THE COURIER

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15, 1850. L'S- BER PIRST PAGE. We have said sufficient of the local advantages which attach to the Caughnawaga traverse, propose at least our perfect disinterest-classes, and our desire to coroperate with any parties really disposed to press to completion a line of Railways which will connect Muntreal with New York and Boston; and if we lexitate before we commit oursidees to a preference for the Caughnawaga line, we are but pensing the path of men who examine ant investigate causiously and deliberate by before simily deciding. We will remember, some sixtum years since, when Craig Street contained an open creek in the center, now covered up and hid from view, that the opponents of the plantale and pensions of the creek, and turning into it the waste water of the Lachine Canal, discharging the sewerage of the city below the Crees. The want of an independent Press at that period, and its indolerand apathy of the public, resulted in the waters of the creek, with all the fifth of the city sewers, being turned into the very centre of our harbor, being turned into the very centre of our harbor, contaminating the stream, and necessarily polluting the water drawn from the river by the Water Works, for the use of the city sewers, being turned into the very centre of our harbor, being turned into the very centre of our harbor, and manufacture of the proper remedy being applied by the contained as the preceding applied we eite these facts to prove low fatal to the public, we fitted the proper remedy being applied. munication between the Southern bank of the St.
Lawrence and Montreal is incomparably better than anything which Caughnawaga can offer. In fact, while one traveller would be only crossing the Caughnawaga forry, another traveller, leaving Montreal at the same time, could reach Laprairie in a sleigh, and, by means of the railway, arrive at St. Johns. We deal with facts familiar to every practical man, leaving the public to chew the cud of reflection before they irrevocably commit themselves.—Having said so much about the respective merils of the two ferries, it is expedient that we advert to the project of a bridge. respective merits of the two ferries, it is expedient that we advert to the project of a bridge. We believe it was in 1847, when money was abundant, capitalists liberal, and apeculation rife, that the idea of a bridge was first seriously entertained. The merchants, like prudent men, went to work methodically; H. Judah, and John. Young, Esquires, solicited aid in behalf of survey and examination of the proposed line of operations,—$1000 were cheerfully contributed and with that sum, the services, we believe, of Mr. Day, a very distinguished American Engi-

mir. Day, a very distinguished American Engineer, were secured. He surveyed the line from Windmill Point to the apposits shore, imspected the bottom of the River, and faving satisfied his mind upon every essential fact, he proposed for the sum of one hundred thousand pounds, to throw a wooden bridge over the stream, the span of the arches to be two hundred feet unde, with stone pillars, and a drawidizing, if required. He did more, he offered to perform the work, and farnish good and valid guarantees, that neither the Saturday week in the Legislative Assembly of Canada:—

Yeng Cerr, June 14th, 1850.

You have doubtless heard of the diagraceful affair in our District Court; and as the matter will come before the floure at its next Session, and a statement made to the Governor immediately, I will give you the facts as they occurred—I being engaged in the case with Judge Field.

Byon our motion, the Court had ordered a new trial, for the reason that it (the Court) had refused to let ur call the Pisnisiff upon the stand, to prove a contract; and when the stants arrived, showing our right, granted a new trial, apon payment of costs. Without making out their bill of costs, the parties appeared to the action, and, upon agreement, postponer the trial from Tuesday until Friday. Upon the calling of the case, the Plaintiff's Counsel demanded the costs. Judge Field arose to say that they had waived their right to costs until the faul describes. I wave right the Tooks on the Court, when Judge I more cried out, "Fine that man fifty dollars," Judge Field replied, "Very well, sir."

Field.—"Very well, sir." was again replied.

Turner.—"Pine him three hundred dollars, and welve hour imprisonment to Field in."

Field.—" Very well; I have constitutional Turaer. Fine him five hundred dollars and fifty eight hours in custody for contempt of Taking the average of the last twenty years, we exceed the margin, when we state, that passengers can cross, and have crossed, opposite Montreal, with the exceptions of three days in the Spring, and three days in the Fall. Any citizen, who has long resided here, must have had frequent opportunities of seeing passengers for the Packet muster on the edge of the bordage, the canoes drawn up on the see, and the baggare piled alongside, preparatory to crossing. Now is it not reusonable to suppose, that, if Caughnawaga were so much more desirable as a ferry, experienced travellers, like most of the Packet passengers, would not rather undergo the slight trouble of a seven miles land journey to Caughnawaga to avoid the hazards of the Montreal ferry? We submit this point as worthy of notice. We do not deny that there may be, and have been, days when the Montreal ferry is, and will be, impracticable; but it should not be forgotten, thet, when once the ice has token, the natural Winter communication between the Southern bank of the St. Lawrence and Montreal is incomparably better grateful return for the kindness of the Superintendent of the Rutland Railroad, in offering, a short time since, it carry the Central's mails gratifionely, the civil and "accomplished" Superintendent of the Central has tendered the services of that road to carry passengers and freigh for the other. DESTH OF A PATRIXER.—The patriance Dornor died lately, nour the foot of the Hill of Allen. County Kildare, at the advanced age of 125. The deceased lived in the same townland in which he was born in the year 1725, having thus seen the throng of England filled by six successive sovereigns. He had been in a state of second infancy for nearly a quarter of a century.

Laturagh, the resping of the barley is general and wheat, outs, and potatoes promise large and sound crops. In the nurriest of Armagh, the supply of potatoes is so abundant that they can be laid for 2d, per store. The Larrick Reparter, which had such gloomy reports of the blight last week, now states that potatoes supposed to be discusted are recovering.

The Cork Enferiese has accounts from all parts of the Counties of Cork, Kerry, Limerick, and Waterstond, which concur in stating that there is yet no real potato discusse, and that the prespects of the barvest are most cheering. To crown all, some of the Proximelal journals, which reported a serious blight in the wheat crop, now declare that that crop, in general, is sound, and promises a good produce. Condence is rapidly reliving among the farmers, with the hope of a return to abundance.
