Why Not Arbitrate?

There is indubitably a strong desire on the part of the public to see the end of the trouble between the Employers Protective Association and the Labor Unions of St. John's interested, properly, amicably and definitely adjusted. The season is advancing, and soon the first cargoes of new fish will be brought in from Labrador and the Northern part of the island. Every such cargo brought in means more labor, and it is a great pity that a settlement of the labor differences that exist at present, cannot be brought about by negotiations between the parties involved. Only four months of the year 1921 are left, and it will mean a poor outlook for the winter if some kind of agreement—even a makeshift would be better than none—is not reached. There surely must be a happy medium to which both sides would agree, and if neither party to the dispute can discover that way out, why not have an impartial arbitration. Not so very long ago when a corporation and its employees were mixed up in labor difficulties, the Government appointed a Board of Arbitrators, who enquired into all the matters of the grievance, took evidence and made a finding, which was accepted. Cannot a similar procedure be followed in the present situation? A deadlock has been created between employers and labor and much correspondence has been exchanged, but so far as we can gather nothing concrete has resulted, and it is evident that either one side or the other is about to present an ultimatum. Should this happen, a deplorable condition of circumstances will be brought into existence, and matters will not be improved or eased thereby.

It is not within the province of the press to dictate in matters that concern individuals only, but it is the duty of the press to direct public attention to imminent danger, and surely danger will ensue unless a fair agreement is reached in the serious question now filling the minds of Employers and Labor Unions alike. Both sides have apparently reached the last word in the conduct of negotiations. Both sides prefer to believe that they have adopted the correct attitude, and neither are inclined to give way. The Labor Unions claim that they cannot maintain their families on the proposed rate of wages offered by the Employers, because the high cost of living has not decreased in anything like the proportion that the submitted scale of pay contains. The Employers on the other hand contend that the cost of living has decreased in certain measure, and that they are justified in reducing wages. They also plead that conditions have become so changed with regard to fish and the marketing thereof that it is impossible for them to enter into any long engagements concerning shipments, the price and terms not warranting large outlays. For this reason and the decision that prevails regarding prospects abroad they find themselves in such a position that they have necessarily to scale down their working staffs and pay sheets to meet immediate contingencies. At the rate of wages demanded by the workers, they find it impossible to carry large labor expenditures. Various other reasons are set forth in the correspondence which we publish, on another page to-day, for the information of the whole body of laborers and the public at large. Notwithstanding the locking of horns on the question at issue, we are of opinion that if both parties would agree to arbitration on this vexed matter, an equitable solution could be reached easily and quickly. We recommend it for consideration.

Travelogue Series.

Beginning with to-morrow (Saturday) the Telegram will commence the publication of a new series of Travelogue articles (local) from the pen of that most interesting of contributors Mr. Isaac Morris. The series will contain about twelve articles and will be captioned "Week End Notes." Those who are constantly on the lookout for something new in journalism are bound to have their literary appetite whetted by careful perusal of this novel feature.

The Ill-Fated X R-2.

AMERICA'S AERIAL BATTLESHIP WHICH EXPLODED IN MIDAIR—A DESCRIPTION OF THE GIANT DIRIGIBLE.

The ill-fated airship ZR-2 was originally the R-38 and was built in England for the United States navy. It completely dwarfed the huge R-34 which crossed the Atlantic in 1919. The ZR-2 had incorporated in it many improvements, the necessity for which had been gleaned from experiments on the R-34. The ship was 694 feet long. The outer framework was built of lattice girders rigidly bolted together. These were made of duralumin, an aluminum alloy, which whilst almost as light as aluminum is nearly as strong as steel. This outer framework was reinforced by thousands of guy-wires. The outside was covered with three-ply canvas and rubber, laced on and doped to render it waterproof. The whole of the vast hull was coated with aluminum paint. There were fourteen gas bags which extended from the nose to the rudder and elevator joints. The two for ward sections were 49 feet in diameter. All were fitted with an elaborate system of valves. The gas bags alone cost $200,000. The ZR-2 had seven cars, six of which were "power eggs" whilst the seventh was used solely to house the controls. The ZR-2 had unique rudders which were made in the shape of fins following the designs of the latest zeppelins. By means of the six 350-horsepower engines a speed of 65 miles per hour could be attained. It had an armament of 14 Lewis guns, and one one-pound automatic. Besides this it carried in its bomb racks, four 520-pounders and eight 230-pounders ready for instant release. Such was the great air ship which on Wednesday was completely destroyed. For much of the above information we are indebted to the Popular Science Monthly for September.

Cadets Defeat C. L. B.

The League football game between the Cadets and the C.L.B. played last evening on St. George's Field was won by the former, the score being 3 goals to 1. The game was a poor one, very little football being seen. Wild shooting and lack of combination were too much in evidence throughout. Galsley and Callahan did the scoring for the Cadets, whilst Sloan obtained the only goal for the C.L.B.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, August 26, 71. McCarthy's Corn Cure, while only one of the many Corn Cures on the market, holds its own as among the most popular of them by reason simply of the great value of this remedy in dealing with corns of all sorts and sizes, from the wee but very painful soft corn between two of the small toes, to the large and obstinate callous on the sole of the foot. We know the composition of this remedy and can thoroughly recommend it for its purposes. Price 30c. a bottle. Just arrived, a fresh lot of Page and Shaw's Chocolates.

Telegram Scores Again.

RUSSIA WANTS N. F. CODFISH. Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—The Council of the Board of Trade asked Sir Edgar Bowring a few days ago to ascertain from the High Commissioner's Office, London, as to the possibility of the sale of Newfoundland codfish for Russia, and we enclose for your information copy of message sent in reply.

Yours truly,
ERNEST A. PAYN,
Sec.-Treasurer.

THE CABLE. RURALITY, London. Board Trade inquiring any chance selling codfish for relief Russia. Wire if anything can be done in England. Under impression United States controls all this business. (Sgd.) BOWRING.

Have approached these sources and will cable result as soon as possible. Have just returned from interview with Russian Soviet representative, who states that through their commercial agency, established here, they are open to purchase fifteen to twenty thousand tons (Newfoundland) codfish if price suitable. Terms of payment would be same as those given to British Government, namely, ten to twenty per cent. cash, the remainder in notes on their British agency, payable over from three to five years. Kindly ask Board of Trade what supplies available, also price delivered ex steamer at Murmansk and Archangel, and alternatively price and quality c.i.f. Liverpool. Soviet delegation already in communication with Norway for the purchase of supplies of fish. They expect favorable terms from Norway owing to strained relationship now existing between that country and Spain. (Sgd.) RURALITY.

Unusual Slander Case.

COUNSEL ENGAGE IN WORDY WARFARE.

A legal battle of more than ordinary magnitude took place during the hearing of a slander case, which was pronounced by the Magistrate to be the "filthiest he had ever listened to." The plaintiff who had Mr. C. J. Fox acting for him, sued his sister-in-law, represented by Mr. G. W. B. Ayre, for using lawd and abusive language towards him. From the evidence it was found that it was a case of "six of one and half a dozen of the other." At times, counsel for both sides indulged in an interchange of heated remarks, and the temperature of the Court was raised almost to boiling point. In passing judgement His Honor, Mr. McCarthy, declared the case to be the worst of its kind to come before his notice. A motion to have future cases of the kind tried in camera, would, when he was on the bench, require no urging. He bound the plaintiff and defendant over in their personal bonds of $200 for 12 months with an option of a term of imprisonment. Cases of this kind, he said, required harsh treatment, and abusive language of the nature carried on between the principals, would have to be stopped.

Council Office Remodelled.

The business office of the Municipal Council, which has lately been remodelled, is now being occupied by the staff. The offices have been completely changed and are now so arranged that intercommunication is much better than formerly. The place is well lighted and is perhaps the best designed public office in the city. The carpenter work was done by Council employees under the supervision of Inspector Coaker. Fronting the entrance is the main business or enquiry counter; at the left, in a space that was formerly a hallway, is the ledger and receipts window; whilst on the right, formerly the general office, is now located the office of the Secretary-Treasurer.

Arrangements Finalized.

All arrangements in connection with the Grand Falls football excursion are now finalized and the city team and its supporters will leave for the Paper Town by Sunday's express. The following players have so far signified their intention of making the trip: J. String, R. H. Tait, M. Churchill, E. Bradbury, R. Martin, A. Martin, W. Duggan, A. Galsley, N. Ellis, L. Munn, P. Brian, M. G. Winter and W. Burke. Messrs. R. E. Innes and R. G. Ross are looking after the party.

Headquarters for Boys' and Girls' School Outfits, Boots and Shoes, Leather School Bags, Hose, Underwear, Hats and Caps, etc., etc. Prices lower than elsewhere. See us. THE WEST END BAZAAR, 51 Water St. West.

Wise Decision Necessary.

The Longshoremen are meeting again to-night in their hall to discuss the labor situation. The outcome of to-night's meeting will be awaited with interest, as on the decision arrived at will depend the action of the employers. It is generally conceded that the latter will curtail their fish business in the city should the Union refuse to accept a decrease. To this end it is learned that Messrs. Barr, Hickman and another fish firm have rented premises at Carbonar for the packing and export of fish.

EVADING THE LAW. — We learn that because of the intention of the Civic Commission to prosecute all those motorists who have not yet paid the 1921 tax, several car owners are garaging their machines in the hope of evading payment for the season. The Commission, however, has a list of these, and unless they stump up, legal action will be taken.
