Unexpected Sweep Renders Defeat of Tariff Proposal a Certainty.

TORIES IN LEAD

Stanley Baldwin is Expected to Resign Within a Few Days.

(British United Press.) London, Dec. 7.-Unexpected gains by Labor in the general election made Premier Baldwin's in Parliament appear hopeless

Coupled with the gains registered in between 20 and 30 constituencies by the Liberals headed by Lloyd George, the Labor sweep rendered defeat of the Conservative proposal for a tariff an apparent certainty. With the results from two indred constituencies yet to be heard from, it appeared that the Conservatives would lead, with Labor and the Liberals in a close race for second and no party obtaining the majority necessary to elect a Premier and control Par-

Conservatives Lead.

'At 2.45 p. m. the Conservatives had won 201 seats, the Labor party 131 and the Liberals 100, with ten scattered.

This was a total of 442 out of 615 to be filled.

Labor candidates had scored a net gain of 62 seats, Liberals of 23 while the Conservatives net loss was 54.

Stanley Baldwin will resign as Premise withing a day or so unless some form of Coalition Government will have to be fixed up.

For Baldwin's Government to remain in, the Conservatives would have had to secure 67 of the remaining 174 seats which was practically impossible.

All parties suffered losses. Lloyd George was elected at Carnarvon, Stanley Baldwin was elected, so was Asquith and Ramsay MacDonald. Arthur Henderson, Labor leader, Winston Churchill, prominent Liberal and four members of the Baldwin cabinet were among those defeated. Lady Astor, the Duchess of Atholl, Susan Lawrence and Margaret Bonfield were among the women elected. Lady Terrington was defeated.

Sir Robert Sander, the minister of agriculture, was defeated in the Bridgewater division of Somerset by W. E. Morse, Liberal. Sir Robert was the minister who advocated a subsidy the farmers in connection with protection and this point was largely emphasized by the Conservatives in the companion.

Baldwin is Losing. At 2.30 this atternoon with returns in for 442 of the total of 615 seats in in for 442 of the total of 615 seats in the House of Commons, it was evident that Premier Baldwin's government was on the way toward losing its majority over all the other parties in the House and that only some startling change in the trend of the returns could give it enough balance to maintain itself in power. At that hour the Conservatives had returned 201 members against 181 Labor members, 100 Liberals and 10 of other parties.

The result thus far indicated means another general election shortly unless there is some sort of a coalition in the House of Commons which it considered highly improbable.
