

Cleaned by the Way

A penny mouse-trap, please. And let me get it quickly, as I wish to catch a train!

'Gee, I thought I'd die!'
'Go! Why did you change your mind?'—Cleveland Leader.

She—And do you believe that there is honor among thieves?
He—No, thieves are just as bad as any other people.

Jack—'I'm awfully in love with Kitty, but I wouldn't have her know it for the world.'
Alice—So she told me.

You Can See It Work

The beauty of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a healer of the skin is common, well known, nothing else disease and old sores is that you can see from day to day exactly what it is doing. There is no guess work, no experimenting. It simply heals the skin and makes it soft, smooth and natural. It heals as if by magic. Prove this to your own satisfaction by trying it.

Howell—Howell is a Hustler

Howell—Yes; he would make the average moving picture show look like still life.—New York Press.

Little Phyllis was at a Concert

The leader rapped and the buzz of conversation ceased. 'Oh, mama,' exclaimed Phyllis, 'listen to the hush.'

Mother—Now, sit still, Tommy, or I'll punish you when we get home

Tommy—Mamma, if you punish me I shall tell the conductor my real age, and then you will have to pay full fare.

Diogenes returned from his search for an honest man

'Given up the chase?' they inquired.
'It became a matter of necessity,' replied the philosopher. 'Someone stole my lantern.'

Creditor—Is your master at home?

Servant—Yes, please walk in.
Creditor—Thank heaven, I shall see some money at last.
Servant—Don't make that mistake. If he had any money he wouldn't be at home.

It was a dark night. A man was riding a bicycle with no lamp

He came to cross-roads and did not know which way to turn. He felt in his pocket for a match. He found but one. Climbing to the top of the pole he lit the match carefully and in the ensuing glimmer read 'Wet paint.'

To Cure a Headache

The experience of Mr. O. Barber, Simcoe, Ont., is of interest to all who suffer from headaches. He writes: 'For a long time I was troubled with headaches, which came on about once a week with such violence that I could not eat or do my work. Headache powder and quick cures did me no good. I then used six boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food and have not been troubled with headache since. That was eight months ago.'

Madge—But, Billy, the idea of three coaches to each man to put him in condition for the big game! Why, it's absurd!

Billy—Not any more so than three dressmakers, two maids, a hairdresser and half a hundred female relatives putting you in shape for commencement.

Why are you so disgusted, Denis?

'I just heard was man call another man a liar, and the man that was called a liar said the other man would have to apologize or there would be a fight.'
'And why should that make you look so sad?'
'The other man apologized.'

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Mistress to newly arrived Norwegian girl—Can you cook?
Girl—No.
Mistress—Can you do washing?
Girl—No.
Mistress—Can you wait on the table?
Girl—No.
Mistress—Well, what can you do?
Girl—Ah can milk reindeers.

A teacher in a big elementary school had given a lesson in an 'islands' class on the Ten Commandments. In order to test their memories she asked:
'Can any little child give me a Commandment with only four words in it?
A hand was raised immediately.
'Well?' said the teacher.
'Keep off the grass!' was the reply.
She brought him out a wedge of pumpkin pie and a cup of coffee.
'And you only visit this section of the country during golden rod time?' she interrogated innocently. 'How poetical!'
'Well, you see, mum, it isn't exactly poetical,' replied Danny Dan, with a smile. 'But when the golden-rod blooms it is too late to cut grass or too early to shovel snow.'

TAKE NOTICE.

We would advise, through testimonials, and press agent interviews, from well-known persons from all over America that they testify to the merit of MINARD'S LINIMENT, the best of Household Remedies.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LONDON.

For the winter wardrobe Lady Fashion has put the seal of her approval on short coats and scant, plain skirts. She also favors the one-piece dress for fall wear, and whatever the color of the cloth she recommends a touch of black in the way of satin cording or braid.

Quite modish are the deep sailor collars trimmed with either fur or moire bands on the short coat or on the long separate wraps.

In evening and house frocks high waist lines are modish, and shirtings are used as a trimming wherever available. Sleeves are long or short, according to the type of gown, but they are always small.

The peasant waist, with sleeves cut in one with the bodice, continues as much in vogue as ever and will undoubtedly last through the winter months. The blouse is the most suitable and comfortable model for the small boy. This can be made with box plait collar and cuffs of a contrasting material. It is easy to make, and its use is becoming and in every way satisfactory. It is made up in both wash and woolsen fabrics.

Fever Sores.

Fevers sores and all other skin sores should not be healed entirely but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

The Longest Word.

What is believed to be the longest word to be found in any dictionary—one that leaves even German and Dutch hopelessly out of it—may be turned up in Liddell and Scott's lexicon by those who can read Greek characters. Those who cannot may be content to know that this word which begins 'leptosomachochialochaloo,' proceeds in like manner through 75 syllables, and counts 170 letters in all. Of course, no ancient Greek ever used such a word as this in ordinary conversation. It is a common word invented by Aristophanes for rhythmic delivery in one of his plays and means a dish compounded of all sorts of fish, flesh, fowl and sauces, which are enumerated in the word. The most ingenious English translation of it yet suggested is—'hash.'

Stomach Trouble Cured.

If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. P. Klotz of Regina, Me., says: 'I have used a great many different kinds of medicines for stomach trouble, but find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used.' For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

Medicine in the Sea.

The sea, according to certain scientists, can furnish not only nourishment, but medicine. A distinguished French practitioner prescribes the drinking of sea water as a cure for diabetes, the water being aerated in order to remove its impurities, and to some extent, its nauseous flavor. It has also been administered with success in cases of bronchitis and pleurisy. Experiments carried out on consumptive patients show that subcutaneous injections of sea water are beneficial at all events in the early stages of tuberculosis. Bread made with sea water, it is said by those who have tried it to be most appetizing and nourishing.

The busiest and tightest little thing that ever was made in Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyfulness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Find Happiness in Children.

Very domestic is the life of the Belgians, and the children enter into every sort of interest of the parents. They would not think of going to the restaurant or summer garden without the children, and their own pleasures are often but the reflected ones of their boys and girls. The father goes to the circus with his troupe of young folks about him and enjoys their joys. The happiness of the people is centered in their homes, and anything that will interfere with the good of the child is not tolerated by the self-respecting Belgians.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung troubles, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerously sound sleep.

Willie (aged six) and Jessie (aged four) were sitting at the table, and their mother was just about to serve them their dinner, she had placed Jessie's plate before her first, and this caused Willie, who was very hungry, to groan.

'Mamma,' he said, 'why do you always give our Jessie her dinner before you give me mine?'

'Because ladies should always come first,' replied mamma.

'Then why was it that I was born before our Jessie?' asked Willie.

'A plain dish slipped in hot water and then in a moment time, will cease while plain and not before it. The same acts like a soap on the paint.'

Tommy—What is a school boy?
Poppy—A boy of eight.

Third Throne for Queen Alexandra.

An interesting feature of King George's coronation will be the provision of a third throne for Queen Alexandra. This will be placed on the left of the King's coronation chair, Queen Mary's being on the right. The two Queens' chairs will be identical in height, and each will be two steps lower than that of the King.

Westminster Abbey will be closed to the public from the middle of February, when it will be handed over to the Office of Works. When this takes place a complete transformation in the interior of the building will begin.

At the crowning of King Edward at least 7,000 spectators were present. This number is likely to be considerably exceeded, since King George has ordered that accommodation shall be provided for members of the House of Commons and their ladies. Two tickets will be available for every member, and these will be issued early in the new year. Each member of the House of Lords is entitled to a ticket for the ceremony and another for his lady, and these demands must be satisfied before any other claims are considered, even those of foreign royalties or their representatives.

Extra accommodation will be provided by erecting galleries in the chapel of King Edward the Confessor, which commands an excellent view of the whole ceremonial.

Football.

The game of football is said to have originated with the early Celtic inhabitants of England. It is certainly as old as the Christian era. The game was immensely popular all through the middle ages and appears to have been from the start the same dangerous thing that it is to-day. It was repeatedly censured and opposed by the authorities, and an attempt at its suppression was made under Henry IV., Henry VIII., and Elizabeth, but the game continued to be played until about 1650. Revised about the beginning of the eighteenth century, it has since then steadily grown in popularity and is to-day one of the most popular of English and American sports.

New Year's Cakes.

One cup butter, two cups sugar, two eggs, half cup milk, three cups flour, half teaspoon salt, two tea spoons baking powder, two table spoons curdew seed. Cream butter and sugar together, add well beaten eggs and milk, sift the flour, salt and baking powder together and add the curdew. Roll out this on a well floured board, cut into any desired shape, and bake on greased pans in a moderate oven about ten minutes.

To break up a cold fill the bath tub full of warm water. Get in and turn in more hot water until the limit of endurance is reached. Then go immediately to bed, lying between blankets and piling on much cover. If a glass of hot lemonade is taken it will help the opening of the pores and inducing the necessary perspiration.

Decorated china plates should be put away round pieces of cotton flannel between them.

Rubbing spirits of camphor on the lips morning and evening will give relief from cold sores.

Boil vinegar in the fish kettle or pan to destroy the fish odor.

'Has he travelled much?'

'I don't think so; he's always talking about the places he's visited.'—Smart Set.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARYANN, N. J., writes: 'I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. Suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, including, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, and I was in despair, and I had read your book, and I had heard of your Compound, so I began to take it, and am well again and feel like a new woman. I feel like I have been born again. I feel like a new woman. I feel like I have been born again. I feel like a new woman. I feel like I have been born again.'

Healthy Happy Children

As everyday food for growing children, good bread and butter is much more wholesome than meat. It is lighter in the stomach, more easy to digest and furnishes every element of health and strength necessary for the growing child, provided the flour is rich in that fine quality of high grade gluten which distinguishes Ogilvie's

Royal Household Flour.

It is this rich nourishing element which makes children grow fat and happy when given plenty of bread made from this finest of all flours. Children thrive on it. It puts flesh on their bones and brings the rosy flush of health to their cheeks.

This is not so with bread made from inferior flours. It falls very far short of being whole food and fails to build up strong, vigorous growth. For the children's sake buy the best flour—Ogilvie's Royal Household. It counts for health and happiness. Best and most nutritious for pastry as well as for bread.

'Ogilvie's Book for a Cook,' with 125 pages of recipes that have been tried and tested, will be sent free if you will send us your address and mention the name of your dealer.
