The will of Elizabeth Bennett of Pittsburg, which has been filed in the probate court, was perhaps the shortest ever filed in Worcester county, Mass. It contained only twelve words.

Little Beauty Chats

By BLANCHE BEACON

Why the Double Chin is Regarded With Horror

It is quite unnecessary for me to tell you that a double or triple chin is undesirable, as no woman in her right senses admires the chin that looks like a pudding. Far from regarding it with favor, I find all feminine creatures gazing askance at the chin that grows plumper day by day until it has no shape at all.

There must be a reason for the dislike lavished on the chin which multiplies. Would you like to know the why and the wherefore of this universal hatred? Women dislike to see their chins double up because this makes them look "of the earth earthy!" Can you blame them for showing an aversion to the defect?

There is still enough reason why the pudgy chin is regarded intolerably. It is a sign of age! Now every woman past twenty-five wants to look eighteen, so naturally anything that tells tales out of school is taboo.

It was all very different long ago in the days of our great-great-grandmothers, as then a fat chin was a mark of distinction. It denoted good living and that the world was dealing kindly with one. Gentlemen used to go so far as to put an extra chin put in an appearance. But of course that was long ago and times have changed.

I really think we show more wisdom now. Old age is not a blessing, so why be proud of anything that stamps one as past the prime of life?

Bake!

COULD your bake day be made a little easier? Very likely it could. Read this signed, sincere truth and judge for yourself!

A SPRING TAI ORED SUIT

SERENADED HUNGER STRIKER IN LONDON JAIL.

London, March 28.—Protected by a body-guard of husky dock workers, Miss Scott-Troy, of San Francisco, head of the delegation of the American and English suffragettes, tonight serenaded Miss Zebe King, of Detroit, the militant suffragette, who is on hunger strike in Holloway jail serving out a two months' sentence for breaking windows.

The anti-suffragists had hired a band of roughs who were armed with bad eggs, stale vegetables and other objectionable things for use as missiles. They were on the ground with the intention of breaking up the demonstration of sympathy with Miss Emerson, but the presence of the strong armed detachment deterred them from making the slightest manifestation of hostility.

London, March 28.—Mrs. Emerson this afternoon saw her daughter Zebe, of Detroit (Mich.), who is on hunger strike in Holloway jail, by permission of the home office. She later informed the American embassy that she was not alarmed by the condition in which she found her daughter, whose principal trouble was a diarrhoea, whose principal trouble was a diarrhoea, which had been brought about by forcible feeding.

SUFFRAGETTES TOO EARLY

Hon. Lloyd George, amid the conviviality of a select luncheon party, given in his honor, when he was in Paris the other day, explained how he had the laugh on the suffragettes when they blew up the house which had been built for him on Walton Heath.

"They have made life hard for me very often," he said. "When I have been going to political meetings they have followed my footsteps and stuck to me like my shadow. They would interrupt me and had to be expelled by force, but hardly had they been chased out of the door when they came in by the window."

"But the mischief done when they put bombs in the villa which I was about to leave. My wife was going to London that day to sign the lease, and if they had only waited a few hours the cost of the damage would have fallen on me."

He (bitterly)—"If I were rich you'd marry me fast enough."

She—"Don't, Guais, don't. Such devotion breaks my heart." "What do you mean?" "Often have you praised my beauty, but never before my common sense."

HOW TO TELL A GENTLEMAN

By J. R. HAMILTON
Former Advertising Manager, Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

THERE are just two ways to tell a gentleman. First by the way he speaks to you, and second by the way you feel obliged to speak to him.

The way he speaks to you is the measure of what he is, and the way you feel obliged to speak to him is the measure of what he looks like.

Now in spite of the fact that Easter is over, that the season is well advanced and that spring is most gloriously here, a whole lot of men still look like Sam Hill.

So, if you are one of those who are still sagging along in their old winter clothes, and people are bumping into you and treating you as if you were incumbering the earth, it is just possible that your mirror can tell you what's the matter with you.

It doesn't pay to wear old winter clothes on a new spring day, either because of how you look or how you feel.

Before another Sunday passes by, some two or three millions of men young and old are going to make their first appearance this year in their new spring clothes. And you are going to look like the last scrawner of winter if you don't happen to be one of them.

Of course there are a lot of things you ought to have. But what you need most are a new spring suit, a new hat, some new spring shoes, some new spring shirts, and collars and ties, and a few accessories. The other things of course don't count much.

The way to find these things is not by wandering around the streets and looking in the windows, but by opening up this paper and turning to the advertising of the principal merchants of the city who have these things for sale.

You will find all these principal merchants here because this is the height of the spring, and they are all making their bid for your custom. This paper is the Great Market Place for everything you could possibly want to buy. You do not have to go any further than these pages to find the best that is being offered in this city in new Spring merchandise.

Go through this paper now and prepare to join the great annual spring Shopping tournament of men.
