Obituary.

HENRY D. CARTER.

The death of Henry D. Carter, youngest and last surviving son of the late Chief Justice, Sir F. B. T. Carter, K.C.M.G., occurred early yesterday morning at his country residence on the Thorburn Road. He had been ill for some time and it was only three months ago that he returned from England after a hopeless quest for his lost health. Since then the illness became more acute, culminating in his passing yesterday. The late Mr. Carter followed the banking profession, starting in the old Union Bank and finishing two years ago as Assistant Manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal. Mr. Carter was a keen sportsman and never a year passed in which he did not whip the waters at Torbay and other places. In church matters he was always prominent and was a Churchwarden of St. Thomas's Parish. He was a popular clubman and was frequently to be found at the City Club, of which he was at one time a member of the Committee. Predeceased by his three brothers, Western, a monument to whose memory is erected on the Mall, Hugh and Stanley, Barristers. The only remaining members of Sir Frederick's family are Mrs. Henderson and Miss Louisa Carter. Mr. Carter is survived by his wife, daughter of the late Hon. James Baird, M.L.C., three sons, Cyril, director of James Baird, Limited, Frederick of the Bank of Montreal, at Halifax, and Harry of this city, also by two daughters, Margaret, wife of Mr. Jack Baird, and Gertrude of this city. His genial personality and kindly counsel will be missed by all who were privileged to enjoy his friendship. The funeral takes place to-morrow from Mr. Cyril Carter's residence, Queen's Road.

KATE COLE.

On Friday Miss Kate Cole passed away at Southsea, England, where she has been residing since leaving St. John's, some five years ago. The news of her death will be received with sorrow by very many in this city, where her labors of charity and love are remembered with gratitude. Miss Cole's departure left vacancies in church and philanthropic work difficult to fill, and to the present day her guiding hand and helpful counsel are missed in many a phase of social and Christian endeavour. Notably is this so by the Methodist Orphanage, the Ladies' College, the Ad-Society, and Guyer Street Church, the interests of all of which she watched over with solicitude. Her work for the orphaned children was invaluable, no toll, or tax on time and service being regarded by her as too great or too onerous. Miss Cole, who was a niece of the late Hon. Charles R. Ayre, and a sister of the late Mrs. J. E. P. Peters, was survived by her sister, Mrs. Alexander Robertson, of Long's Hill, this city, and relatives in Southsea, where interment will take place.

MARY MARGARET VINNICOMBE.

General sympathy is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Vinnicombe, whose eldest child, Mary Margaret, passed away yesterday. She had been ill for some time, and a few months ago entered the Sanitarium, where it was hoped she would benefit, but the dread disease had obtained too strong a grip for her frail constitution to overcome. Of a bright and lovable disposition, her passing, just as she was budding into womanhood, comes as a heavy blow to her parents, and is deeply deplored by her many friends. To the bereaved parents the Telegram extends sympathy.

ALICE MALONE.

The passing of Miss Alice Malone, daughter of Mr. Philip Malone, H.M.C., at her home, King's Bridge, will be learned with regret by a large circle of friends. The deceased, who was in her 34th year, had been ill for some time, but her passing came almost unexpectedly yesterday morning. Although showing no signs that her end was near she passed peacefully away. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon.

MRS. D. G. FRASER.

An event which has plunged Bay Roberts and neighbourhood in mourning is the rather sudden death of Mrs. D. G. Fraser on Saturday morning last, just as she had entered on the forty-seventh year of a happy, useful and laudable life. The funeral took place yesterday (Sunday) afternoon, and from the huge gathering from the house of mourning, the long, long procession to the church and the graveyard and the full congregation at spacious St. Matthew's Church, it was evident that everybody from miles around, old and young, men and women, had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to a lady, who in life was the dear friend of all who came in contact with her, both as family friends or colleagues in the many good works she undertook.

The late Mrs. Fraser was, before her marriage, Miss May Dawe, and was the eldest daughter of Hon. Capt. Eli Dawe, M.C.L. She was born on Colley's Point, Bay Roberts, and many of those present yesterday, when her mortal remains were taken to church for the last time and when she was laid to rest in the old cemetery, hard by the Rectory in Bay Roberts East, where at one time either schoolmates or peers or had been her pupils at the Methodist College, St. John's, or at the Church of England Academy, Bay Roberts.

Numbered among the throngs of mourners were numerous sympathizers who had motored from Heart's Content, Carbonear, Harbor Grace, Clarke's Beach, Brigus, and even as far as St. John's. Rev. A.B.S. Stirling, former rector of Bay Roberts parish, accompanied by B. B. Stafford, Hon. Dr. Mossell, and several others motored from St. John's on Sunday morning. In addition to Mr. Stirling, there were also present at the funeral services as officiating clergyman: Rev. Manden Bishop, rector of Bay Roberts, and Rev. E. Clench of Spaniard's Bay Mission. Mrs. Fraser will be sadly missed by both her family and her community. There remain to mourn her a husband and seven children, her father and mother, two sisters and a brother. At the very service at St. Matthew's Church on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Bishop, during his sermon paid the late Mrs. Fraser a deserved tribute when he spoke of her as a "mother and wife and daughter in deed and truth." The bereavement of Mrs. Fraser's immediate family is a very sad and a very trying one, indeed; and her father and mother, husband and children and other members of her family have the sincerest sympathy of numerous acquaintances and friends, including the Evening Telegram.

The Burden of Branch Railways.

(Hr. Grace Standard.)

Baron Morris is out in some of the dailies with a disclaimer about his reputed utterances about Newfoundland going into Confederation within a few years. It seems that the Montreal Star gave what was stated to be an interview with the Baron in which the fact of Newfoundland joining Canada was the chief incident.

The interview was commented upon at considerable length in more than one of the Canadian papers. The Baron, doubtless having been interviewed on his recent trip to Canada on his way to New York, thence to take passage to England, and states that he kept clear of all expressions of opinion on public matters during his brief and hurried visit to Newfoundland. So much for the interview and its consequences. It is a pity the Baron did not give his opinion on public matters independent of interviews and consequences. He could, among other matters, have given an explanation of the policy, the reason and the purpose of the branch railways that were undertaken or built during the time he directed the control of the colony and its destinies. The way and whereabouts of that famous policy would prove of interest just now, when it has been roundly and forcefully condemned, even by those who were associated with him in his ever-to-be-remembered conduct of the Government. At best that policy was an attempt to prove that the Baron was in favor of railway extension then as he always was and that he wished his name to go down to posterity as one who loved his country well, and to be forever associated with the fathers of the original policy, to make the old land flourish by and through the opening up of the country by the cross country railway and the development of traffic and industrial activity. The dreams have passed away, and the country has been saddled with a heavy burden that will fall upon our children's children. The Baron's branch railway building has proved a useless and costly experiment, the burden of which is with us yet, and will remain.

What One Man Does to Support a Title.

LONDON.—It is hard to be relatively poor, yet compelled by the circumstance of birth to hide the fact and even play the part of a mad-cap spendthrift. A certain Lord writes to a London newspaper: "I have to wear a tall hat and the tall coat of conventionality. I have to tip well and cheerfully, and at the same time count every penny. When friends from abroad come to town I have to entertain them—which is a pleasure, but oh! the plotting and the planning and mean little economies that I have to practice! Without a title I should be a comparatively happy man. But I inherited it and I cannot shed it. A wealthy American once said to me, 'You British peers have a jolly good time!' I tried to explain to him that we too had responsibilities, but he countered this by saying, 'I would give anything to be a peer of title.' And I would have given a great deal to be plain 'Mr.' with all his money."

Bishop's New Ladies' Coats are the talk of the town for value and style. Many customers return to our store after they have searched the town and failed to find better value. Try it and prove for yourself it is all we ask. sept.23.22
