It is composed of business men accustomed to the handling of affairs, and entrust the organization and administration of the new town government.

Not a single man on the entire ticket can be accused of being an officeseeker. Each and every candidate was voluntarily tendered the place on the ticket he occupies and in no instance was canvas made for any individual.

How different is the case with the other tickets before the voters. · Dr. Thompson, who heads the so-called Elective ticket, has been groomed for the office of mayor for the past three months. He has used every artifice to accomplish his purpose, and the means by which he qualified for mayor should be sufficient to defeat him.

Chas. Macdonald, the candidate of the People's party, is in no better position. Mr. Macdonald took part in the late campaign for the express nomination for the office of mayor at was a part and parcel of the understanding under which Mr. Macdonald took the platform that he should be the candidate for the mayoralty.
