A. degree at the recent commencement at Harvard University with the highest distinction conferred by that great school, that of Magna Cum Laude. Mr. Haley graduated from the High School in St. John, where he led his class and won two gold medals. He took his freshman year at Acadia. He enrolled for overseas service on his 18th birthday. On his return from overseas service, Mr. Haley completed his B. A. course at Leland Stanford University, graduating with high honors in the fall of 1922. He entered Harvard in September, 1923, with a scholarship won at Leland Stanford. He has now won a scholarship at Harvard, where he is pursuing a course in economics leading to the Ph.D. Mr. Haley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert G. Haley, formerly of St. John, and now known among Maritime Baptists. They now reside at Hollywood, California.

Rev. Gideon Swin recently spent three weeks visiting the scores of former laborers in the Prince William pastorate. While there, Mr. Swin preached two Sundays at points not covered by the pastor on those days. The people of the communities made a social in his honor and presented the proceeds, amounting to $36, to him. Mr. Swin reports the acting pastor, Rev. Calvin Currie, as a very active man of his years and as baptizing ten converts on June 28.

Rev. C. T. Clark, the pastor at Fairville, wears a very expressive smile these days. This is due to the recent increase of $300 in his salary. He says to both church and pastor this action is most fitting and shows appreciation of good service faithfully rendered.

Rev. George R. Baker, D. D., assistant secretary of the Northern Baptist Educational Society, is spending his vacation at the Baker home in Fairville.

Rev. Edgar Y. Mullins, D. D., president of the Baptist World Alliance, is the vacation preacher at the Third Baptist church in St. Louis, of which Rev. H. A. Porter, D. D., is the pastor. Dr. Porter spends his vacation at Oak Bluffs, Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

We are sorry to learn that Rev. F. H. Beals has been seriously ill. He has rendered nearly 40 years' fruitful service to churches within our convention.

FOUND POT OF OLD SILVER PENNIES

Purchaser of House in England Makes Discovery of Interest.

York, Eng., July 16.—Mr. Bartholomew, who recently purchased George House, Scotton, near Knaresborough, was making alterations when he hit upon treasure trove in the shape of a pot of silver pennies. There were 800 of them, dating from the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, most of them coined in the reigns of Edward I, and probably the two Edwards following, and a few of Alexander III, of Scotland.

According to custom the coroner, the king's officer, and 12 jurymen had to determine, after hearing the witnesses, "who are the finders and who are suspicious thereof."

There was a long series of enactments on the subject, going back to Alfred the Great. Under the present rules, finders who surrender their discoveries have such of the articles as are not required for national institutions returned, together with the antiquarian value of such as might be retained, less 20 per cent.

Henry Crowther, curator of the Leeds city Museum, has identified one of the coins as a silver penny of Alexander III, of Scotland (1249-1286) and several as having been struck in the reigns of the first three Edwards of England.

NOTICES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS, 50 CENTS.

MARRIAGES.

GRANT-BROWN—At Trinity church, on July 15, by Rev. Canon R. Armstrong, William J. Grant to Mrs. Jennie E. Brown.

DEATHS

LAHEY—In this city, on July 15, 1924, Agnes Dudley, youngest daughter of Mary and the late Edward Lahey, leaving her mother, two brothers and two sisters to mourn.

Funeral on Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock from her late residence, 233 Gannett street, to St. John the Baptist church for high mass of requiem.

GREEN'S DINING HALL King Square BREAKFAST 40c DINNER 60c SUPPER 60c NOON, 12-2:30; P.M., 5-8. 12-27-1924

CANADA TODAY IN SPOTLIGHT AT OLYMPIC RACE

(Continued from page 1.) The official jury decided that Argentine and the team would row today with the crew which took second place in the other heats to determine which shall compete in the final. France had finished second, Belgium third and Argentine last in the disputed heat.

SHIPPING

PORT OF ST. JOHN. Arrived. Wednesday, July 15. Stmr. Kalmarsund, from San Domingo. Coastwise—Stmr. Bear River, 70. Woodworth, for Digby; gas sch. Wilfrid D. 21, Mills, from Advocate Harbor. Cleared. Wednesday, July 15. Coastwise—Stmr. Bear River, 70. Woodworth, for Digby; gas sch. Wilfrid D. 21, Mills, for Apple River. Sailed. Wednesday, July 15. Stmr. Governor Digby, 256, Ingalis, for Boston via Eastport and Lunenburg.

CANADIAN PORTS.

Montreal, July 15.—Arrd. stmr. Canadian Conqueror, British West Indies, from St. John, N. B. stmr. Canadian Conqueror, British West Indies, from St. John, N. B. stmr. Canadian Conqueror, British West Indies, from St. John, N. B.

BRITISH PORTS.

Hull, July 14.—Arrd. stmr. Arinos, Montreal. Cardiff, July 14.—Arrd. stmr. Canadian Mariner, Montreal.

FOREIGN PORTS.

New York, July 15.—Arrd. stmr. Mount Clay, Hamburg, Majestic, Southampton, Assyrin, Glasgow, Rotterdam, July 15.—Arrd. stmr. Kungsholm, New York.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Kalmarsund arrived this morning from San Domingo with a full cargo of sugar. She will dock this afternoon at the local refinery wharf.

The R. M. S. P. Chaudlers shifted this afternoon from the Refinery to the Pettibone wharf to complete discharging her cargo.

The Savannah shifted yesterday afternoon from the Refinery wharf to No. 4, Sand Point, to complete loading for London.

The schooner Charles C. Lister is being piloted at Gasquetown for New York.

If you will save all bits of scouring soap and put them in a cup and add enough boiling water to stand and inch above the pieces, you will get a soft paste that is more easy to work with than the original cake.

to listen in on the conversation. He had been prepared for the test. The company were seated about the dinner table when the mysterious tapping commenced. Instantly the visitor pricked up his ears. He soon became so intent that he ceased to hear any question put to him. The "wireless" conversation was absolutely interesting.

OPTIMISM IS THE NOTE OF ASSEMBLAGE

(Continued from page 1.) The various nations and take the steps necessary to restore peace. The conference was opened with a brief speech of greeting by Ramsey MacDonald, to which heads of the various delegations replied. Every delegate, he asserted, was imbued with the love of country and the love of peace, and a solution of European difficulties. Ambassador Kellogg said the American delegates were not present in the same capacity and with the same powers as the other delegates, because the United States was not a signatory to the Versailles Treaty, but they were present in the same spirit of helpfulness. The Ambassador paid tribute to the members of the Dawes Committee and declared that the people and the Government of the United States believed the Dawes report was the first great step towards the stabilization of Europe.

PERSONALS

Master Edwin Puddington of New-man street is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Puddington, at Clifton where he will spend the remainder of his holidays.

Miss Amy McAvooy, who has been visiting Mrs. F. H. J. Ruel, Sunnyside avenue, Montreal, has returned to her home in St. John, Newfoundland.

Miss Constance Hope of Montreal, who has been spending the last week-end at Knowlton, the guest of Miss Ruth Foster, will leave at the end of this week for St. John, N. B.

Mrs. Hazen Hansard left Montreal yesterday for St. John, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Busby, who returned last week from abroad.

Mrs. Gertrude Clergue, Sherbrooke street west, Montreal, will leave in a few days for Castine, Maine, and will later go to North East Harbor. She will spend a few weeks at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea before returning to Montreal in September.

Miss Audrey McLeod, of St. John, who is the guest of Miss Dorothy Cochrane, Montreal, will remain until the end of the week.

Mrs. F. E. Cane of Montreal is in St. John as the guest of Mrs. H. W. Schofield.

Miss Muriel Ellison, R. N., of Flushing Hospital, New York, is home, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Ellison, 208 Rockland road.

Frederick Reinhardt, jr., of Newark, N. J., arrived on the Boston boat on Tuesday and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. McLaughlin, Sydney street.

St. John friends of Willard Gurney, of Abington, Mass., are heartily greeting him. He arrived here yesterday on a visit to his brother, Charles A. Gurney, Elliot row.

Mrs. Arthur News and two daughters, Eleanor and Marjorie, who are returning to their home in St. John's, Nfld., after an extended visit in Toronto, are spending a few days with Mrs. J. M. Rice at the Methodist parsonage, Fairville. Mrs. News is a sister of Mrs. Rice.

Miss Annie Smith, of Upper Mills, N. B., is a guest of Mrs. J. W. Rice at the Methodist parsonage in Fairville.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson, West St. John, will be pleased to learn that their little son, Donald, who has been quite sick, is much improved today.

Harry W. Woods, district superintendent of postal services, is improving rapidly at his home in Fredericton and is expected back at his desk here soon.

Mrs. Charles McCoy and her brother, George Wilson, both of North Devon, N. B., have returned home after visiting in the Watson-McCoy, St. Murray street.

Mrs. W. E. Hamm, of Pleasant Point, and her daughter, Sylvia, have returned home after a visit to Mrs. Hamm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Coes, McDonald's Corner.

S. R. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, is expected home tomorrow from Grand Falls where he has been on an inspection trip.

PRESENTATION.

Thomas H. Miller, accountant in the Bank of Nova Scotia, North End branch, was pleasantly surprised on Saturday when his fellow associates made him the recipient of a very pretty reading lamp prior to his departure for Sackville where he was to be married. Mr. Miller will be away three weeks and on his return with his bride will reside in this city.

Two may not live as cheaply as one, but they usually live longer.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

LAST DAY FOR "FLAMING YOUTH"

This is the final day for the showing of the First National's splendid version of Warner Fabian's intense social novel "Flaming Youth," which has been attracting many to the Imperial Theatre for the last two days.

PERSONALS

Master Edwin Puddington of New-man street is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Puddington, at Clifton where he will spend the remainder of his holidays.

Miss Amy McAvooy, who has been visiting Mrs. F. H. J. Ruel, Sunnyside avenue, Montreal, has returned to her home in St. John, Newfoundland.

Miss Constance Hope of Montreal, who has been spending the last week-end at Knowlton, the guest of Miss Ruth Foster, will leave at the end of this week for St. John, N. B.

Mrs. Hazen Hansard left Montreal yesterday for St. John, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Busby, who returned last week from abroad.

Mrs. Gertrude Clergue, Sherbrooke street west, Montreal, will leave in a few days for Castine, Maine, and will later go to North East Harbor. She will spend a few weeks at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea before returning to Montreal in September.

Miss Audrey McLeod, of St. John, who is the guest of Miss Dorothy Cochrane, Montreal, will remain until the end of the week.

Mrs. F. E. Cane of Montreal is in St. John as the guest of Mrs. H. W. Schofield.

Miss Muriel Ellison, R. N., of Flushing Hospital, New York, is home, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Ellison, 208 Rockland road.

Frederick Reinhardt, jr., of Newark, N. J., arrived on the Boston boat on Tuesday and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. McLaughlin, Sydney street.

St. John friends of Willard Gurney, of Abington, Mass., are heartily greeting him. He arrived here yesterday on a visit to his brother, Charles A. Gurney, Elliot row.

Mrs. Arthur News and two daughters, Eleanor and Marjorie, who are returning to their home in St. John's, Nfld., after an extended visit in Toronto, are spending a few days with Mrs. J. M. Rice at the Methodist parsonage, Fairville. Mrs. News is a sister of Mrs. Rice.

Miss Annie Smith, of Upper Mills, N. B., is a guest of Mrs. J. W. Rice at the Methodist parsonage in Fairville.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson, West St. John, will be pleased to learn that their little son, Donald, who has been quite sick, is much improved today.

Harry W. Woods, district superintendent of postal services, is improving rapidly at his home in Fredericton and is expected back at his desk here soon.

Mrs. Charles McCoy and her brother, George Wilson, both of North Devon, N. B., have returned home after visiting in the Watson-McCoy, St. Murray street.

Mrs. W. E. Hamm, of Pleasant Point, and her daughter, Sylvia, have returned home after a visit to Mrs. Hamm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Coes, McDonald's Corner.

S. R. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, is expected home tomorrow from Grand Falls where he has been on an inspection trip.

PRESENTATION.

Thomas H. Miller, accountant in the Bank of Nova Scotia, North End branch, was pleasantly surprised on Saturday when his fellow associates made him the recipient of a very pretty reading lamp prior to his departure for Sackville where he was to be married. Mr. Miller will be away three weeks and on his return with his bride will reside in this city.

Two may not live as cheaply as one, but they usually live longer.

WANTS SCONE STONE TAKEN TO SCOTLAND

Dumbarton Member Causes Some Hilarity in British Commons.

London, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The House of Commons indulged in considerable hilarity yesterday when David Kirkwood, Labor member of Dumbarton, introduced a bill to provide for the removal of the Scottish Stone of Destiny from Westminster Abbey, where it is used in the coronation of British monarchs, to Holyrood Palace, Edinburgh.

Mr. Kirkwood said that, according to tradition, this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel when he was fleeing before his brother Esau, Jacob's family. Kirkwood continued, look the stone to Egypt and the Kings of Egypt long possessed it. Next the stone was taken to Ireland, Mr. Kirkwood said amid laughter. He admitted that he did not know whether this was true or not, but anyhow the stone, which was Scottish sandstone, lay at Stone for five centuries. Then it was brought from Scotland to England by Edward I.

The stone was a symbol of Scottish nationhood, Mr. Kirkwood continued. It was a venerable relic which rightfully should be in Scotland, not in England; Scotland had tried repeatedly to get the stone returned to that country but the sentiment of London, he said, was against this.

From her sister's home in Memphis, Tenn., where she has spent her declining years, Mrs. Dalton sent an appeal to the adventurous who also are provided with the wherewithal to finance the search.

According to the bandit's widow, Dalton and four pals several years ago held up and robbed a fast mail train near Kansas City. There was very little money in the loot but a heavy shipment of jewels was found.

The robbers, according to her story, decided to bury the loot when officers picked up their trail. A battle followed in which two of the four were killed. Later the other bandit died and Dalton returned in search of the treasure.

But to his amazement he found the landmarks of trees and homes near which the jewels were buried had been destroyed. The loot is still underground, waiting to be unearthed by one who cares to buy the secret.

Mrs. Dalton believes the story of the jewels, declaring that her bandit-husband on his deathbed four years ago said to her:

"The diamonds are still there. They belong to you. Go get them."

Veteran law enforcers of the southwest, however, do not recall the train robbery, so many of them were robbed a few years back. Only one man, so far as can be learned, has offered to buy the secret.

HAS BURIED LOOT SECRET FOR SALE

Widow of Bandit Wants Capitalists to Take a Chance.

Kansas City, Mo., July 16.—The aged and penniless widow of Kit Dalton of the famous bandit family, wants to sell the secret of a buried fortune in jewels.

From her sister's home in Memphis, Tenn., where she has spent her declining years, Mrs. Dalton sent an appeal to the adventurous who also are provided with the wherewithal to finance the search.

According to the bandit's widow, Dalton and four pals several years ago held up and robbed a fast mail train near Kansas City. There was very little money in the loot but a heavy shipment of jewels was found.

The robbers, according to her story, decided to bury the loot when officers picked up their trail. A battle followed in which two of the four were killed. Later the other bandit died and Dalton returned in search of the treasure.

But to his amazement he found the landmarks of trees and homes near which the jewels were buried had been destroyed. The loot is still underground, waiting to be unearthed by one who cares to buy the secret.

Mrs. Dalton believes the story of the jewels, declaring that her bandit-husband on his deathbed four years ago said to her:

"The diamonds are still there. They belong to you. Go get them."

Veteran law enforcers of the southwest, however, do not recall the train robbery, so many of them were robbed a few years back. Only one man, so far as can be learned, has offered to buy the secret.

CONCEAL SCRATCHES.

Scratches on patent leather shoes will be less noticeable if they are painted over with a mixture of olive oil and ink applied with a fine brush.

Glass Preserving Jars

Perfect Seal, Spring Top. Gem Sealers, Screw Top. Pint, Quart, and 1-2 Gal. sizes. Best quality Rubber Rings. Good Luck and Fitz-em-all.

Phone Main 94 For Prompt Delivery.

O. H. WARWICK & CO., Limited

78-82 King Street

WANTS SCONE STONE TAKEN TO SCOTLAND

Dumbarton Member Causes Some Hilarity in British Commons.

London, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The House of Commons indulged in considerable hilarity yesterday when David Kirkwood, Labor member of Dumbarton, introduced a bill to provide for the removal of the Scottish Stone of Destiny from Westminster Abbey, where it is used in the coronation of British monarchs, to Holyrood Palace, Edinburgh.

Mr. Kirkwood said that, according to tradition, this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel when he was fleeing before his brother Esau, Jacob's family. Kirkwood continued, look the stone to Egypt and the Kings of Egypt long possessed it. Next the stone was taken to Ireland, Mr. Kirkwood said amid laughter. He admitted that he did not know whether this was true or not, but anyhow the stone, which was Scottish sandstone, lay at Stone for five centuries. Then it was brought from Scotland to England by Edward I.

The stone was a symbol of Scottish nationhood, Mr. Kirkwood continued. It was a venerable relic which rightfully should be in Scotland, not in England; Scotland had tried repeatedly to get the stone returned to that country but the sentiment of London, he said, was against this.

From her sister's home in Memphis, Tenn., where she has spent her declining years, Mrs. Dalton sent an appeal to the adventurous who also are provided with the wherewithal to finance the search.

According to the bandit's widow, Dalton and four pals several years ago held up and robbed a fast mail train near Kansas City. There was very little money in the loot but a heavy shipment of jewels was found.

The robbers, according to her story, decided to bury the loot when officers picked up their trail. A battle followed in which two of the four were killed. Later the other bandit died and Dalton returned in search of the treasure.

But to his amazement he found the landmarks of trees and homes near which the jewels were buried had been destroyed. The loot is still underground, waiting to be unearthed by one who cares to buy the secret.

Mrs. Dalton believes the story of the jewels, declaring that her bandit-husband on his deathbed four years ago said to her:

"The diamonds are still there. They belong to you. Go get them."

Veteran law enforcers of the southwest, however, do not recall the train robbery, so many of them were robbed a few years back. Only one man, so far as can be learned, has offered to buy the secret.

CONCEAL SCRATCHES.

Scratches on patent leather shoes will be less noticeable if they are painted over with a mixture of olive oil and ink applied with a fine brush.

Glass Preserving Jars

Perfect Seal, Spring Top. Gem Sealers, Screw Top. Pint, Quart, and 1-2 Gal. sizes. Best quality Rubber Rings. Good Luck and Fitz-em-all.

Phone Main 94 For Prompt Delivery.

O. H. WARWICK & CO., Limited

78-82 King Street

WANTS SCONE STONE TAKEN TO SCOTLAND

Dumbarton Member Causes Some Hilarity in British Commons.

London, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The House of Commons indulged in considerable hilarity yesterday when David Kirkwood, Labor member of Dumbarton, introduced a bill to provide for the removal of the Scottish Stone of Destiny from Westminster Abbey, where it is used in the coronation of British monarchs, to Holyrood Palace, Edinburgh.

Mr. Kirkwood said that, according to tradition, this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel when he was fleeing before his brother Esau, Jacob's family. Kirkwood continued, look the stone to Egypt and the Kings of Egypt long possessed it. Next the stone was taken to Ireland, Mr. Kirkwood said amid laughter. He admitted that he did not know whether this was true or not, but anyhow the stone, which was Scottish sandstone, lay at Stone for five centuries. Then it was brought from Scotland to England by Edward I.

The stone was a symbol of Scottish nationhood, Mr. Kirkwood continued. It was a venerable relic which rightfully should be in Scotland, not in England; Scotland had tried repeatedly to get the stone returned to that country but the sentiment of London, he said, was against this.

From her sister's home in Memphis, Tenn., where she has spent her declining years, Mrs. Dalton sent an appeal to the adventurous who also are provided with the wherewithal to finance the search.

According to the bandit's widow, Dalton and four pals several years ago held up and robbed a fast mail train near Kansas City. There was very little money in the loot but a heavy shipment of jewels was found.

The robbers, according to her story, decided to bury the loot when officers picked up their trail. A battle followed in which two of the four were killed. Later the other bandit died and Dalton returned in search of the treasure.

But to his amazement he found the landmarks of trees and homes near which the jewels were buried had been destroyed. The loot is still underground, waiting to be unearthed by one who cares to buy the secret.

Mrs. Dalton believes the story of the jewels, declaring that her bandit-husband on his deathbed four years ago said to her:

"The diamonds are still there. They belong to you. Go get them."

Veteran law enforcers of the southwest, however, do not recall the train robbery, so many of them were robbed a few years back. Only one man, so far as can be learned, has offered to buy the secret.

CONCEAL SCRATCHES.

Scratches on patent leather shoes will be less noticeable if they are painted over with a mixture of olive oil and ink applied with a fine brush.

Glass Preserving Jars

Perfect Seal, Spring Top. Gem Sealers, Screw Top. Pint, Quart, and 1-2 Gal. sizes. Best quality Rubber Rings. Good Luck and Fitz-em-all.

Phone Main 94 For Prompt Delivery.

O. H. WARWICK & CO., Limited

78-82 King Street

WANTS SCONE STONE TAKEN TO SCOTLAND

Dumbarton Member Causes Some Hilarity in British Commons.

London, July 16.—(Canadian Press).—The House of Commons indulged in considerable hilarity yesterday when David Kirkwood, Labor member of Dumbarton, introduced a bill to provide for the removal of the Scottish Stone of Destiny from Westminster Abbey, where it is used in the coronation of British monarchs, to Holyrood Palace, Edinburgh.

Mr. Kirkwood said that, according to tradition, this stone was Jacob's pillow at Bethel when he was fleeing before his brother Esau, Jacob's family. Kirkwood continued, look the stone to Egypt and the Kings of Egypt long possessed it. Next the stone was taken to Ireland, Mr. Kirkwood said amid laughter. He admitted that he did not know whether this was true or not, but anyhow the stone, which was Scottish sandstone, lay at Stone for five centuries. Then it was brought from Scotland to England by Edward I.

The stone was a symbol of Scottish nationhood, Mr. Kirkwood continued. It was a venerable relic which rightfully should be in Scotland, not in England; Scotland had tried repeatedly to get the stone returned to that country but the sentiment of London, he said, was against this.

From her sister's home in Memphis, Tenn., where she has spent her declining years, Mrs. Dalton sent an appeal to the adventurous who also are provided with the wherewithal to finance the search.

According to the bandit's widow, Dalton and four pals several years ago held up and robbed a fast mail train near Kansas City. There was very little money in the loot but a heavy shipment of jewels was found.

The robbers, according to her story, decided to bury the loot when officers picked up their trail. A battle followed in which two of the four were killed. Later the other bandit died and Dalton returned in search of the treasure.

But to his amazement he found the landmarks of trees and homes near which the jewels were buried had been destroyed. The loot is still underground, waiting to be unearthed by one who cares to buy the secret.

Mrs. Dalton believes the story of the jewels, declaring that her bandit-husband on his deathbed four years ago said to her:

"The diamonds are still there. They belong to you. Go get them."

Veteran law enforcers of the southwest, however, do not recall the train robbery, so many of them were robbed a few years back. Only one man, so far as can be learned, has offered to buy the secret.

CONCEAL SCRATCHES.

Scratches on patent leather shoes will be less noticeable if they are painted over with a mixture of olive oil and ink applied with a fine brush.

Glass Preserving Jars

Perfect Seal, Spring Top. Gem Sealers, Screw Top. Pint, Quart, and 1-2 Gal. sizes. Best quality Rubber Rings. Good Luck and Fitz-em-all.

Phone Main 94 For Prompt Delivery.

O. H. WARWICK & CO., Limited

78-82 King Street