INTERRED

A LIVE WOMAN

in a Few Minutes Before Coffin Sealed and Saved Her.

Oct. 20.—The timely aid of a physician who was with the patient on the day, prevented the burial. Thomas Chapman, 60, who was supposed to have died of heart disease on Saturday was pronounced for was not embalmed. The body was to have been taken to the funeral home. A few minutes before the coffin was sealed, the patient requested permission to get up. After confirming the fact the woman's body was by suspended animation. She was removed from the coffin and revived. While weak, it is believed that she will recover.

McALISTER LOUDLY CHEERED AT SUSSEX

McAlister and Fowler Nominated and Both Speak

SUSSEX, Oct. 19.—Enthusiastic, ex- tant Liberals came from all parts of Kings and Albert counties today to cheer the popular candidate of the government party, Duncan H. McAlister. If any evidence was needed that Geo. W. Fowler would be defeated next Monday it was furnished today by the report that came from every corner of the united constituency. From early morning until early this afternoon the Liberal parish committee were receiving from the different centres, from far off Greenwich, Kars and Westfield in Kings to Alma, Harvey and Hopeville in Albert county. All of them had the same story to tell of the popularity of the Liberal government and the Liberal candidate. There is no doubt of the great change in the sentiment in Cape Breton in the last election will vote against him on the 26th. Victory for McAlister and a triumph for Liberalism were in the air today.

NO INCIDENT OF NOTE

Nomination proceedings were not en- livened by any incident of note. The official nomination of Duncan H. McAlister, medical doctor, and Geo. W. Fowler, barrister-at-law, were held with the returning officer, Ernest W. Lynds, and all acknowledged.

The institute hall where the official nominations were made was crowded long before two o'clock, the official hour for voting. It was known that the Conservatives had hired the rink for their meeting, and as the Liberal candidate up to 1 p.m. had no invitation to appear in the big hall, the only one suitable for such a big crowd in the drizzling rain that was falling, arrangements were made for the Liberal candidate to speak in the institute hall. Shortly after 1:30 Mr. Fowler addressed the crowd and invited them to his meeting in the rink. A few of his supporters followed him out, and at 2 o'clock when Dr. McAlister appeared he received a tremendous reception. He explained the situation and then declared that he was willing to meet Mr. Fowler anywhere and they would all go to the big rink. Cheers followed cheers as McAlister led the big crowd from the hall to the rink.

MADE TO SUIT FOWLER.

When there, the arrangements for the meeting were made to suit Mr. Fowler. He would not allow Dr. McAlister a chance to reply. He wanted to open and close the meeting, and would not listen to any other speakers. Dr. McAlister yielded to the unfair terms and Fowler opened with three-quarters of an hour. McAlister followed in a speech of about an hour's duration, which was a surprise to many who had never heard him speak. He showed that he had a splendid grasp upon the public questions of the day and discussed them fluently and forcibly. The big crowd which numbered fully three thousand people cheered him repeatedly. The bulk of the audience was undoubtedly in his favor. He scored point after point and at the close of his speech he received an ovation, the equal of which has never been heard in Kings county.

Mr. Fowler spoke for half an hour in reply in his usual reckless style. His friends gave him a good reception, but they could not alter the fact that the big meeting was in favor of McAlister.

Tonight Dr. H. McAlister is addressing a crowded house in the institute hall. Standing in at a premium, and it seemed as if the crowd could not weary of cheers and applause.

DISGRACEFUL TACTICS OF TORIES AT BATHURST

Organized Gang of Hoodlums Refuse to Hear Reply to Conservative Candidate

BATHURST, N. B., Oct. 19.—Never in the history of this county did such disgraceful tactics characterize the nomination proceedings as today, when an organized gang of hoodlums with a sheriff at the head, refused by shouts, cursing and fighting, to hear a reply to the Conservative candidate. The tactics of the Conservatives will help the Liberals. Gloucester is sold for Turgeon. His majority will be at least 1,000.

REID WILL BE RETURNED BY A LARGE MAJORITY

Record Crowd Attends the Nomination Proceedings at Dalhousie

DALHOUSIE, N. B., Oct. 19.—Never in the history of old Restigouche was there ever such a large crowd present at nomination proceedings. In the past public speaking took place in the Court House, but that old memorable building could not contain half the people and both sides agreed to meet in the large curling rink. Over one thousand electors listened to the speakers. There was no question of many interruptions by the Conservatives, which did not help their cause. James Reid, Liberal, and W. A. Mott, Conservative, were nominated. At two o'clock W. A. Trieman was elected chairman and introduced Mr. Reid as the first speaker. The Liberal candidate received a great ovation when he rose to address the large audience. He made a strong presentation of the great progress Canada has made under Liberal rule.

LOUDLY APPLAUDED.

He was loudly applauded when he referred to the many improvements made in Restigouche county during recent years.

Mr. Mott followed and spoke at length. He failed to arouse any enthusiasm. His references to the Arctic expedition fell flat when several electors cried out, "Speak to us about the Montserrat expedition." He wanted a return to the National policy. A voice cried out, "We are having better times now." He attacked Dr. Pugsley and the crowd shouted "Pugsley is the best friend New Brunswick ever had at Ottawa."

A. E. G. McKenzie replied to Mr. Mott and in a forcible speech he shattered the Conservative arguments and pointed out Fielding's successful management of Canada's finances. H. A. Choquette, barrister, of Montreal, spoke in French for the Conservatives. He attacked the government on their immigration policy, and A. T. LeBlanc, barrister, of Campbellton, made an able reply on behalf of the Liberals, also speaking in French.

Mr. Mott spoke again, explaining the Muskoka land matter, and Wm. Currie, M.P.P., closed the meeting in fir- mly not shot at the Conservative candidate.

Cheers were given for the candidates and the King. An impartial survey of the whole situation here is that Reid will be returned by a large majority.

SPLENDID TRIBUTE TO COLONEL McLEAN

Crowd Cheers Itself Hoarse— Leaves When Hazen Starts to Speak

GASPE, Oct. 19.—Today was undoubtedly the greatest day ever held in this town. Nearly two thousand people attended the nomination day proceedings and the great majority seemed to be strongly in favor of Colonel McLean.

Colonel McLean, Liberal, and R. D. Wilnot, Conservative, were duly nominated.

Following the nomination addresses were delivered outside the Court House by the candidates. P. L. Peters was chairman. Wilnot spoke for an hour and McLean followed for the same length of time. Then Hazen spoke for three-quarters of an hour and McLean followed.

Colonel McLean received a magnificent reception. The big crowd cheered itself hoarse. His speech was a capital one and was punctuated throughout with applause.

When Hazen started to speak fully 1,500 people left the grounds. The Tory premier looked rightfully down- cast, but managed to stammer out his stereotyped tirade against the govern- ment. Wilnot left as soon as his own speech was over, thoroughly disheart- ened.

At the close of the proceedings the crowd marched down the street cheering for McLean. The colonel's election is certain. The only question is the size of the majority.

A fine delegation came from Chibouche. There were fully 300 in the party and all save eight or nine are support- ers of McLean. Chapman will give McLean an overwhelming majority.

LEBLANC'S ELECTION CONCEDED

RICHIBUCTO, Oct. 19.—O. J. LeBlanc, Liberal, and F. J. Robitoux, Conservative, were nominated here to- day. LeBlanc's election is conceded on all sides. His majority will be greater than ever.

W. F. TODD.

BROWN AND CROCKET NOMINATED IN YORK

Brown is Enthusiastically Cheered and His Election is Admitted

FREDERICTON, Oct. 19.—The Lib- erals are very well satisfied with the result of the joint debate between Brown and Crockett at the Opera House this afternoon. Brown spoke first for an hour and a quarter and was most enthusiastically received. He dealt lightly with the issues, speaking with dignity and force. Crockett followed at the same length and most of the time was on the defensive, closing with the usual scandals with which the people are weary. Brown followed for 15 minutes and Crockett closed.

NELSON W. BROWN.

The meeting, which packed the build- ing, was demonstrative, but good order was preserved. Brown's friends were delighted with the showing he made, and he won many supporters by the intelligent grasp he showed of public questions. The chairman was Geo. J. Cotter of Kewville.

The Liberals were in today from nearly every parish, and all spoke most hopefully of Brown's prospects at the polls. The tide is sweeping strongly in his support, and Crockett's friends have abandoned their boasts of a big majority. It is the candid opinion of the most experienced Liberal cam- paigners that Brown will win.

MICHAUD WILL HAVE MONSTER MAJORITY

Liberal Candidate Has Nothing to Fear From Dr. Kirkpatrick

GRAND FALLS, Oct. 19.—The nom- inations were held in this town to- day and as expected the only candi- dates were Pius Michaud, Liberal, and Dr. Francis C. Kirkpatrick, Conserva- tive. Mr. Michaud delivered an excel- lent address, while the doctor also spoke. The outlook was never bright- er for the Liberals and there is no doubt that Mr. Michaud will be sent to Ottawa with a majority greater than ever.

HE'S A TRUE CANDIDATE OF THE SLANDERBUND

Ganong's Tirade Falls Flat— Todd Given a Great Ovation

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Oct. 19.—Nom- ination day at St. Andrews crystal- lized the sentiment of the county which the Liberals claimed had been steadily drifting in their direction. Electors from all sections of the county were present. The candidates met and dis- cussed the issues of the day. At least the Liberal candidate did. Wm. F. Todd's address will not soon be for- gotten by those present. He sur- passed his opponents, delighted his friends and charmed his hearers with a mastery effort. The candidates were allowed one hour and a quarter each, with ten minutes for reply. No man who listened to the two speakers has any doubt in his mind tonight as to the issues before the people. No- torious at Ottawa for speeches unne- cessarily cutting, Mr. Ganong stands before the electors of Charlotte a true candidate of the slanderbund. Not a word for the interests of Charlotte county, not a word for a policy that would appeal to the fishermen, farmer or the laborer—a tirade of in- sultations, his ten minutes of ravings will not be forgotten, so foolish were they that Mr. Todd refused to reply.

SPOKE WITH CONFIDENCE.

Dealing with a righteous cause, with magnificent results in every section of the county, Mr. Todd spoke with con- fidence and carried his audience with him. The proceedings developed into a Todd demonstration and every man in attendance left for home confident that the county of Charlotte, Liberal al- ways in sentiment, would on Monday next be true to herself and elect a representative in sympathy with this sentiment and roll up a bumper ma- jority for William F. Todd.

SMITH MAKES VICIOUS ATTACK ON CARVELL

Crowd Not Disposed to Listen to Him, but Carvell Per- suades Them to Do So

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 19.—Returning Officer Hayward held his court at Up- per Woodstock, at which the papers of Frank B. Carvell were filed by R. B. Jones, and those of B. Frank Smith by Chas. Comben. As the county coun- cil had condemned the court house gallery, adjournment was made to the armory, which was simply packed with people from all parts of the county. Mayor Balmaln presided and Mr. Car- vell was the first speaker. His address, a very able one, was well received. In spite of an organized attempt to in- terrupt him, but by plainly intimating that such tactics would not be toler- ated he was given an excellent hear- ing.

Mr. Carvell discussed the questions before the people in a calm and judicial manner, making a splendid appeal for support on the record of the adminis- tration.

Mr. Smith followed in a rambling and most abusive speech of about an hour. He scarcely touched at all on federal issues, but devoted all his energy to a bitter personal attack on his opponent. He became so vicious that the crowd got in no humor to listen to him, but Mr. Carvell jumped up and asked ev- erybody to permit Smith to talk as long as he desired. Smith made some very bad statements and was com- pulsorily forced to withdraw, greatly to the delight of at least two-thirds of the audience.

The proceedings today clearly indi- cate a preponderance of Liberal feeling and Mr. Carvell's friends are very opti- mistic.

Tonight there was a monster meet- ing in Graham's Opera House, ad- dressed by F. B. Carvell, Hon. H. A. McKown, Hon. W. P. Jones, Warden Shaw, Councillor Kinney, Councillor Gilmour, Andrew McCain, George W. Upham and others. Every seat was filled and over 800 people standing, it being the largest meeting ever held in town by the Liberals.

LOGGIE SURELY SAFE IN NORTHUMBERLAND

Accorded a Magnificent Re- ception in Morrison's Own Town

CHATHAM, Oct. 19.—Nomination proceedings passed off quietly today at the shiretown. Each candidate, W. S. Loggie, present member, and Donald Morrison, his opponent, had largely signed nomination lists. W. C. Wine- low acted as nominating agent for Loggie and A. A. Davidson, Newcastle, acted in a like capacity for Morrison. J. B. K. McNaughton, Chatham, and Donald Cresshagen, Newcastle, were re- spective election agents. Sheriff O'Brien presided.

At two o'clock the candidates ad- dressed a large audience in the Orange Hall. R. L. Maltby was chairman and introduced Mr. Loggie first. Mr. Loggie spoke for one hour and one quarter and gave one of the best speeches he has ever delivered. He dealt with the large public questions of the day and showed in a convincing fashion the success of the govern- ment's work in the West. His remarks on the G. T. P. Railway were listened to with great attention.

Mr. Morrison spoke for a like period of time and a half hour was devoted to speeches from supporters of each candidate. Loggie's splendid reception in Morrison's own town ensures his election by a substantial majority.

OHIO BABY DRINKS LIKE FISH; SMOKES.

Though Only 30 Months Old, He Wants Three Beers and Several Cigarettes a Day.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 19.—Though only 30 months of age, Louis Tomasini, of 5112 Marble avenue, is a beer drinker and cigar smoker. Cigarettes, he calls nasty, in his lisping speech, and candy he abhors as children. But he takes his three beers a day—more sometimes—and smokes black cigars like a man.

His mother says he is healthier since he began to indulge in the pleasures considered so evil that great organiza- tions are fighting indignance in them by adults.

Today the child was offered a glass of beer. He drank several swallows, then set the glass down.

"I'm not feeling well. Gimme a ci- gar," he lisped, as he calmly smoked the weed.

THIS MEETING HAD ITS AMUSING SIDE

Summer Tries to Interrupt Emerson But is Laughed Down

MONCTON, Oct. 19.—Nomination day proceedings at Dorchester today were of somewhat lively nature, with a touch of low comedy provided by F. W. Summer, Conservative candidate. About 500 people were present at the speech making, the crowd being smaller than in other years, and of decided- ly a Liberal nature, judging by the comparison of the receptions given the speakers.

Hon. Mr. Emerson gave a master- ly address, in which he reviewed the political situation and dwelt on the branch line policy, also the filthy lit- erature being circulated in an effort to injure his private character which, he said, he had every reason to believe was published in the office of Mr. Summer's newspaper. This Summer, in his address, denied, but accused Em- merson of supporting a journal which had been traducing him, naming Free Speech, a local weekly. This Mr. Em- merson denied. The Moncton land deal was also the cause of a discussion. Summer alleging there was $3,000 graft which went into some body's pocket; while Emerson showed clearly that it had been a straight business transac- tion. Summer interrupted Emmer- son several times when he was making a reply to his speech, but was laughed down by the crowd. Some amusing scenes followed as Summer above the laughter of the crowd, could be heard shouting "Who got the eight thou- sand?" and similar slogans. The pro- ceedings ended with rousing cheers for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, while a cheer for Bordas was only faintly given.

The crowd was fairly orderly and very little liquor was in evidence. Rev. J. LeGarde, of the Baptist Church, Corner and Prof. W. W. Andrews, also addressed the gathering.

JAMES FENDER.

SOME OF THE MYSTERIOUS PRANKS OF THE EARTH

Far away in the Arctic, on the north- western coast of Canada, a sham volcano is working on an enormous scale. A huge cliff lying to the east of Cape Bathurst, is all ablaze for a dis- tance of over twenty miles.

The face of the cliff is seamed with lignite, and this appears to have been burning for centuries. How it took fire, or when, no one knows, or ever will know. And there it goes on blas- ing year after year covering the av- eraging ice with a pall of smoke and cinders.

After years of effort it is now possi- ble to predict the weather, with toler- able accuracy, for a day ahead. But as for foretelling what the earth herself will do the next minute, you might as well attempt to predict where a flash of lightning will strike. The forces at work below the earth's crust seem to take an almost impenetrable delight in playing the maddest pranks, some of which are totally unexplainable.

DESTRUCTION OF ST. PIERRE.

Some are harmless, some destructive beyond measure. Of the latter, the most extraordinary example on record is un- doubtedly the destruction of St. Pier- re.

Mont Pelee exploded. Such a thing has happened before. Volcanoes not unfrequently blow their heads off. But why that awful cloud of white, hot dust should rush straight down from St. Pierre, killing 40,000 people in less than two minutes, is not so easily ex- plained. The disaster was so local that Montee Rouge, the suburb on the hills close above, escaped comparatively un- damaged.

Lake Vernagher, a beautiful sheet of water, the pride of a valley in the Ty- rol, vanished in a night. Next morning the bed was bare mud. There was no earthquake on this occasion. The lake quietly disappeared as a bath empties when the plug is pulled out.

ODD FACTS ABOUT SILK HATS.

The "high hat" variously called at different times and in different places, "chimney-pot," "stovepipe," "cylind- er," and "wrist not," and now dubbed by the irreverent the "silk lid," be- came fashionable in Paris about the year 1790, soon after the death of Ben- jamin Franklin, in whose honor it was known as "chapeau Franklin."

Despite numberless changes of style, this cylindrical form of headwear has maintained its ground ever since, un- expected as such a result would have seemed at its first introduction.

For a time this style of hat was considered revolutionary in Germany and Russia—anyone wearing a "cy- linder" was liable to punishment—but the evil reputation passed away; and the tall, stiff hat, the ugliest head covering that was ever worn, and the most ridiculed, outlives all other styles.

In the celebrated beer garden of Munich, the Hofbrauhaus, "any man daring to appear in a high hat is like- ly to have it crushed over his head, time-honored custom declaring that here, if anywhere, a tall hat is out of place.

On the contrary, no honorable mem- ber sits in the English House of Com- mons without his "pot" hat on his head. If he rises to address the house, greet a friend, or cross the room, he must hold his shivly title in his hand. Should his name be men- tioned in the speech of another mem- ber, he lifts his hat respectfully. If it is in his hand when his name is uttered, etiquette requires him to clap it hastily on his head in order that he may lift it with proper deference.

SNUFFED HIM OUT.

In one of the European Parliaments, when the president finds it necessary

"TIDAL" WAVES.

Speaking of Swiss lakes calls to mind the extraordinary "tidal" waves of Lake Geneva. They are called "tidal" for want of a better name. At uncer- tain intervals the lake heaves itself up and rises five or six feet in a few se- conds. Why, or wherefore, no one knows.

Nor can anyone tell what is happen- ing in the Caspian Sea. For years past its waters have been falling, and it had been supposed that the great inland sea was gradually drying up. Recent soundings reveal the astonishing fact that the Caspian is at present actually deeper than it was a century ago. There is only one possible hypothesis. The bottom of the sea must be dropping out.

In 1905 petroleum was struck near the town of Dallas, in Texas. Believ- ing that an oil deposit actually under lay the town, a trial boring was made just outside the city.

A FEARFUL ABYSS.

The result was alarming. At a depth of 250 ft. the drill-points fell into what was evidently a gigantic subterranean cave of which soundings failed to reach the bottom.

Presently the earth began to fall away and drop into the fearful abyss. A huge pit appeared, which constantly extended. Then all the water in the town reservoir poured away leaving not one drop in the place.

Some of these natural phenomena are quite beyond explanation. In the north- ern part of Polk County, Wisconsin, there are five big holes in the ground. natural wells, varying between 120 ft. and 150 ft. deep.

Whenever rain is coming these wells go crazy. A current of air comes roar- ing out, with a sound that can be heard nearly half a mile away. The air is sometimes so hot that it will boil a kettle and, again, so cold that it will freeze water.

To end an argument, he gravely puts on his "cylinder." Though it happen- ed nearly forty years ago, people still laugh at the recollection of one pres- ident who, to close a celebrated debate, took up his neighbor's hat by mistake. It was far too big for him, and, fall- ing down about his ears, snuffed him out completely from the gaze of the crowded house.

In Germany, when the Herr Ober- Inspector meets his friend, the Herr Chor-Verein Director, in the street, the prudent passer-by allows them a wide berth; otherwise the majestic sweep of the uplifted cylinders is like- ly to bowl him over the gutter.

Less aggressive, but equally striking in a stranger, is the Englishman's fa- shion of covering his face with his tall hat as soon as he has taken his seat in his pew in church.

The Arabs, when they wish to pro- nounce their most forcible malediction, say, "May thy soul know no more rest than the hat on the head of a European!"

A Scottish parson still on the un- der side of 40 was driving home from an outlying hamlet when he overtook a young woman. He recognized her as the maid of all work at the farm where he was born, so he pulled up and offered her a seat. Mary gladly accepted his offer and they chatted pleasantly all the way to the farm house, his head in order that he may lift it with proper deference.

"Thank you, sir," she said as she got down.

"Don't mention it, Mary. Don't men- tion it," said the parson, as he drove on.

"No, I won't," Mary obligingly assur- ed him.
