

SEES HIMSELF AS "OTHERS" SEE HIM

Prince of Wales Enjoys Pictures of His Trip Shown on Train

Edmonton, Sept. 16.—The Prince of Wales saw himself in the movies last night, was delighted and wants more. When the show was over, Percy Matthews, the man who daily films the Prince's every act, said to him: "Now, if there is anything else you would like to see, Charlie Chaplin or anything like that, we could get them for you."

"No, thanks," replied the Prince. "This is fine. We have seen so much of Charlie Chaplin, you know, and these pictures of ourselves are so amusing."

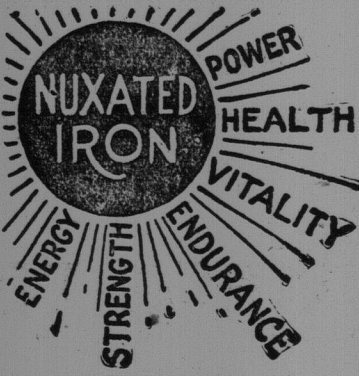

The occasion was unique. Not only was the small audience most distinguished, but this is the first time moving pictures have ever been shown on a moving train. The little performance was staged on board the C. P. R. dining car Canada as the royal train rushed through the night. Tables were cleared away, chairs arranged, a table cloth was used as a screen, the camera was placed in the middle of the car and the pictures run off. R. Meadows, C. P. R. electrician, who is traveling with the party, acted as operator. The Prince thanked him very heartily.

The Prince arrived about 11 p.m., accompanied by his suite Hon. Martin Burrell, Lieut.-Col. H. G. Henderson and Col. Biggar, Mr. A. B. Calder and Mr. R. K. Chamberlain, of the C. P. R. The dining room stewards were also present. The Prince came in, a big briar pipe in one hand and a tobacco tin in the other.

He was in great spirits. "Watch me rival Vernon Castle as a movie star," he exclaimed to his laughing friends as he seated himself near the sheet. The Prince laughed delightedly as the weekly film showed his brother, Prince Albert, giving prizes to sailor boys at Portmouth.

Seldom has there been a more appreciative audience. Prince and party laughed without restraint, especially at themselves. "Oh! Look at Claude," exclaimed the Prince once, "Doesn't he look funny?" as the screen showed a close-up of Lord Claude Hamilton, his quarry. The greatest hit was scored by a picture of Sir Godfrey Thomas, the Prince's private secretary.

The caption read: "Sir Godfrey Thomas, in high hat, and officers of the Renown."

LIVES AFTER FALLING ELEVEN STORES

Girl Goes Through Ventilation
Shaft While Watching Pershing Parade

New York, Sept. 16.—A plunge of eleven stores down a ventilator shaft interfered with fifteen-year-old Cecilia Tannebaum's plans to return to night school. She escaped death, but surgeons say she will not be able to resume her studies for at least three months, which time she will spend in the hospital. The accident happened at 44 West Forty-fourth street as the Pershing parade was approaching.

Dr. Edward Sikes of Bellevue Hospital, where the girl was taken reported that she had sustained fractures of the right leg and thigh and bodily bruises. Miss Tannebaum had been employed by a feather pasting firm. Employees of the concern went to the roof of the thirteen-story building to view the parade. One of her friends, who had a camera, suggested that she take a picture of Miss Tannebaum and a boy friend standing on the glass top of a ventilator shaft extending to the second floor of the building. As the pair reached the glass roof of the ventilator the glass cracked. The boy leaped to safety, the girl disappeared downward.

One agonized scream as she fell was heard by the tenants of the building, who called David Spencer of the feather firm, and Edward Tyson, superintendent of the building. Through a window on the second floor Spencer and Tyson removed the girl to an office. She was given first aid treatment by Dr. Sikes and then taken to the hospital.

During her fall down the shaft Miss Tannebaum passed through a network of pipes, and a pile of paper at the bottom acted as a mattress, which probably saved her from fatal injury.

Leave Fiume to Italy.

Paris, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press).—The Supreme Council decided today to let Italy deal with the situation created at Fiume by D'Annunzio's occupation of the city, deeming it purely an internal matter.

TRAVELING MARKETS AIM TO CUT PRICES

What New York is Doing to Lower
Food Cost—Traveling Motor
Trucks Eliminate Middleman

New York, Sept. 16.—A chain of traveling markets reaching every part of the city will be established within the next two weeks, unless prices show a marked downward tendency. Dr. Jonathan C. Day, commissioner of public markets, announced yesterday. Dr. Day is perfecting plans for the system, each market to be a huge auto-truck manned by active salesmen. The commissioner said that he would take this step because of the failure of the campaign on the high cost of living to achieve desired results. Prices are still far too high, he said.

Dr. Day will complete arrangements with exporters today to handle the system of food distribution by auto-truck salesmen. "Exporters have been invited to establish this system," Dr. Day said, "because they have cultivated the knack of purchasing vast stores of food at low prices. We want them to own and operate the trucks. We will aid them in obtaining licenses for the trucks, placing them automatically under our jurisdiction. The department of public markets has full control over all licensed dealers."

"Under the plan we have devised each truck will be manned by a chauffeur, two salesmen and two boys, the youngsters to attend to the delivery of the food from trucks to houses. It will be a system of refined peddling. There will be no shouting, of course, but the public will be informed of the time of the visit of the truck to each section. "We will eliminate two, four, or even more, middlemen. The consumers will save the amount of the margins which these men usually added to the price of commodities. It will mean a saving of perhaps 20 or 30 per cent."

BUYS PROBABLE REMBRANDT FOR $150 IN PRETORIA

Johannesburg, South Africa, Aug. 12.—(Correspondence of Associated Press).—A British army officer recently purchased for seven hundred and thirty pounds ($1,180) in a Pretoria auction room a picture which art critics believe to be a missing Rembrandt—a work of priceless value. The picture, portraying the crucifixion, has been sent to advisors of the Great Art Gallery at The Hague for examination. The theory is that the picture was brought to South Africa by a member of a family of Dutch noblemen who were patrons of Rembrandt.

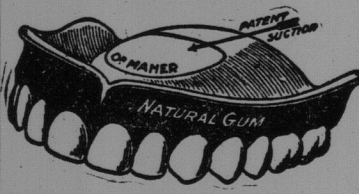

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain multifunctional coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt, and dandruff.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Vanish

(Helps to Beauty.)
A safe, reliable home-treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered borax, apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unailing and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you are getting the tone.
