Wedding Reception

On Friday, the 18th. inst. there was a very happy gathering at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Edw. J. Wood, in honor of the newly-weds Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Smith. The guests were chiefly members of the two families "implicated" so fortunately.

It is seldom that one sees in this life (at least in Southern Alberta) a more beautiful or a more appetizing spread than that to which the guests were seated on the above occasion. Cut flowers from the greenhouse of our local florist, Mr. Kirk, were a great factor in the table decorations. The usual well known ability of Mrs. Wood to provide a most sumptuous repast was fairly exhibited at this reception for the bride and groom.

Of course the youngsters of the neighborhood were deeply interested and added a sonorous serenade to the festivities, which was not in the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Smith, Mr. Ricks Smith, Miss Rubie Parrish, and others assisted with vocal solos to entertain the guests.

Relatives from outside points were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wood, from Taber, Mrs. Harold Wood from Magrath, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wood from Glenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ricks Smith from Hill Spring, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Smith, from Mt. View, together with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith. Guests from the town were: Mr. and Mrs. Jno. E. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Low, Mr. and Mrs. S. Williams, Mrs. A. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. S. Low, Bp. C. W. Burt and wife, Miss Lula Nielson, Miss Jane Smith, Miss Louie Lee, Miss Mary Glenn, and Miss Undine McCune.

The good wishes of the people of Cardston and vicinity will go out to this young couple from many kindly hearts who hope to see them enjoy all that life holds of work and joy and the peace that comes from duty well done.

We are glad to see Mrs. Louie Wynder home again. She has spent the winter in Utah and Idaho.

The United Farm Women met for their regular meeting in the basement of the Tabernacle, Saturday at 3 p. m. The feature of the meeting was the lecture by Mrs. Emily Olsen on "Beautifying Our Homes" and "Tree and Flower Planting." Mrs. Talitha Carlson reported the success of the women's part in the dance given by the U. F. A. since the last meeting, and thanked all the members who had so generously helped with the refreshments. Two new members were enrolled and the meeting adjourned for one month.

A Correction

A mistake occurred in the last issue of THE GLOBE wherein it was reported that the Civic Club were the instigators in the moving of Mr. Jensen's house. The parties due most credit in this movement was Mr. Jas. Leadbetter who saw that the basement was dug and the house blocked up and moved. D. Rollins and Jesse Woolf who worked with him and had charge of the teams. The remainder of the work will be done by Mr. Oland and his fellow workmen. Dug and his men are as good at finishing a job as Jim is at starting it and soon our friend "Happy" will be settled in his new home in a new place. We regret we are unable to publish the names of all those who assisted in the above work, and although the complete list was promised, it is not yet forthcoming.

The Naughty Bride

At the Gym Theatre, on Thursday, April 7th.

The event of the season is now at hand. Oliver J. Eckhardt and his own comedy company is coming to the Gym Theatre on Thursday evening, April 7. The entire production will arrive over the Canadian Pacific at 7:50 p. m., and will proceed at once to the Gym Theatre. The performance will begin immediately, about 8:10, so secure your reserved seat in advance at M. A. Coombs' store.

Sets on sale Monday, April 4. This is the original Oliver J. Eckhardt and Letta Carlyle and the play to be presented is the three act hilarious comedy-farce "The Naughty Bride" and it is a scream of laughter from start to finish. Mr. Eckhardt has the best part he has ever appeared in, and from the rise of the curtain on the first act to the final curtain on act three Mr. Eckhardt holds the stage and the admiration of his audience.

As "Jimmy" he has a clean-cut comedy part. Letta Carlyle as the "Naughty Bride" looks handsome, wears her beautiful gowns to perfection and acts the part to a graceful finish. Miss Carlyle is considered one of the handsomest girls in the profession. As "Milly" the neglected wife of the comedy, we are presented to Gertrude Walsh, a very handsome young lady and a clever ingenue. Lulu Nethaway as "Tanner" the housekeeper is a comedienne of the first magnitude. Len Townson, the famous baritone singer must be heard to be appreciated. The part of "Thad" as put over by Mr. Townson is a fine role. As "George Harper" the friend, James Jourdain ably sustains the part. There are several high-class vaudeville acts and musical numbers intermingled into the comedy. Mr. Dan F. Rowe, the veteran publicity promoter, who was in Cardston this week in advance of "The Naughty Bride" remarked to Mr. Gerald Brown, that in all his long career as a theatrical manager and comedian, that he has never been associated with a better company of ladies and gentlemen than that of Mr. Eckhardt's, and they are all real performers, too.

At The Hospital

There were five new babies at the Hospital last week. All doing nicely. This includes: Mrs. R. Rollins, a son; Mr. R. Sheen Taylorville, a son; and Mrs. Stead, Hill Spring, a daughter.

Miss Sage wishes to thank Mrs. Heber Matkin for the use of her sewing machine, and Mr. Arthur Sherwood for bringing to the Hospital the Victorrola, which the patients enjoyed.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carlson, on Sunday, a daughter.

Claude Ferguson, who has been away for some time in B. C. and California, returned this week to Cardston. He is looking exceedingly well.

Mrs. Mary Leadbetter and Mrs. Rhoda May returned last week from attendance at the Institute Convention held at Taber. They report a very profitable and pleasant trip.

Miss Flora Anderson was hostess last Wednesday evening in entertaining the young girls' Sewing Class. After their labors with needle and thread had exhausted their surplus energy a delightful lunch was served and all agreed that a sewing circle was very much to be desired.

Last week's snow will be of incalculable value to the farmers of this district, as the frost is all out of the ground and all the moisture will be conserved for the crops. Mr. Earl Carlson, who was in town this week, reports that before the last snow the early weeds were all coming up. This is unusual for so early in the season and if the farmers give the land a thorough cultivation before seeding, will guarantee good clean crops. Let our slogan be this year "better cultivation and less weeds" which will mean more money in the fall.

Weekly Half Holiday Commences May 4th.

The weekly half-holiday in Cardston will commence Wednesday, May 4th, and will continue until the end of August. All stores will be closed that afternoon. Farmers and ranchers from outside points would do well to take note of this and thus save much inconvenience.

Raymond Agricultural School Concludes Successful Term

While the Cardston district has not been so well represented at the Knight Academy or the Agricultural school as we could wish owing to adverse season, yet there have been some few who have made it possible to attend.

By special arrangements through Bp. Leavitt of Glenwood Pres. Wood was able to attend the closing exercises on the 24th and 25th, and returned by auto on Friday afternoon. Thus opportunity was afforded for a portion of time at the Knight Academy, where the classes were visited during the forenoon session and the general gathering attended during the afternoon. Some excellent music was rendered by Prof. Mitchell and his students, and addresses were given by Principal Palmer and Pres. Edw. J. Wood.

The Agricultural School held its closing exercises in the evening, and the large gathering, which more than filled the building provided, listened first to the report of the Principal, S. J. Longman, B. A. concerning the season's activities for this the initial course at the new institution. Mrs. Maybell Palmer rendered a reading very ably and then Pres. H. S. Allen made in his usual forceful and business like way, and introductory address concerning the new school.

"The Boys and Girls of the new College" the theme of Pres. Edw. J. Wood followed, and then the address to the graduates made by Supt. J. E. Hodgson, now in charge of the Lethbridge schools but formerly Chief Inspector for Alberta, was listened to with great attention. Special musical numbers were rendered by Mr. Rulon and Miss Josephine Leavitt of Glenwood, and a fine violin duet, accompanied by the piano, was a most pleasing feature.

The first graduating class, though a small one, includes the name of one of our Cardston boys of whom we are all proud—Mr. Glenn Neilson, son of Mr. Jas. E. Neilson.

After the program a "cafeteria lunch" was served with Miss Beth Harker as one of the leading young ladies in charge. The School Faculty were the hosts on this occasion. After being thus fortified for the strenuous exercise, those wishing to do so enjoyed dancing for some time.

Certainly the Agricultural School at Raymond is off to a fine start and next year there will be a large number of the young people from this district in attendance. Raymond is to be congratulated for its great school advantages.

Working Up The Music

It is designed to help out all our Ward Choristers in the surrounding settlements by giving a special class to them once a month from 11 a. m. to 12 o'clock on the last Saturday in each month. A beginning was made on the 26th by Stake Chorister A. T. Henson and although only a few wards were represented yet those here evinced great interest in the study of the Organ which was taken up and explained in all its essential features.

In April we hope to see all wards sending in their organists and choristers to receive this instruction. It will be a great factor in helping all to improve in this most essential part of the Ward activities.

Notice to the Citizens of Cardston

THE CARDSTON GLOBE is installing considerable new equipment which will place this paper in the foremost ranks of Canadian weeklies—probably the best weekly publication in a town of like size in the Dominion. To maintain this standard, monetary outlay must be offset by monetary income. While the subscription price does not cover the expense of news service and print paper—yet it is, if realized on, a tangible help—therefore: THE GLOBE's management realizes the continuance of a high standard of service to subscribers depends to a great extent on THE GLOBE's subscription list being a paid up list—therefore, logically towards the end that this newspaper continue to serve its patrons at the present standard of excellence, sample copy readers must become paid up subscribers and in following the argument to a conclusion the management feels justification in cutting off all sample copies and urging all to become paid-up subscribers that the efforts of THE GLOBE and its patrons in behalf of the interests of the town and district may go forward on a fifty-fifty basis by which neither will feel the qualms of evaded responsibility.

Commencing with the issue of THE CARDSTON GLOBE of April 7th, 1921, all sample copies will be struck from our lists. Those wishing to become paid subscribers may do so by payment of regular subscription rate of $2.00 per year.

Local Amateurs Excel In "Maggie Pepper"

"Maggie Pepper" presented recently at the Auditorium by local amateurs, gave genuine pleasure to a good audience who showed their appreciation from time to time by hearty applause. Carried through with a rattling swing from curtain to curtain, those present experienced a dramatic treat of a high order.

Mrs. Eunice Ferguson as "Maggie Pepper" soon won for herself great popularity. She was very charming and graceful and her acting was wholly pleasing and delightful. She took her part with vivacity and energy. Wm. Duoe, Jr., as "Joe Holbrook" took his part with ease and dash. Fully suited to it in every way, he quite fulfilled any preconceived idea one might have of this character. Miss Jane Smith as "Mrs. Thatcher" was very fine indeed and her acting all through was very notable. W. A. Keith, who took the part of "John Hergen" was another one of the company who help earned the well-deserved applause. Miss Rubie Parrish who took the part of "Ada Dinkin", did this with a grace and perfection that is seldom attained in such an exacting role. She is a graceful actress with more than the usual dramatic ability. One of the most able supporters was Helen Walker with her fine natural talent. She took a difficult role very well and was exceptionally good. Chas. Cheesman as "Jim Darkin" is another of the company deserving of great praise. He worked well and with vigor. B. Knowlton as "Jake Rothchilds" was a real comedian. He carried his part through with great style, and was a source of laughter whenever he appeared. E. Layton and Eisel Caldwell brought their winsomeness and charm in their parts very daintily, and was all that could be desired. Irvin Olsen was able to show some real fine humor as "Murchison", as also did Mary Laidlaw as the "cook". The remainder of the company in the minor roles—Mary Glenn, Gladys Cook, Grace Coombs, Roseltha Woolf, Rose May, D. Thorpe and G. Cahoon—supported the principals well. Taken altogether the company was excellent, and the play was presented in a very desirable fashion. The scenery was very tasteful and well in accord with the general atmosphere. The costumes were very neat and in keeping with the play.

The new augmented Caboon Orchestra provided the music for the intervals, and this was much enjoyed.

The performance was both a dramatic and a financial success, and the audience pronounced it one of the finest offerings ever given in the town. The offering disclosed a lot of new local talent and the Mutuals are to be congratulated on the way in which the play was presented. It is to be hoped that another presentation may be had in the near future by this same company, as their offerings are out of the ordinary, and a real treat to those who love the best in the dramatic art.

We understand that the order will soon be shipped in for the Temple Grounds and the block surrounding, so that action toward the end of planting trees should be taken at once if any desire to save money by ordering together. As cited in our columns previously every citizen should take advantage of this opportunity to plant more trees, and the "Globe" has hoped that the town would be canvassed for this purpose. So far as we are able to learn, Mr. Parrish has received orders from only those located on the two blocks north of the Temple. Why not get busy.

FOR RENT—Three rooms on Main St. Water and Light, Apply P. G. Peterson, Box 47, Cardston.

Mr. and Mrs. Alma Jensen have returned to Cardston from Weiser, Idaho. We understand they will live here forever and forever.

Tabernacle Services

As is usual when the Stake Orchestra appears there was a large audience at the Tabernacle on Sunday evening, the 20th. inst., and all seemed well pleased with the service.

Dr. J. M. Tanner addressed the gathering upon the "Ideal Life" and he was in a very happy vein so that his remarks were of nature to encourage and yet prepare us for the sterner duties of life.

The orchestra never played better and there were some twenty-nine instruments on the rostrum to answer to the call of the leader's baton. The selections played were entitled "Golden Moments' Jubilante Deo" and "Golden Sceptre." If the additions continue to the members in the orchestra it will be necessary to enlarge the seating space for their accommodation.

Cardston is proud of this aggregation of young musicians and we trust that their efforts will continue until they become famed throughout the Province.

The indefatigable conductor Mr. A. T. Henson is certainly to be congratulated on this last performance of the orchestra, as it shows the results of the hard work done in the past. The best part of it is that every young musician seems to be thoroughly in love with his or her part of the work. Success always.

Miss Mason, a graduate nurse of Edmonton, arrived in Cardston last Tuesday, and is now nursing at the local hospital. This young nurse comes here thru the recommendation of the Provincial Board of Health. The Hospital Board should be congratulated on their securing for us such an efficient staff. This makes three graduate nurses—Miss Sage the Matron, and Miss Harrison along with the addition of Miss Mason, makes as competent a staff as we could wish for. We hope the people of this district will use every effort possible to make it pleasant for these ladies, both socially and at the Hospital, so they will stay with us a long time, and enjoy their work here.

Clean Up!

Elsewhere in this issue is a notice from the committee of the Town Council as to the matter of disposing of the town garbage. There is a proper place for it, and let every citizen see that it is placed where it belongs.

The action of the committee in clearing up the refuse along the Reservation line on the north of the Town limits, is certainly praiseworthy. No person who has ever entered Cardston by car or other conveyance from the north has failed to note the very bad impression given by this first glimpse of our fair city in times past. THE GLOBE extends to all concerned the heartiest kind of a vote of thanks for such timely action. If we are to have a "town beautiful" we must keep cleanliness and tidiness ever uppermost in our minds and then see that we carry our thoughts into action. Right now before we can get on the land is a splendid time to do it. We hope the Civic Club as well as the Town Officials will start the "clean-up" slogan immediately.

Tourist traffic will begin as soon as the roads get dry. Cardston is destined to be a "Tourist Town". If six thousand came last year, ten or twelve thousand will likely see Cardston in 1921. We all want them to see "A Town Beautiful".
