Jerusalem Liberated!

Truly we are living in strange times, strange through their very greatness. Who would have dreamed four years ago that Jerusalem would, in that short interval, pass from the hated dominion of the Turk? Still less that the accomplished fact would be quietly announced to a world almost indifferent to it, as a mere interesting episode in the midst of greater things, in the manner of the most ordinary military bulletin? The city was encircled and cut off from communication with Jericho. "Welsh and Home Counties troops" advanced upon it from Bethlehem. Could anything be less romantic, more matter of fact? There were no portents in the sky that we hear of, no flaming comet or dark eclipse. Yet the superstitious need not be altogether discouraged. It is exactly four hundred years since the Mohammedan rule was established in the holy city, for in 1517 Sultan Selim I. wrested it from the power of Egypt and set up the crescent where it has floated since. We leave it to those who are interested in these things to discover, if they can, a coincidence of month and day as well. It is enough for most people that the goal to which millions of Christians and Jews have set their hearts' longings has been reached at last. It is foolish to imagine that the event is of no military significance. This is not a war of cannon and bayonets alone. It is a war of nations, and all that has a place in the life and thoughts of nations is a factor. If we were in Constantinople to-day we might have a juster idea of the value of the British victory. The world will grasp slowly the deep meaning of it. Then, perhaps, some modern Tasso will arise, who will find in the history of the past months, in the truth itself, material for an epic as great as that which the old Italian built out of poetic fancy alone. "Jerusalem Liberated!" ought not all our church bells to ring to-day?

Hope From Russia.

It is a strange state of affairs in which we must welcome news of the outbreak of civil war among our Allies as the best that could come from that quarter, yet so it is. It is clear from the almost "panicky" proclamation of the Bolshevik that that is happening in Russia which alone can deliver her from the chaos and anarchy that is working her ruin and shame. Kaledines and Korniloff have at last joined forces. Their open declaration of war upon the Leninists comes, without doubt, as the climax of long and quiet preparation, during which we can suppose that the open pro-German conduct of the so-called Government has driven thousands of the sensitive Russian population to open or tacit allegiance with the Cossack leaders. What we must hope for is initial success in the field for Kaledines, which would have the effect of sending many wavering flocking to his standard. If the bulk of the nation is with him, the peasants and middle class, as we have reason to believe it is, he should be assured of success; for the Bolsheviks and workmen themselves constitute only a small part of the people, and such hold as they have gained upon the army is not, probably, very tenacious. There is one effect of this development for which we must be prepared. Germany, seeing the danger of a Russian restoration in the field, will realize more than ever the necessity of striking at once where she can. She will be free to withdraw numerous troops for a long time yet from Russia, for the Russians will be too much occupied with themselves, and are in any case in no condition, to resume an offensive against Germany. Therefore we must look for still more tremendous efforts on the enemy's part in the near future. The prospect behind is really brightening, if we can but see it clearly. If Germany next spring has to face, not alone a new and terrible foe when America takes her place in the line, but an old one returned or returning to the fray, her fate will be sounded and her days numbered.

Dangerous Character

Caught Smoking in Hay Barn. 'Joey' Gibbs, who probably holds the local record for the high number of criminal convictions against him, was "put away" to-day at the Penitentiary for the next six months. Gibbs has a hobby for terrorizing females and complaints reached the authorities recently that he had been carrying on this game almost uninterruptedly in different parts of the city for months past. The police had word that he used to frequent a barn on Pleasant Street at night time to sleep. Shortly after last midnight three police officers found Gibbs in the hay loft smoking cigarettes and with a lighted lantern. If a spark dropped, igniting the hay, it is hard to say what the result would have been with such a gale raging as last night's. Gibbs was taken into custody and to-day Judge Morris determined to rid the city of such a dangerous character and sent him to jail for six months. In February last 'Joey' was convicted of a like offence and sentenced for a similar period.

Prompt Action of Dorcas Society.

Splendid promptness was shown yesterday by the Dorcas Society in the matter of collecting and forwarding clothes to the Halifax sufferers. The Society met at 9 a.m. and were able to despatch by the afternoon enough clothes to meet the needs of forty or fifty families. The officers of the society are to be congratulated on the speed and success of their efforts.

Sudden Death of Mrs. L. H. Simmons.

Mrs. Simmons, wife of Mr. L. H. Simmons, the well known merchant of Whitehouse, died suddenly of heart failure at 63 Springdale Street last night. The deceased, who suffered from a slight complaint, only came to town recently and yesterday underwent a slight operation which to all appearance proved successful. But at eleven o'clock she took a sudden change and passed away shortly afterwards. The late Mrs. Simmons was well and favorably known by many in the city, who will learn with deep regret of her death. To the sorrowing relatives the Telegram offers its deep sympathy.

Opening of the Quebec Bridge.

Railway officials in Halifax have been advised that the new Quebec bridge was opened for freight traffic only on December 3rd. This news will be of interest to shippers, as the cutting out of transferring the cars across the St. Lawrence river by ferry will mean a saving of time from 24 to 48 hours.

Train Notes.

Sunday's outgoing express arrived at Port aux Basques at 10.40 p.m. yesterday. To-day's mail and freight leaving Port aux Basques to-day. The incoming express reached the city at 2.30 p.m. to-day.

Terrific Storm at Cape Breton.

The Postmaster General received a message from Mr. A. W. Shano, Government Agent at North Sydney, last evening stating that a terrific storm had raged there the previous night and that up to the hour of wiring no trains had reached there from Halifax for the day. The message also stated that comforts of all kinds were being rushed to the sufferers of the stricken city from North Sydney and the neighboring towns.

Corporal Harry Bishop

Killed in Action, November 1917. Among the many members of our Regiment who laid down their lives for their country in the recent fighting near Cambrai was the late Corporal Harry Bishop. At the outbreak of the war while still a student at Bishop Field College he made every effort to obtain admission to the Regiment, but was rejected chiefly owing to lack of weight. After a year in the United States where he obtained employment on a steamship line for the express purpose of becoming physically fit, he succeeded in passing the military tests and soon won promotion. It was only last spring that he was drafted to England and, after a short interval to France, there to give his life for the cause that he loved so well. Corporal Bishop was the son of Mrs. Bulley, Pass Island, by her first marriage, and the grandson of the late Canon Bishop and the late Geo. J. Rows, Esq. Those whom he has left to mourn his death cannot but feel proud of the young soldier to whom it has been given to die fighting for his country in his 20th year.

How to Give Clothes.

Gifts of good and serviceable clothing of all kinds, men's, women's and children's, will be most valuable and acceptable to the Halifax Relief Committee. The Dorcas Society, W. P. A. and Daughters of Empire are collecting as rapidly as possible, and already a considerable amount has gone forward. We are asked to state that those who wish to give parcels of clothes will assist the work if they will send them to-morrow, Wednesday, at 10.30 a.m. or thereabouts to the Seamen's Institute. They must be sent promptly, otherwise there will be danger of their not being despatched in time.

Farren-Powers Wedding in Dorchester.

Recently in the rectory of St. Matthew's Church, Stanton Street, Miss Anna M. Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Powers of Brookline St., Dorchester, and Joseph H. Farren, son of Mrs. Ellen Farren of Boston, were united in marriage by the pastor Rev. John A. Donnelly. Miss Alice Humphreys, a cousin of the bride, was her attendant, and George A. Farren, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Marguerite Powers was the winsome little flower girl. The bride was gowned in white georgette over white satin and carried bridal roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of French blue satin combined with georgette, and she carried Killarney roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, which was attended by the relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Farren are enjoying their honeymoon in the South, and will be at home to friends after Jan. 1, at 645 Blue Hill Ave., Dorchester. Mr. Farren is well known as secretary of the Young Men's Catholic Association and as registrar of the evening classes, in whose success he has been a great factor.—Boston Globe. The groom was well known in St. John's.
