FIVE-MINUTE SERMONS FOR EARLY MASSES By the Paulist Fathers.

sched in their Church of St. Paul the Apostle, Fifty-ninth street and Ninth avenue, New York City.

WENTY FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST -FEAST OF THE PATRONAGE OF THE

To-day, my dear brethren, the Church celebrates the feast of the Patronage of the Blessed Virgin. Let us stop a moment and consider what is meant by this title, as given to our most immaculate and blessed Mother.

You remember that there is a similar feast on the third Sunday after Easter in honor of her glorious spouse St. Joseph; and that he has lately been given the title of Patron of the Universal Church. Is it, then, in this sense that we are to derstand the Patronage of the Blesse Virgin; is it that she is the patroness and protectress of the Church in general, in its continual conflict with the powers of darkness? Yes, we may certainly understand it in this way. She who with her foot has crushed the serpent's head, is the great enemy and terror of heresy in par-ticular, and the greater part of the heresies which have sflicted the Church, and especi-ally those existing in our own day, have, it would seem, instinctively felt this, and directed their assaults in one way or another against her, and against the post tion she holds in the work of our redemp tion. Also she may be rightly considered as our bulwark against the attacks of the infidel, and has at various times come signally to the assistance of the Christian world when exposed to danger, particu-larly from the followers of the false prophet Mahomet.

But there is another sense in which to understand her patronage, and to avail ourselves of it, besides this one of her protection of the Church as a whole; and this other is practically more important for us to realize. It is that she is the special patron and protector of each one of us individually, in our own special needs and trials, and in the war which we have to wage on our own account with the

You know that we are all encouraged to choose certain saints whose name we bear, or to whom we have a special devotion, as patrons, to obtain for us the blessings and helps we need, temporal as well as spiritual. And there can be no doubt that if we do thus select certain patrons, they will perform for us the office which we desire; and though they may not always obtain for us those things which our imperfect judgment fixes on as most desirable, they will reward us even with greater blessings than we ask, if we are faithful to them.

But it is quite plain that we should not omit, and certainly it is not the custom of Catholics to omit, the name of the Blessed Virgin from the list of patron saints, whatever others may be chosen with her. And the Church, in establish ing this festival, seems herself to officially constitute our Blessed Lady as the patron of each one of us, to whom we are to have recourse in all our difficulties, of whatever kind they may be, that we may find a safe way through them. And we have the assurance of constant experience that if we follow the mind of the Church in this way we shall not be dis appointed. "Remember," says St Berappointed. "Remember," says of 1947-nard, in the beautiful prayer "Mem-orare," which it is to be hoped we often say, "Remember, O most pious Virgin Mary, it is a thing unheard of that thou ever forsakest those who have recourse Let us then also remem ber this; and whatever special devotions, or helps to salvation, we may select, never lorget this, the most universal and indispensable of all, of recourse to the Blessed Mother of God.

And let us remember particularly that above all is the Blessed Virgin the advocate of sinners. If, then, we wish ourselves to escape from the power of some temptations or evil habits which are threatening our ruin, let us not forget to go to her who, though sinless herself, has more than the compassion of a mother for us, and beg the powerful help of her inter-cession; and let us also ask her to rescue others who, it may be, are more tempted than ourselves. And it seems to be also not without eason that this feast is placed in the month of November, that we may remem ber that the holy souls now suffering for sin in Porgatory are specially dear to our Blessed Mother, and that she wishes us to pray for them, and to present our prayers herself, as she is their patron too. Let us, then, say at least some Hail Marys (and why not a chaplet of the beade?) every day why not a chaplet of the beauty every day this month, that she may bring to heaven during it many souls, who will not forget to ask her intercess on for us when we shall be in the same need.

A POPULAR PRIEST'S WELCOME HOME.

Marshall, Mich. Weekly Statesman, Oct. 28. The large concourse of people which gathered at the M C depot last evenng to welcome home from Rome the Very Rev. P. A. Baart, pastor of St. Mary's church, is a strong indication of that gentleman's popularity here, not only with his own church people but with our citizens ir general.

The accommodation train steamed into the station at about 830 o'clock and Father Baart, accompanied by Father and Father Beart, accompanied by Father Melaney, of Jackson, alighted from the rear platform of the last car They were greeted by Mayor M. V. Wagner and Father Sadlier who escorted them to the carriages in waiting. In the meantime the Battle Creek German band struck up a thrilling air and the pre arranged reception of the beloved rector of St. Mary's church was auspiciously opened. The procession, headed by the band, was followed by a large delegation of Catholics and the carriages containing the Reverend Fathers T. J. Ryan, Kalamazoo; J. P. Ryan, Kalamazoo; J. P.

mszoc; J. P. Ryan, Kalamazzoc; J. P. Gore, Williamston; J. P. McManus, Battle Creek; J. W. Melaney, Jockson; T. G. Hennessey, Marshall; the mayor and the reception committee. The line of march was up Eagle street directly to the par-sonage. The street was handsomely decorated with Japanese lanterns and an arched transparency ever the front gate of the rectory yard bore in brilliancy the appropriate legend "Welcome." Arriving at the front porch of the rectory Father Baart was surrounded by the visiting clergymen and others, when James Grace delivered the following

VERY REV. AND DEAR FATHER :- It is with hearts overflowing with joy that we welcome you back to your parish this evening. Three months ago you left us that you might take a much needed rest. We have missed your presence and your kind words of paternal advice, but we gladly made the sacrifice since we knew so well that it was for your good. Since you left us you have visited many places of interest in the old land; you have seen the isle of saints and scholars so dear to many of us; you have gazed upon those verdant fields and valleys; you have perhaps heard the cry of distress from our down trodden brethren. In Germany, Belgium and France you have visited cathedrals, basilicas and holy shrines so dear to every Catholic heart and greater than all you have had the enviable pleasure of viewing the Eternal

City. You have drank in with your eyes those scenes of interest in the city of the Seven Hills; you have seen and spoken to our common Father Leo XIII., the Vicar of Christ on earth, the succesthe Vicar of Christ on earth, the successor of St. Peter. Yes, dear father, all this together with the novelty of the trip across the briny deep has added not a little to your already large store of erudition. We have prayed to God and to His Mother Mary, Star of the Sea, that your wayse might be a pleasant that your voyage might be a pleasant and a prosperous one. Having intrusted you to such safe keeping we were con-tident that He who rules the wind and Mayor Wagner then stepped forward and in a few well chosen words, extended greetings in behalf of the citizens, and closed with a request that three rousing eneers be given Father Baart. The mayor's request was complied with, when Father Baart delivered a neat speech which was sprinkled here and there with his characteristic wit and was heartily received. "This is the proudest moment of my life. Although I am not outwardly demonstrative in my emotions and affections, I appreciate highly the welcome extended to me this evening. It would indeed be an iceberg or a heart of stone that could fail to melt on such an occa-sion. This is the proudest day of my life because I have tried to do my duty and this cordial greeting reminds me that my efforts have been appreciated by my people who, like Diogines of old, have held out a lantern to find a man. I do not take this demonstration to myself. It is simply a warning for the future. Appreciation must increase or diminish and this reminds me that I must strive to do better in the future. I consider it an honor to be the pastor of St. Mary's church and shall ever try to do honor to the position. He then bade the people a hearty good night, expressing a desire not to tire them with further remarks, but rather to give one and all a chance to enjoy the full measure of jolification the occasion afforded.

The reception was a success in every particular and having been a source of great pleasure to all will long be remem-

Your Catholic Paper First.

The Bishop of Goulburn, New South Wales, speaking lately at a banquet, said that it was his desire to see a Catholic newspaper in every Catholic home throughout his diocese. It was only in the thoroughly Catholic journal that all events and circumstances connected with our religion and our institutions, and the general progress of the Church, were fully and accurately chronicled, and, while we did not wish to offer a word of complaint about the local press, he certainly wished it to be known, and wished it to be pub

It was necessary, even for the purpose of religion itself, that they should have a Catholic press in their midst, so that the Church in the Colonies should be pleed properly before the world. He did not object to Catholics taking good papers of any kind; but he would repeat his opinion and give it as a piece of earnest advice as their Bishop, that they should take a Catholic paper and pay for it. His Lordship emphasized the justice and necessity of Catholics paying regularly for the Catholic paper when they received it.

could go on reading and profiting by their Catholic paper without paying the bills when they were sent to them. It was right that the Catholic press should be supported for it was doing a work, and every man that took a Catholic paper should make a point of honestly discharging his financial obligation to those who publish that paper, so that the Catholic press might flourish and prosper as it deserves.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and in the fining membrane of the nose and custachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever, are cured in hal deafness, and hay fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent. have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent, of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. In fact this is the only treatment all.
