Cordello Herrick, chaplain of the prison, who stated that Hill's crime was the murder of his cousin, Chloe Hancock, 18 years old, near Cuba, Allegheny County, on March 18, 1908. Hill killed the girl with a re-volver while he was drunk. A brother of the girl saw the crime committed. Hill was sentenced to die during the week of July 28 last, but an appeal act-ed as a stay. Hill was the last of his family. He had borne a good reputa-tion prior to the murder, and the family of the victim forgave him his crime.

To-night's adjourned meeting of the sestry of All Saints' Church will be of much importance. At the regular meet ing on Easter Monday night the sub-ject of church extension was discussed, and since that time the rector and churchwardens and the committee apand since that time the rector and churchwardens and the committee ap-pointed then to report upon the pur-chase of land and upon ways and means have been busy. The report will be sub-mitted to-night. The proposition is to build a transcept so as to add seating accommodation for between 250 and 300. The committee has its plans so well ma-tured that the scheme will likely be ad-opted to-night and an early start made. As a natural result of the enlarge-ment would come re-seating and re-decoration of the interior of the church, making i one of the most modern in the city. Under Ven, Archdeacon Forneret's. long pastorate All Saints' has had great prosperity, and has done a large amount of mission work, and the extension of its own accommodation has become a ne-cessity.

MR. KNOWLES' ENGAGEMENT. W. G. Knowles' engagement at the Grand to-morrow, Wednesday and Thurs-day evenings in his humorous lecture will undoubtedly prove most educative aud interesting. Mr. Knowless will in-troduce his new style of entertainment, which he calls. "Rambles in Foreign Lands." The titles of his subjects are "Living in London and Beautiful Rural England," "Ireland as It Is," "Auld Scot-land to New Zealand, via Ceylon and Australia," "Fisher Folk of France, Flan-ders and Holland," "Old Worlds Through New Eyes," New York-Things You Have Not Scen," and "Happy Go-Lacky Tours-Here, There and Everywhere." The Kneisel String Quartette concert in Association Hall to-night will give Hamilton people a chance to hear the most perfect organization of their kind in the world to-day. A higher form of musical cutertainment than the string quartette does not exist, and a more faultless presentment of that kind of en-tertainment. than Franz Kneisel and his associates give is not to be found. It would be impossible to conceive greater perfection in the matter of ensemble, precision, delicacy and all that is requi-site for the proper interpretation of quartette music. The quartette come to Hamilton direct from Chicago, where they are always welcomed by crowded houses of the best musical people, as is the case in all the large musical centres. A programme of more than usual inter-est has been provided, and anyone who loves the grandest music played in the most perfect manner possible, should take this opportunity, as it is seldom that such an organization as this visits Hamilton. Owing to the expense at-tached to the concert, the one price will be maintained throughout, and all at-tending are requested to be in their seats by 8.15 p. m., as no one will be allowed to take their seats during the performance of any number.
