Was Personally Attended by Dr. A. W. Chase

Before He Became Famous as the Author of Dr. Chase's Receipt Book.

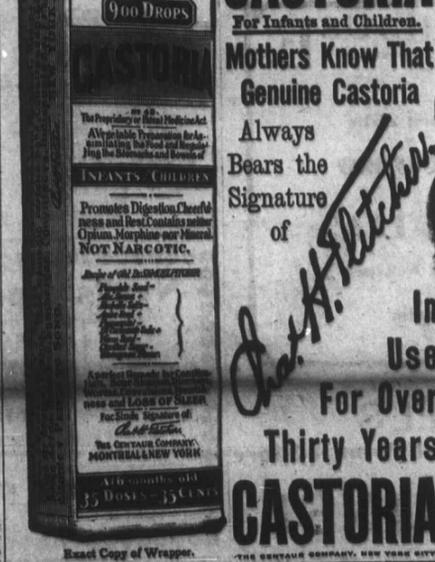

Here is a letter from an aged gentleman who consulted Dr. Chase, long before his Receipt Book attained a world-wide circulation. It is a family medicine, known to the end of the earth. Like most people of advanced years, the kidneys were the first to break down, and when doctors failed to help him he remembered the physician who cured him of pleurisy in his younger days. Mr. O. D. Barnes, R.F.D. 1, Byron, Mich., writes: "About fifty years ago, when living in Ann Arbor, Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author, was called on to treat me for pleurisy. Ever since that I have used and recommended Dr. Chase's Medicines, and have two of his Receipt Books in the house. "Some time ago a cold settled in the kidneys, causing backache, frequent urination, dizziness, and affected the stomach. My appetite failed and I could not sleep at night. Two doctors failed to do me any lasting good, so I started using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. The results have been highly satisfactory to me. Appetite improved, I gained in weight, sleep and rest well, and feel strong and well. My kidneys resumed their natural functions, and I believe that my cure was due to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. I am 78 years old, superannuated work on my farm, and can turn in and do some work myself." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One all a dose, 25 cents a box. McKENNA BLOCK.

My Creed.

I would be true, for there are those who trust me. I would be pure, for there are those who cast. I would be strong, for there is much to suffer. I would be brave, for there is much to dare. I would be kind to all—the foe, the friendless. I would be giving, and forget the gift. I would be humble, for I know my weakness. I would look up—and laugh and love—and die.

Bad World for Women.

BY ELBERT HUBBARD.
"It is a hard world for girls," said Martin Luther, when he stood by the open grave of his grown up daughter. And the reason that Martin Luther knew it was a "hard" world for girls was because he loved Katharina Van Bore, and through his sympathy with and for her, he experienced a few of the deflected kicks and cuts endured by the girls of his time. In Martin Luther's day women did not really live in this world, because even then this world was owned by men, and to the not very refined spirit of the man, the woman is a nuisance, all the livestock there was on it.

This included women and children. The 13th century was the age of discovery. Columbus had located new worlds. His fleet of ships was made possible to him by Queen Isabella, yet the new world, too, was for men!

How did men come to own the world? Woman owned as much as man when she was economically independent.

And that was the time when she provided for herself and children the simple food, shelter and clothing they required.

Excuses of all faculties gives freedom. Work is the only way to freedom.

Even after business began, women had mental and physical exertion. Before the days of merchandising, barter which involved the labor of fetching one product and exchanging it for another, was woman's work. When the raising of crops came as a reward for the expenditure of muscular energy, it, too, was woman's work.

Manufactures carried from the home and made in factories took away woman's economic independence, which she had in her own house.

All inventions, whether relieving woman from some of the drudgery of labor, took away more and more her independence in providing for herself, food, shelter and clothing.

As time became more and more dependent, formerly the natural demand for food and shelter she had supplied for herself. But later she was left to buy her food for these.

Then her asking assumed the aspect of cajoling or begging.

Young women cajole; old women beg.

As the real world receded from her, she had to dream for herself.

As the women guessed at life. They were foolish in their guesses, for they did not have facts to reason with, and facts give vigor.

We play with myths, but work with facts.

Sometimes, when opportunity came, she was willing to pay the price for independence, as did Sarah Bernhardt and George Ripley.

Gutzon Borglum has carved in stone an 'Atlas.' This Atlas is a woman.

She carries the world on her shoulders. Without her, the world would go crashing back over in Europe, where a man's war is in progress.

Woman thinking, woman is fitting herself to work in and become a part of this world as it is today. She is doing world work, this world's work, and she finds herself a part of it.

She will be improved by it. She will drop her illusions as a worn out, outgrown garment. Man is finding that her wisdom and will are far preferable to her ignorance and ignorance.

Woman is partaking of the better qualities of man. Each is losing that which each can't live without. Rich will be the gainer.

And when this transformation has taken place, this will be a world owned by human beings, operated by human beings for human beings.

The Black Watch.

The title Black Watch is an official one; you will find it in the Army List as the modern design on one of the old 42nd and 73rd Foot Royal Highlanders.

The name arose from the fact that these battalions were specially set to watch the wild men of the Highlands of Scotland in the days when the Highlanders had a playful habit of making raids on the Lowlanders.

That was their particular watch. The word "Black" came from the dark tartan of which their kilts were and still are—made.

OH, SUCH A HEADACHE!

Nearly everyone has experienced a headache at times. Disordered stomach, indigestion, or a cold may be the cause. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the only remedy that will relieve the pain and restore the system to normal. It is sold by all druggists and by mail from Chamberlain Medicine Co., Toronto.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

Keep the Tongue.

Keep it from unkindness. Words are sometimes wounds. Not very deep wounds always, and yet they hurt. Speech is unkind sometimes, when there is no unkindness in the heart; so much the worse that unintentionally pain is caused.

The Fly Nuisance.

The common house fly, notwithstanding the campaigns of destruction which have been waged against it, is still one of the most dangerous pests with which civilization is afflicted. Due entirely to conditions which have been created and maintained by the people themselves, the house fly continues to exist and to multiply.

Persistent effort is the only insurance against the house fly. Its rapid propagation renders any intermittent campaign unavailing. The fly must be exterminated in its breeding place, which is that of stable manure or filth. It requires a period of about ten days for a fly to hatch and become fully grown. From their breeding places they scatter to food supplies, into homes, dairies and shops, carrying with them typhoid, dysentery and other disease germs.

It is not too early to take precautions against the annual attacks of the house fly pest. With the melting snow and ice, manure piles should be kept in a closed bin or other receptacle, impervious to flies. Yards should be cleaned up and kept free from wet and rotting matter which harbors flies. Garbage cans should be cleaned out thoroughly, and disinfected.

Carefully protect all food and drink from flies by wire or other screens. All doors and windows of homes should be screened, and, if flies get inside, they should be at once killed. Fly swatters are cheap and handy. Sticky fly paper and fly poisons are effective means of destruction. For main solutions are easy to prepare and may be used with success. Two methods of use are as follows: Mix two tablespoonfuls of formaldehyde (formalin) with one pint of a mixture of milk and water. Pour into a shallow dish with a piece of bread in the center for the flies to light on. This may be placed at the back doors of residences, or in or about dairies and barns, or where flies gather.

Or a soap plate may be filled with damp sand. Cover with a disk of blotting paper and sprinkle over it a mixture of one part of formalin to 20 parts of water.

The fly should be aimed at it, however, the destruction of the house fly, and any means to accomplish this will be justified.

CONSUMPTION TAKES HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE

Hundreds of people succumb to consumption every day. Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from cold or sickness, overwork, continuing duties or when general weakness exists.

The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood, particularly strengthens the lungs and throat, while it rebuilds the restorative forces of the body to resist consumption.

If you work indoors, the early, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

Might Apply to Others.

I often wonder whether the people of Montreal realize the significance of watching our soldier boys marching through the streets of Montreal on their way to fight the Germans. Do they stop to consider how many of our boys are being killed?

Reading this article deep in the sand dunes of Belgium, or even more likely in the low lying banks of the Rhine?

Montreal has sent several regiments to fight for our country. Certainly many people turn out to see them, but the lukewarm send off some of these regiments—send a cold shiver down my back.

I was thinking opposite Godwin when the 5th Royal Ht. landed—marched from their armory to the station. On my way, I should give them a cheer. "Hip, Hip, Hurrah," and I finished my hip, hip, hooray alone. I could hear a couple of girls giggling behind me.

When I came on, boys, I should give them a cheer. "Well, if I had a gun, I would shoot you in the back of the crowd, with a funny little lump in my throat. And as I took a St. Catharines street car for the western part of the city, I said to myself, 'Well, if I had a gun, I would shoot you in the back of the crowd, with a funny little lump in my throat.
