

"BARON'S GEM" the greatest Clydesdale brought to the West.

HILLCREST STUD

We have added to our well known stud of Clydesdales at the Hillerest Stud, Condie, Sask., a recent importation of thirty-five head—twenty-three stallions and twelve fillies. Our new importation was personally selected to keep up the high standard of our stud, and we are effection borses with size and quality combined, to a marked degree. They are sired by such horses as Baren's Pride, Hiswatha. Everlasting, Baron's Gem, Royal Pavorite, Baron's Voucher, Royal Edward, Baron o' Buchlyvie and Sir Huge.

Customers buying from us have me middlemen's prefits to pay, as we buy and sell our own horses.

DISPERSION SALE SHORTHORNS

Having sold my farm I must dispose of my entire herd of pure-bred Shorthorn cattle. I have yet my champion herd and their descendants that won for me honors at many of the leading Alberta exhibitions in past years. There are females of all ages, descendants of the most noted of families in Sectland. I have used such stock bulls as Trout Creek Here, the champion bull in Alberta, for a number of years; Loyalty (imp.); Remus, a Toronto prize winner, and Lucerne (imp.), the latter a bull of exceptional merit. My prices are very reasonable.

Australia has an experienced and very capable officer in London, whose duties are to receive the consignments and to attend to the distribution and sale of the produce at that point as well as in other British and continental mar-kets. Should the market be unfavorable in London for fruit, etc., he can on his own initiative, divert shipments to Hamburg or other places where the conditions promise better returns. The department closely follows the distribution of all produce—but more especially of fruit—in England, and has available the names of the principal retail buyers whose special require ments are catered for. From the moment the produce enters the government stores at Port Adelaide, until it is sold in the world's markets, every effort is made to secure the highest prices and at the same time the lowest over-sea freights and incidental charges.

safely count upon a cash return each year of about $132.00 upon a flock averaging in size at July 1st each year 48 head, even after liberal provision has been made for increasing the flock providing his methods and equipment and market are up to the average standard now obtaining throughout the province. These figures are merely offered here as a guide to the large number of farmers who are thinking of going into sheep-raising, chiefly as a means of controlling their weed problem. They are based upon averages and must not be considered as approaching the income possible if approved methods are followed.

BREEDS AND MARKETS

Nearly all correspondents reported that the local butcher shop afforded a sufficient market for all they produced, though Winnipeg, Brandon, Prince Albert and Regina occasionally were named as shipping centers. The ranchers in the southwestern portion of the province, of course, find in Winnipeg their principal market for both mutton and wool. With the local markets not fully supplied, and the number of sheep for shipment east declining each year there is no danger of over-production for years to come. This is further borne out by the testimony of the packers, to which reference will be made later on.

The most popular breeds among Saskatchewan farmers are: Shrop-shire, Oxford, Southdown, Leicester Merino, Cheviot and Rambouillet, and they are named in the above order of frequency. Thus the short woolled mutton breeds largely predominate. Purebred rams are very generally used when obtainable, but many correspondents report a desire to use such but no knowledge of where they may be obtained.

Coyotes, or prairie wolves, named as almost the sole source of loss by the sheepmen of the province. A number of other sources were named by different correspondents, but each was reported by but one man, so these cannot be regarded as sources of more than very occasional loss. Dogs, unseasonable weather at lambing time, ewes too fat when lambing, poison, spear grass, castration, and stealing were the sources of loss named by one or another, but coyotes were named as a source of loss or as a disadvantage of sheep-raising by fully half those re-

Coyotes are undoubtedly a factor that must be reckoned with in this connection. Two methods of disposing of this pest are available. One is to increase the present bounty and thus encourage greater slaughter of them, and the other is for the individual sheep owner to fence against them. It requires but little better fencing to keep covotes out than to keep sheep in, and the cost of such fencing when its durability, appearance and usefulness in
