

MOVING LESSONS.

Dr. Talmage Speaks on Spring Time Changes

WASHINGTON, April 23.—This discourse of Dr. Talmage is pertinent at this time of year, when many people are moving from their homes...

Happy Paul! Could you really accommodate yourself to all circumstances in life? Could you go up with pride and could you come down without exasperation?

Time passed on, and the world, after much invention, came to build a house, which was a space surrounded by broad stones, against which the earth was heaped from the outside...

GOOD HOUSES TO LIVE IN. Architecture in other days busied itself chiefly in planning and building triumphal arches and basilicas and hippodromes and mausoleums and columns...

My first word, then, in this part of my discourse is to all those who move out of small houses into larger ones. Now we will see whether, like the apostle, you know how to abound.

In a private vehicle and not in a railroad, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.

From some houses the people had been shaken out by chills and fever. From some houses they had gone because death or misfortune had occurred, and the cracks, palaces and mansions had either changed occupants or wanted to change.

A day this spring the streets will be filled with the furniture carts and the drays and the trucks. It will be a hard day for laborers, for they will overfill before they get the family furniture from one house to another.

Architecture in other days busied itself chiefly in planning and building triumphal arches and basilicas and hippodromes and mausoleums and columns, while they allowed the people for residence to burrow like mice...

My first word, then, in this part of my discourse is to all those who move out of small houses into larger ones. Now we will see whether, like the apostle, you know how to abound.

In a private vehicle and not in a railroad, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery.

room for great bookcases filled with good reading or wealth of bric-a-brac. Have as large and as fine a house as you can afford to have, but do not sacrifice your humility and your common sense; do not lose your balance; do not be spoiled by your success.

LIVING IN A CASTLE.

Years ago we were the guests in an English manor. The stately, the formal, the botanical and horticultural genius of the place had done all they could to make the place attractive.

Timon of Athens was a wealthy lord, and all the mighty men and women of the land came and sat at his banquet proud to sit there, and they drank deep to his health. They sent him costly presents.

On almost the first load we, the children, were sent ahead to the new house, and we arrived with shouting and laughing, and we had ranged through every room in the house, the barn and the granary.

MOVING INTO SMALLER HOUSES. But I must have a word with those who in this Mayday time move out of larger residences into smaller ones.

My first word, then, in this part of my discourse is to all those who move out of small houses into larger ones. Now we will see whether, like the apostle, you know how to abound.

In a private vehicle and not in a railroad, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery.

our happiness is not dependent on the size of the house we live in. I have known people enjoy heaven in two rooms and there suffer a pandemonium in 20. There is as much happiness in a small house as in a large house.

And get joy, one and all of you, whether you move or do not move. Get joy out of the thought that we are soon all going to have a grand moving day.

And get joy, one and all of you, whether you move or do not move. Get joy out of the thought that we are soon all going to have a grand moving day.

On almost the first load we, the children, were sent ahead to the new house, and we arrived with shouting and laughing, and we had ranged through every room in the house, the barn and the granary.

MOVING INTO SMALLER HOUSES. But I must have a word with those who in this Mayday time move out of larger residences into smaller ones.

My first word, then, in this part of my discourse is to all those who move out of small houses into larger ones.

In a private vehicle and not in a railroad, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery.

In a private vehicle and not in a railroad, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery.

Buy Muralo THE Newest, Greatest and Best Wall Finish Known. A. M. ROWAN, Agent, 331 Main Street.

THE ORCHARD Properly handled and cared for pays big dividends. Every one who owns a little ground can put in a few trees or small fruit plants...

SHIP NEWS. PORT OF ST. JOHN. Arrived. May 1—Str St Croix, Pike, from Boston, W. J. Adams, master.

FOREIGN PORTS. Arrived. At Queenstown, May 2, str Teutonic, from New York for Liverpool.

GOING TO THE FATHER'S HOUSE. On almost the first load we, the children, were sent ahead to the new house, and we arrived with shouting and laughing.

MEMORANDA. Passed out at Digby, April 23, sch Josephine, Purdy, and Muriel, Robblee, from Bear River for Boston.

BIRTHS. ROBINSON—On May 1st, to the wife of Capt. L. L. Robinson, St. John, a daughter.

MARRIAGES. JOHNSON-MATHESON—On May 2nd, at the residence of the bride's father, 71 Somerset street, by Rev. S. A. Baker, John Johnson, son of Sweden and Miss Kate A. Matheson of this city.

DEATHS. HOWE—At Avonmore, April 21st, after a long illness, Hannah, widow of John Howe, aged 73 years, leaving three sons and three daughters to mourn their loss.

KENDALL'S SPAIN CURE. It is an absolutely reliable remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Migraine, Headache, Backache, Stiffness of Joints, etc. It is sold in bottles of 50 cents and $1.00.

Various small advertisements and notices on the right margin, including 'THE WAR', 'LONDON', and 'THE PUBLIC'.