BYE-ELECTION ISSUES. A high tax contemporary has exploited

mare's nest. It has made up its mind that the rascalities daily being laid bare at Ottawa do not really exist, and that the men who have been giving evidence seriously compromising the Ministers at Ottawa are myths. Its funny conclusion, therefore, is that these charges are "herrings trailed across the scent" to delude the people in the bye-elections and prevent their considering the tariff question! The wicked "Grits," we are further told, are alone re-sponsible for this diversion. Our hysterical contemporary need not fear that the trade question will be kept in the background by the opponents of the class legislation that it is always ready to defend.

If the rascalities at Ottawa occupy the public mind to the exclusion of other ques-tions, that condition of affairs will have been brought about by the investigation forced upon Parliament by a Conservative M. P., who refused to hold his peace his leaders urged him to keep quiet. He was a good protectionist, but he failed to see the connection between that system and robbery. His eyes have no pow used have been constructed withdoubt been opened since this investigation began, and he must be forced to the conclusion reached by other supporters of high taxation and restricted trade—that there is se affinity between the pur holders of monopolies and the selling of contract privileges in exchange for money and testimonials handed over to Ministers and their subordinates.

deal will be said on the subject of the Indeed, in view of the statements thievings in high places, and the incapacity or criminal co-operation in high places which rendered it possible for boodling require a pretty strong guarantee that it contractors to carry off hundreds of thou-sands of dollars of public money not earned by them. Why should the people who have been robbed not be fully seized of the stingy in granting money for needed immanner in which the peculation was carried on and the relationship of the peculators mand that national examples shall not be to those in authority?

We care not who the thieves are, we care not who the men are who have received money and silver plate from public contractors that subsequently got more than LORD STANLEY should do something or their due from the men whose pockets they sign.—[Stratford Beacon. lined and whose sideboards they re-plenished. Surely it is fair to declare that they and all who are willing to condone their methods are not fit to be trusted with the spending of the millions of dollars of public money every year. That issue will be placed before the electorate in the bye-elections, whether the "Grits' so decree or not. The ADVERTISER wil see to that, and it will have the co-opera tion of every honest journalist, of every honest citizen, in the Dominion. If not, we should like to know the reason why.

The trade question will be dispo of as the people desire it. Its settle-ment, if left with the Liberals, will be effected in the interests of the masses not of the classes. But the national life, the national honor, the national morality, is not safe in the hands of men who are ready to stigmatize whole-sale stealing as "mere trifles" and who are willing to punish the subordinate, but let the greater rascal go free.

A clean sweep is a necessity.

GRIP of this week is a splendid number The leading cartoon shows Sir Hector Langevin battling with a swarm of wasps, the latter bearing the features of Tarte, Murphy, R. McGreevy, Mick Connelly, Nick Connelly, Larkin and a umber of the Oppositionists prominent in the Tarte inquiry. Bengough has been visiting Ottawa, and has got the likenesses down fine. There is a clever his at the Opposition, teo, in the "The Three Grey Sisters."

LABOR AND ITS REWARDS, areau of Labor has made an annual in vestigation of industrial conditions in that State, and embodied them in a report which, though not complete, is at least approximately correct. No attempt was made to secure figures for all varieties of industry, the investigators confining themselves chiefly to agricultural implement and iron working laborers. As these two industries are among the best and oldest in the State it was considered that an inquiry among them would give an idea of how the better classes of workmen live. No less than 8,838 workmen were visited and questioned upon such subjects as to whether they owned the houses in which they lived; if there were incumbrances on their property; if they carried life insurance, and to what amount; the critical life insurance, and to what amount; the extent of their wages and of their savings; whether or not they owned pianos and sewing machines, and a variety of other queries. It was found that out of the 8,838 to whom these queries were put, one earned $40 a week, 8 from $30 to $40, and 125 from $20 to $30, while at the other end of the pay-roll were a dozen boys who reselved but $2 a week, and 322 more with $3 or less. About 15 per cent. re-ceived $15 or over, and more than 17 per cent. less than $7, while the average for the whole number, married and single men, was $10 06, and that for the married men, $11.50. The average total amount for a year was $467, the married men averaging $525. This is not a very large annual inome on which to support a family, and yet 69 per cent. of the families visited owned sewing machines; 67 per cent. took news papers and magazines; half of the entire number were subscribers of daily papers, and more than a fifth possessed musical instruments of one sort or another. Of the employes visited 2,328 were house wners, and about half of this number were free from mortgages. A fourth of the whole number of men were insured, the average amount being nearly $1,500, and 40 per cent. saved money last year. The general showing is good, and indicates a fair average of prosperity in a repre-sentative body of workingmen.

THE OTTAWA SCANDALS.

The revelations of gross corruption at Ottawa continue. Ministers of the Crown have been shown, by indisputable evidence, to be involved in the peculations revealed, and it has been made evident that their subordinates considered it proper to follow their bad example. This is the situation in a nutshell. But we follow a few of the definitions of these rascalities by Ministers and their newspaper apolo-

THE CITY SEWERS. The London Board of Health took no action on the suggestion of Dr. Gardiner that a report should be obtained on the condition of the sewers. Perhaps when the report of Mr. Chipman on the city sewage is received, the doctor will again raise the question. This subject as well as the sewers needs ventilation. If, as Dr. out plan and are very defective, it is time that the public knew just where they are. Dr. Gardiner told us in his recent letter that at least one main sewer was so constructed that residents along its route found it impossible to drain their cellars. We want no more sewers built on hap-hazed plan and so radically defective
