AFFAIR NEAR GRATE'S COVE. BOAT OVERTURNED.

A gloom of sadness was cast over the town on Thursday last, when the men named Augustus and Isaac Sanson lost their lives by drowning. It was the upsetting of their motor boat in an open motor boat to go to Bacallieu Island to get their fishing gear which had been stored there for the winter months. The men arrived safely at the island, having secured their supplies, set out for Winterton. Everything went well on the return trip until they reached a point near Grate's Cove, where a heavy gale sprang up and the boat was overturned. The two men were in the water, and the boat sank and when it came to the surface only three of the men were left clinging on. The shock being so great that the fourth man, Augustus Sanson, was drowned. The three managed to cling to the boat, but owing to the terrific sea, Isaac Sanson was washed overboard and in a frantic effort to save himself grasped the propeller of the boat, but was in such an exhausted condition, he could not manage to hold on. The survivors were brought to shore, where they received attention, and the body of Isaac Sanson was washed ashore. The search for the body of Augustus Sanson was made, but the body was not recovered.

Men's Concert and Smoker To-Night.

The Smoker and Concert for ex-Service men in the Gravel Hall to-night gives promise of a very enjoyable gathering. H.E. the Governor and Padre Nangle will both deliver addresses which should prove very interesting. Several well known local artists are assisting with recitations, songs and instrumental selections. The G.W.V.A. Noise Sheet will be distributed and familiar choruses sung. Admission is free and all ex-service men are extended a cordial invitation to be present.

Riverhead Harbor Grace

"GOES OVER THE TOP."

Friday a.m. (by Telephone)—The Leader of the Opposition, Mr. J. R. Bennett and his colleagues, Messrs. Hickman and Archibald held a very successful meeting at Riverhead, Mr. Grace last night. A large number of the voters were present including many from the Southside. The meeting was presided over by Mr. T. W. Guilfoyle. Excellent and stirring speeches were delivered by the candidates and were enthusiastically applauded. At the close of the meeting the Chairman made a very eloquent and enthusiastic speech, reviewing the policy of the Opposition Party and pointed out that the only hope for the country was the election of the Opposition Party to power. Riverhead will give substantial support to the Bennett party and the meeting was the most successful ever held in this section of the District. The meeting closed after three hours duration with the singing of the National Anthem and cheers for the Opposition Party. The Opposition Candidates for Mr. Grace will hold a meeting at Bryant's Cove this afternoon and at the Southside of Mr. Grace to-night.

EASTER MEETING.—St. Thomas's Church is holding its Easter meeting to-night in Canon Wood Hall.

A Good Sealing Master Talks Bad Politics

The Advocate reports that Capt. George Barbour addressed a political meeting on board the sealing steamer "Neptune", just before she reached this harbor, on the great things Coaker had done for the sealers. Capt. George is rather a silent man, and we hesitate to believe that he could be guilty of the impropriety of speaking to his crew on contested political questions while on the high seas, in charge of a ship which does not belong to him, and of a crew the members of which hold divergent views. However, Capt. George has held a summer job for several years as master of a Labrador mail boat, through the generosity of Coaker, and perhaps thought this a good way to prove his gratitude. If he did speak of Coaker's work for them, we hope he told the sealers why no doctors went on the sealing steamers this year, as by law required. And we hope, too, that he told the men of good work for them by other politicians. For instance, he might have spoken of Morine's help in the 1902 Sealers' Strike. Or he might have said that to Morine largely was due the shortening of the sealing season, the abrogation of second trips, and particularly the freedom of sealers' share money from attachment for old debts. These services far outweigh any performed for the sealers by Coaker. And by the way, did Capt. George remind the sealers that the increased taxation which makes life so unendurable for the fishermen was largely imposed to provide the public moneys squandered by Coaker? Did Capt. George tell the men, we wonder, that Coaker had almost ruined the fishermen by the Fishery Regulations, depriving them thereby in one single season of more than they could ever hope to earn at the seal-factory? As Capt. George is, we think, a shareholder in the Union Trading Co., he was, perhaps, reticent in these matters. In any case, his influence would not be much, for, it so happens, even his own son has a very clear notion that Coaker has loaded this Colony with a crushing load of taxation, and this son was last year a valued worker in the United Fishermen's Movement. We fear that Capt. George is not so good a politician as he is a seal-killer.

PRATING.

The late Joseph Chamberlain, Statesman, is quoted by the Mail in denunciation of the Railway Contract, 1892. This is the Chamberlain who rattled from the Liberal Party to oppose Home Rule for Ireland, and, therefore, fit company for the bunch that would sell this Colony to Canada. That he knew as little of things here as in Ireland is shown by the assertion made over his name, that the Railway Contract was "An Abomination to a Government of some of its most important functions." Now, we'll set the Mail a task, and handsomely acknowledge its ability if the task is performed. What "functions of government" did the contract abrogate? What was meant by the words attributed to Chamberlain? It's only fair to the dead man's reputation to say that the message he signed was probably written for him by an under-strapper of the Colonial Office, London, on information given from here by a meddling governor. But the ignorance displayed is absolutely of the very quality shown by the Mail on most matters, and therefore grateful to it. The Mail will profit by putting up proof or shutting off its mendacity.

West End Candidates at Ropewalk.

CASHIN, LINGGAR AND HUNT ARE GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

Messrs. Cashin, Linggar and Hunt held a very successful meeting in the Club House at Mundy's Pond last night. All the residents of the district turned out to give the candidates a welcome. Volleys of musketry, bonfires and enthusiastic cheering were features of the reception. Mr. Wm. Ebsary, the well known cooper was moved to the chair and in a short address introduced the speakers. Sir Michael spoke on the general policy of the Government and the manner in which they had neglected to carry out the promises they made to the electors of this country in 1919, and also on the ruin brought upon the whole country by the Coaker Fish Regulations. This was demonstrated at the Ropewalk, an industry that in 1919 was booming with hundreds of employees. This was an industry that existed mainly through the fisheries, but due to the neglect and incompetence of the Government, and their bungling in fishery affairs, the staff has been curtailed and now only 30 men are employed and that only on short time.

GET RID OF ONE MAN RULE. Mr. Matthew Murphy, a foreman at the Ropewalk, addressed the meeting and in a short but forceful speech, impressed upon his hearers, the necessity of ridding this country of the one man rule that has predominated the Squire Government. A change was needed and needed very quick if we are going to save ourselves from destruction. Mr. Linggar followed Mr. Murphy, and endorsed all that he said. Sir Michael had said regarding labor conditions. What was required at this juncture was to get our fisheries back to where they were in 1919. The present Government did nothing for the laborer or fisherman but did all possible to bring them to the state they now find themselves in. He impressed on his hearers the fact that the Bennett policy to encourage the fisheries would mean more work and steady employment at that big industrial centre.

ENCOURAGE INDUSTRIES.

Mr. C. E. Hunt, who, in a well reasoned address, spoke along the lines that it was much better to encourage and stand by the industries such as the Ropewalk which were already established. The Humber, if it was a good proposition, would be put thru by the Bennett Government. As yet no one knew what were its merits as despite repeated challenges the Prime Minister or those in authority have repeatedly refused to come forward and tell what it stands for. He impressed upon all the policy of the straight ticket. It is seldom that such an enthusiastic meeting has been held at the Ropewalk, and it is but another instance that this important section of the city together with the rest of the district are voting for BENNETT and BETTER TIMES.

To-night Sir Michael and candidates will be at the Topsall Road where a meeting will be held.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

SENSATIONAL END OF REPUBLICANS.

LONDON, April 20.—The spectacular siege of the little band of Irish Republicans, which had been holding out against the Free State forces in a cave, one hundred feet from the top of Clashmeeloon Cliff, on the wild shore of the Shannon in County Kerry, has come to a sensational end. Two of the men who had been under continuous machine gun fire since Monday, fell from the cliff into the Shannon, while trying to escape in the darkness, on Wednesday night, and were drowned. Commander Lyons, dropped to the beach, a distance of one hundred feet, while being hauled up the cliff, but rose and was shot and killed while trying to escape and four others of the little party were captured, according to a despatch to the Central News, from Tralee. The men from the cave were endeavoring to sail forth and reach protection in an adjoining cave, when the casualties occurred.

"Smilin' Through."

AT THE CASINO THEATRE.

"Smilin' Through" is by Allan Langdon Martin. It is a play in three acts and referred to as a fantastic comedy. It is deserving of this title in that it is out of the ordinary, one of the most delightful, most whimsical plays that has ever been written; a play that has done a phenomenal business in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, having reached the record peak of $25,000 a week in the last named city.

When originally produced in New York, the great artist Jane Cowl was selected to portray the central figure of the piece and achieved an artistic triumph that will never be forgotten in stage annals. This was due, in addition to Miss Cowl's admitted skill as an actress, to a large degree to the great play in which she was appearing, for "Smilin' Through" can honestly be placed under this caption. It belongs in the class with the classics of the modern stage. Starting with a prologue, wistfully sweet and unlike anything else that has ever been written, "Smilin' Through" picks up a sweet, simple story, filled with intensely human characters. It moves along with a rare vein of humor, to a happy ending. In addition to a great title, "Smilin' Through" has the drawing power that is inevitable with a play of its type.

It is a noteworthy fact that Buick owners prize their cars so highly that they are reluctant to part with them even for new Buicks.

They hold for their Buicks the same sincere attachment that they might for any personal belonging which has proven indispensable to their daily comfort or which has contributed vitally to many of their most happy experiences.

Owners retain this life-long affection for Buick not only because Buick dependability and comfort more than satisfy every motoring desire, but because these same qualities find added expression in each succeeding Buick that they buy.
