NEWS ABOUT HOME.

Do you want a stove? Or any goods in my line. If so call and save money. G. N. Davis.
All overdue accounts must be settled at once.
W. S. Hart & Co. have a large quantity of cotton and linen bags on sale for farmers' use, cheaper than they can be procured elsewhere in town.

There is nothing so gratifying to the eye as a life-like photograph. Such an one will at once bring up in the mind of the person who glances upon it the happiest remembrances connected with the original. Sallova, the photographer, deals only in first-class photos.

Rev. J. Wakefield is absent at Conference.

Miss Maggie Wilkinson, is visiting in Toronto.

Mrs. W. Welsh is visiting friends in Brantford.

Mr. Booth returned on Saturday, from his holiday trip.

Miss Trueman has returned home from her vacation.

Miss Marian Gooding, returned from London on Monday.

Bengough, the caricaturist, pronounces his name Bengoff.

Miss Burns of Bay City is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Doyle.

Mrs. Gordon, of Saginaw is visiting her sister Mrs. D. A. Frazer.

Mrs. Elms, Nelson St., has been visiting friends at Wallacuburg.

Mrs. Alex. Wilson, of London, spent a week in Goderich with relatives.

Mrs. Robert Hunt, of Kippen, was visiting relatives in town, last week.

Mrs. Capt. Rhyms and the Misses Ferguson, left for Detroit on Friday last.

Mayor Horton arrived home from a month's trip to the North-west on Friday last.

Miss Stewart, the well-known milliner, is making fall and winter purchases in Toronto.

Miss Minnie Hamilton is teaching in St. David's ward school, in place of Miss MacMahon.

An insane man named Joseph Wall, of Ashfield, was committed to gaol on Monday last.

Mrs. Hayhurst and family, of Palmerston, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Platt.

About 78 persons went from here on Tuesday to the London and Port Stanley excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. Tow of Washington, Ont., were the guests of Mr. Samuel Platt this week.

Mr. W. Park Grierison has returned from Portage la Prairie, where he purchased property.

Charles Finlay Ross left for the Central Prison on Tuesday last to put in his term for burglary.

Miss MacMahon will not resume her duties as teacher in St. David's ward school this season. It is much to be regretted, she being an efficient and painstaking teacher.

The bankrupt stock of Wm. Campbell was sold on Thursday, and realized 61c on the $1. The purchaser is T. E.
Hay of Listowel, who will remove the stock to that town.

Our old friend, Capt. Cox, has been lately protesting of late against the infraction of the town by-laws, whereby the Court House Square runs a risk of being converted into a goose pasture.

Dungannon fall show will be held in that village under the auspices of the Ashfield Branch Agricultural Society on Wednesday, Oct. 4th. The posters are out, and a good list of prizes is advertised.

Mr. Jas. McNair, stockman, has been appointed Judge of Ayrshire cattle at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, and his services have also been secured as a judge of grain for the Western Fair at London.

Mr. Ben. Armstrong has been rather "under the weather" of late, and has not been able to give full attention to his pupils. He is improving, however, and intends taking a vacation for rest and health.

I.O.O.F. GRAND LODGE.—From the report of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows of Ontario we find that E. F. Lawrence, of Goderich, has been appointed D. D. M. for Clinton Lodge.

Rev. G. A. Francis, returned to his home in Aylmer after spending a week very pleasantly in and about Goderich.
He preached in Knox Church, on Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Parks occupied that pulpit in the evening.

WEST HURON FALL SHOW.—The fall show, under the auspices of the West Huron Agricultural Society, will be held in Goderich, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 19th and 20th Sept. Intending exhibitors are getting their goods in order.

The apple-dealers are now on the road and anticipate a lively trade this season. The competition is so brisk that Geo. Old has purchased an additional horse to rush business. He says he is bound to get his share of what's going, or know the reason why.

Mrs. W. F. Gooding arrived at Brandon safely with her charge, whom she delivered to their father, and then returned to the city of Winnipeg, where Mr. Gooding is at present. Her son, Albert, met her at Winnipeg, and accompanied her to and from Brandon.

In the list of invited guests to the marriage of Mr. F. E. Macdonald, and Miss S. A. Cook, daughter of H. H. Cook, M.P., we observe the names of Rev.
Dr. Uro and Mrs. Uro; M. C. Cameron M.P., Mrs. Cameron and the Misses Cameron.

PHOTOGRAPH OF THE COURT HOUSE.— We tender our thanks to Mr. George Robson, manager of E. L. Johnson's gallery, for a handsome photograph of the Court House. The picture is clear, well printed one, and does credit to the camera owned by Mr. Johnson. Copies framed can be had at the gallery at a very cheap figure.

AN EVENING WITH THE FAIRIES.—On Monday evening next the opera of "Laila" will be performed in Crabb's Hall by a number of local amateurs, under the auspices of St. George's church.
The piece is one that will doubtless prove attractive, and the ladies of St.
George's generally do well what they attempt. Young and old will likely turn out in large numbers on Monday next.

The Caledonian games at Brussels, on Thursday Sept. 14th, promise to be seen and only to those of Lucknow.
Great preparations have been made for the holding of the athletic games. 5000 in prizes will be distributed to professional and amateur athletes, and the lowest excursion rates have been secured at a distance may attend. Dinna forget the games at Lucknow and Brussels.

ROMAN CATHOLIC PICNIC.—The picnic in connection with the Blyth R. C.
Church will be held in Blyth on Tuesday, the 19th inst. A good band has been secured for the occasion, and a contest for a silver cake-basket, between two ladies of the section will be among the events of the day. A string band will also be in attendance. A pleasant time is anticipated, and a good turnout is expected. Admission to grounds and dinner 35cts. All are invited.

NORTH STREET METHODIST S. S.—During the past few weeks North-st. Methodist Sunday School has lost two very efficient officers in Mr. E. F. Moore, superintendent, and Miss K. Jamison, primary superintendent. Mr. John Mann, the active secretary of the school is about to leave for St. Paul. On Tuesday last the following persons were selected to fill the vacant positions: W. R.
Robertson, superintendent; Miss Susie Acheson, primary superintendent; S.
Hicks, secretary.

Messrs. Parsons and Loos, auditors of the Great Western Railway, were in town last week, closing up all the town agencies connected with that road—one of the results of the amalgamation. Mr. G.
Johnston, Goderich, and W. Jackson, Clinton, accordingly handed over all the tickets in their possession, and their offices are discontinued. It is anticipated that all town agencies connected with the Grand Trunk will be likewise discontinued, but orders to that effect have not yet been issued. [New Era currenty

One year ago Sept. 5th, the celebrated dark day occurred in which some persons thought the end of all things had come, and prepared themselves accordingly. Old Earth is still carrying her fringed treasure, and another year has been added to its existence since that memorable day.

Wednesday next will see in Lucknow the great Northern Games. Donald Dinnie, D. C. Ross, Archie Scott, E. W.
Johnston and other well-known athletes will take part in "pedlers" of Huron, under Chief Clarke, who have a tug of war with the constabulary of Bruce on that day on the Caledonian grounds.
The day promises to cap all its predecessors.

Rev. Fred. Sanderson, well known to many of our readers as a gifted young minister of the Methodist church, has, unfortunately, disgraced himself while stationed at Jerseyville, near Brantford, by an undue familiarity with some of his congregation, notwithstanding the fact that he is a married man. Sooner than have a public repetition of the Brampton case, he has resigned his charge and sad-denly departed to the States.

HARVEST HOME.—We understand that the Harvest Home under the auspices of the M. E. Church will be held in the building formerly occupied by Mr. Wm.
Arthur, near the show ground, on Wednesday, Sept. 20th. Tables spread with the choice products of the season will invite the appetites of all, and it is expected that the festival board of the ladies of the M. E. Church will be well patronized by the public generally on that day.

Mr. James Trainor, as will be seen from the following clipping from the Chicago Times, has not forgotten his frequent pulls on Goderich's harbor:
"A new boat crew has been organized, consisting of the following members, all of whom are employed in the accounting department: Walter Moore, bow; Edward Burns, No. 2; James Trainor, No. 3; L. H. Wilson, stroke; Willie Atney, coxswain. They are now in training, and expect to participate in the regatta to be held at Pullman this fall."

DROWNED.—A lamentable occurrence happened at Kintail on Sunday last. On that day Mr. John Ransay, a shoemaker well-known in Goderich, who had of late worked for Mr. John Thomson, of Kintail, went in bathing. Shortly after going into the water, it is supposed he was drowned. The body was recovered and sent to his friends in Goderich for interment. The funeral took place on Tuesday last. Deceased was about 63 years of age and had lived in Huron for the past thirty years. He leaves a family of three sons and three daughters.

CLINTON CAMPERS.—A party of Clintonians, consisting of Mr. John Cunningham, Mr. J. C. Stevenson, Miss Mary Callender, Miss Clara Callender, Miss Rose Cunningham, Mrs. Ross and daughter of Manitoba, and Masters Tommy and Curtis Callender, spent a pleasant time under canvas on the lake shore, on Mr. H. Y. Attrill's estate, during the last week or two. The party had comfortable tents, and the weather being fine, they had a snug time of it. A number of Goderich visitors were hospitably entertained by the campers. A young lad named Yale while bathing at the month of the river one day during the stay of the party, helped their boat over the shallows, but was carried out beyond his depth by the current. Mr.
Cunningham sprang from the boat and brought the lad safely to shore. No other accidents occurred during the visit of the party, who voted the "camp" a first-class affair on their return home last week.

The Lake Superior fishing industry is likely to receive a boom. With a length of some 200 miles and a proportionate breadth and depth, it is fully stocked with all the commoner varieties of the finny tribe, such as herring, white fish, trout, pickerel, etc. A new enterprise—the Lake Superior Fish Company—has lately been set in operation on the north shore for the purpose of curing and shipping them in large quantities. The inexhaustible abundance of that supply and the superior quality of the fish found in these waters will from the start ensure a ready market as well as a permanently successful investment. This Company has at present the entire run of the business, and is sending off immense quantities to the States and other markets. Its various distributing points command a fishing area of nearly a thousand square miles, thus giving scope for operations more extensive than that of any similar company in existence.

A WELL-KNOWN MISSIONARY.—Rev.
Sieveright, one of the most successful missionaries in the North-West, of the Presbyterian Church, is at present in the city. The rev. gentleman was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church, at Goderich, having left that charge about two years ago to enter upon his present field of labour in the North-West. Since his removal there he has been very successful in establishing churches. His own place of worship is at Prince Albert. Douglas Peterson, son of Mr. H. W. Peterson, is organist in his church there. Mr. Sieveright is a brother-in-law of Rev. J. C. Smith, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Guelph.
Ever since his removal to the North-West his family have been living in this city. Sunday evening he occupied the pulpit of Chalmers' Church, preaching an able and eloquent sermon on the embodiment of Christ in Scriptural history, prophecy and doctrine. [Guelph Mor-

SUBMARINE WORK.

A Chat with an Amphibious Gentleman.

How the Caledonia was Raised—Diver E.G.
McCullough on the Lost Explorer—The Twelve Auger Holes are a Sure Thing.

On Saturday morning about ten o'clock the schooner Caledonia which was wrecked last winter up at Whiskey Island, about fifteen miles from Saugeen, was towed into Goderich harbor by the wrecking barge Victoria, commanded by Capt. H. N. Jex, of Port Huron.

THE CALEDONIA was laid up last winter, but broke from her moorings owing to the heavy gales from the north west and was driven on the quicksands at Whiskey Island. Capt.
Jex, who makes a profession of raising wrecks, purchased the foundered schooner and started from Port Huron on the 19th of Sept. to raise her, expecting to get through with the job in a few hours, but owing to inaccurate information concerning the vessel and the nature of the bed of quicksand in which she lay, it took eight days to raise her. It was found that two planks had been rubbed off the bottom, and that the oakum had come out of her seams. The diver had to replace the planks and stop the other leaks, before the Caledonia could be raised.

Capt. Jex was assisted by Mr. R. G.
McCullough, the well-known diver of Port Huron. Mr. McCullough was also with Capt. Jex at the floating of THE LOST EXPLORER.

In an interview with Mr. McCullough on his arrival in Goderich, the Explorer became a topic of conversation, and the diver vouched for the truth of the articles that had recently appeared in the Port Huron papers. He said:

"The statements published are as straight as a string. It was no object to us to lie about the matter. I didn't know Waddell or his antecedents, but when I was asked about the matter I was bound to tell the truth. The Explorer, when we got her, was "CLEANED OUT."

There weren't any sails, blocks or tackle to be found on her; there wasn't any bedding; there weren't any clothes; there weren't any utensils; there wasn't a dish or any crockery except one cup in the forehold of the schooner. She was a lonesome looking craft, I tell you.
My own idea is that the two sailors and Waddell cleaned the boat, and then went aboard to finish the business; the two sailors got drunk, and

WADDLE STAYED SOBER.
The diver was down there were portions of putrid flesh, string, just like old cheese, lying about, but the man who dived had seen, had been evidently floating over the side by the surging of the waters. If there was not a job put up on the insurance companies what became of the valuable cargo, and the fringe of the boat? When we got her the cargo consisted of about fifteen tons of "hardheads" (stones) and nothing else. Milling machinery, and blocks and tackle, and sails, and furniture and such things don't get up and walk out of a wrecked schooner. Besides, didn't you see

WHAT CAPT. TAYLOR OF SARINIA PUBLISHED the other day, about meeting Waddell and a boy in the vicinity of the wreck some time after, with a lot of barrels, and some of Taylor's sailors thought it was whiskey that was in the barrels, and "hooked" one of them; but when it was tapped the liquor wouldn't run, and on examination it was discovered that the barrel wasn't full of liquor, but was packed with sails and ropes. Put that and that together, and draw your own inference. It was a mistake for Wad-dell's friends to make the matter a subject of controversy. We were willing to let it rest, but when they began to buldodge us, and make out that we had trumped up a story, we made up our mind to stay with them, and give a bill of particulars.

WERE THERE IN CANADA WATERS? isn't a profitable occupation. The explorer, as a rule are not valuable—the Explorer was loaded with "hardheads," and the Caledonia, here, was filled with sand. During the past five years I have done everything in the shape of diving, from laying water-pipes to pier-building I use a rubber suit, five-ply, and have been down for five hours at a time. It is a little uncomfortable in winter, when you have to work bareheaded. You see the rubber band fits tightly on the wrists, and then there is a broad strap that fits close, and it impedes the circulation.
You have had your foot asleep sometimes; well, the hands feel just like that when the circulation is suspended. We have

ALL KINDS OF WORK to do, such as clearing wrecks from channels where navigation is impeded. I had a job of that kind a short time ago, upon the railway company blowing up the Nile with dynamite.

Don't you forget to drop down and examine the Explorer when she comes into the harbor. You'll find the auger holes under the lumber-boards, eight on the starboard side and four on the port side."

MR. McCULLOUGH is an intelligent looking man, about 5 ft. 10 in. in height, and is of a sandy complexion. He is fluent, though not volu-bitious, and seems to thoroughly understand the business in which he is engaged. He is a resident of Port Huron.

A Street Conversation.
The holidays must be very destructive of the Queen's English, if we are to judge from the following conversation which took place between a couple of our coming members of Parliament on Friday last, the day upon which school re-opened. As the youngsters were about half a block apart, the exchange of words was not conducted in a low key:

"S-a-a-y!"
"Ain't ye goin' to school?"
"No."
"Why?"
"Cause I ain't got no book, ain't got no slate, ain't got no pencil, ain't got no notin'."

Police Court.
Before Mayor Horton. Sept. 5th, 1882.
Thos. Noble was charged by constable Yule with being drunk and disorderly on the streets of Goderich on Sept. 4th.
Defendant acknowledged the offence and was fined $1 and costs, or, in default, 21 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Joseph Robertson was charged with a similar offence on the same day by constable Yule. Defendant pleaded guilty and paid $1 into the town treasury, with costs.

C. J. Criminal Court.
Judge Toms presiding. Sept. 7th.
Joseph Prince, the lad charged with petty larceny, was up this morning for sentence. Sentence stayed, subject to the call of the County Attorney, the boy's father promising to remove to Parry Sound, and becoming responsible for the son's good behavior.

Presentations to Miss Jamieson.
Miss Kate Jamieson, who for many years has been an active member of the North Street Methodist Church, was married on Wednesday last to Rev.
N. McCannan, of Bethany. On Monday evening the members of the choir met at the residence of the leader, Mr.
S. P. Halls, and presented Miss Jamieson with a handsome silver bouquet holder (purchased from Ellis & Co., Toronto), containing an exquisite bou-quet, accompanied by the following address:

DEAR MISS JAMIESON.—We, the members of the North St. Methodist Church choir, Goderich, on this eve of your departure from us to assume other relationships, and with them other duties and responsibilities, take this opportunity of expressing to you our high esteem for you in your own private character as well as in the more public walks of life.
As a member of the choir you have always been to us a valuable aid, and we have admired that zeal, faithfulness to duty, and ardent desire for the efficiency of the "Service of Song" so eminently displayed by you. By your wise counsel, unassuming manner and cheerfulness of disposition, you have won an enviable place in our affections, and we feel that in your removal we are losing not only a warm friend but a faithful and efficient member of our choir. As a token of our high regard for you, be-pleased to accept this silver bouquet stand, with its contents, and as you from time to time fill it with the choicest products of the floral world our desire is that it may be to you a souvenir of the donors, and that the varied hues as well as the rich fragrance of its contents may bring prominently to your mind each of those with whom you have so often associated in singing the praises of the Most High. Be assured that our best wishes shall follow you, and our ardent desire is that in your separation from us to enter upon other spheres of duty, your usefulness may be still more abundant, and that at the last we all may be permitted to swell the "Grand chorus of the skies."

Signed for and on behalf of the choir, S. P. HALLS, Leader,
E. ANDREWS, Organist.

Goderich, Sept. 4th, 1882.
Miss Jamieson made a neat reply.
Refreshments were served, and the evening was spent in a most pleasant manner. On Tuesday Miss Jamieson was made the recipient of a touching address, accompanied by a pretty silver fruit dish, (purchased at Imrie's), by the teachers and officers of the Sunday school. She had been a teacher in that institution for six years, and primary superintendent for three years.
The wedding presents were numerous and handsome, and the happy pair were accompanied to the railway station by a number of friends.

By a recent accident on the Grand Trunk at Highland Creek, nine cattle were thrown off the track and 200 cattle killed. They were owned by Mr.
Wm. Kelly. The loss, $10,000, will fall upon the railway company
