CO-OPERATION NECESSARY TO FORWARD THE INTERESTS OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES

Halifax and Other Cities See Need of Revival of Maritime Board of Trade—Would Help to Develop Industries in These Parts.

Reports from Halifax say that the project to revive the Maritime Board of Trade is attracting attention there. Halifax is credited with enjoying a boom at present, and is looking forward to the future with renewed confidence. At the same time it is felt that the maritime provinces will not advance as a whole until there is increasing co-operation between the parts. Hence the interest in the proposal to revive the Maritime Board, which it is felt will have a better chance of success now than in the past. Something, it is said, should be done to attract immigration to these provinces, and to keep the young people at home, instead of bidding them go west, where conditions for some years are bound to be very uncertain. Now that the government railways extend across the continent St. John and Halifax should pull together to get an increasing share of the traffic, which arises from the general development of the country, and that which in the past has largely been moved through the major share of the federal government's attention; vast sums have been spent on railways and canals. The West and its products have been advertised by the government all over the earth.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF FISH TO BOSTON

Montreal Gets Share—Local Markets Kept Poorly Supplied on This Account.

Large consignments of fresh fish from the North Shore passed through here last week en route to Boston and other American markets. In one shipment there were two carloads of the mackerel packed in ice, and in another one several tons of fresh salmon. There is also considerable fish going from the North Shore to Montreal and Western Canada, but the Boston market appears to be the favorite. Complaints are made in Montreal that owing to the heavy shipments to Boston, local dealers cannot get fish to supply to their customers. This is a frequent complaint from towns in the maritime provinces situated near fishing centres, and it indicates a lack of consideration on the part of wholesalers, who ship their fish in bulk to big markets rather than to the markets at their doors. The same thing often applies in the case of meat. Farmers dispose of their cattle to big buyers very often without regard to the markets in the vicinity, and as a result the farmers themselves sometimes have to live on salt bacon or eat their own cattle out of tins.

PEACE SUNDAY IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Was Celebrated Yesterday by Special Service of Song—Interesting Address by the Pastor, Rev. G. A. Kuhring

Peace Sunday was celebrated in the St. John's (Stone) Church yesterday by a special service of song, which was much appreciated by a large congregation. The pastor, Rev. G. A. Kuhring, delivered an interesting sermon on dealing with the subject of peace. His address was on general lines, but carried a special message which was followed with interest. He dwelt on the significance of the occasion, the delivery of the world from the horrors of the last four years, and the effect of the triumph of the right. He touched briefly on the problems which peace presented, and the necessity of clear thinking and earnest effort to establish conditions which will give some guarantee of permanent peace.

Missionary Aid Societies Meet

Inspiring Talks on Work in Foreign Fields—Delegates from St. John.

The Women's Missionary Aid Societies of the United Baptist churches of the Sixth District met in the Penobscot church on Friday. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. W. Jones, and she reports showed a greater interest than ever in the work. The executive committee held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Blanchard with Mrs. Eveleigh, Sussex, in the chair. A full report of the year's work was read by Miss Alice Estey. This showed the activities of the societies. Mrs. I. C. Archibald, of Chatham, N. B., gave an inspiring address.

The afternoon session was held in the church. After devotional exercises led by Mrs. Lester, Millstream, and Mrs. J. A. Brown, the church choir rendered several appropriate selections and a chorus of little girls sang very sweetly. The visiting delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Brana and a suitable reply was given by Mrs. T. Robinson.

Mrs. Archibald again addressed the meeting. She outlined the work as carried on in the foreign field, referring to its successes, difficulties and problems. There was a great need for more men, more helpers and more missionaries.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Eveleigh, Sussex; First Vice-president, Mrs. J. A. Brown, Sussex; Second Vice-president, Mrs. N. C. Scott, St. John; Secretary, Miss Alice Estey; Executive Committee, Mrs. J. Slipp, Hampton; Mrs. T. Burke, St. John; Mrs. E. W. Jones, Penobscot, and Mrs. R. D. Christie, St. John.

Many Swimmers At Marble Cove

North End Resort Largely Patronized These Warm Days.

The swimming pool at Marble Cove and the new bathing houses are being largely patronized these days, and are proving all too few for the number wanting to use them. On Saturday afternoon more than one occasion Jack Redford, the instructor, had to call for some of the boys to come ashore and double up to permit others to use the dressing rooms. The work on the houses and wharf has been completed with the exception of a spring board and slither board, and the swimmers are asking when these will be placed.

The instructor is working hard and turning out swimmers every day. Since the opening day, not yet a month, no less than fifty-four persons have graduated from the swimming school to the deep waters of the harbor, and this does not include Saturday's work.

TEMPLE BAND BACK FROM CELEBRATION

Thursday was spent at Lubec, and the afternoon water sports were held and the band played during the intermissions between the events. In the evening they played a concert on the public square. Friday was spent in Eastport, where the biggest celebration in the history of that thriving town was put on. The band played for the sports and in the evening a programme of popular music.

Many compliments were received on the excellence of the music played by the St. John organization.
