Silver Was Spilled Gave $160,000 to Near Ingersoll Aid Church Work

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Oct. 21.—Silver ore valued at over $50,000 was spread over the roadbed of the Grand Trunk Railway near here yesterday, when a special through freight from Northern Ontario was derailed as the result of the tender jumping the track. At the time of the accident the train was travelling at a fast rate of speed. When the tender left the rails nine other cars were also derailed on the tracks before the engine could be brought to a standstill. Losing their balance, they toppled into a deep ditch beside the right-of-way. The cars containing the silver ore were broken open and the contents spilled along the culvert for about a quarter of a mile.

Owing to the accident the line was blocked for over a day. The auxiliaries from Toronto and Allandale were rushed to the scene, but it was some hours before the wreckage could be cleared away. A great deal of time was also spent in collecting the spilled silver ore. A large percentage of this had to be picked up by hand. The car was on its way to the refinery when wrecked. The rest of the train was made up of lumber.

ALL WERE SAVED

Crew Was in Great Danger During a Big Storm.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—Tossing in the heavy sea off the island shore, the barge Silgo was discovered yesterday, and, as she appeared to be in grave danger, her crew were taken ashore by the lifeboat at the Toronto life-saving station, under the command of Capt. Ward. The Silgo, which was proceeding down the lake in tow, became parted from the tug off Whitby the breaking of the hawser during the severe gale which blew on Sunday night. Darkness and the roughing of the water made it impossible to pass a new towline. The crew of the barge therefore hoisted sail on their own vessel. They succeeded in making Toronto Island early in the morning, and as there appeared danger that their vessel would go ashore they dropped their anchor in the hope that it would hold until assistance came. The lifeboat landed them near the city filtration plant.

Before the machinery could be stopped both legs had been torn off and one arm broken. He died in a few minutes. Haley leaves five children. His wife died about three years ago.

Vienna, Tuesday, Oct. 21.—The Zeit says that four Government officials, two of whom are employed in the Austrian ministry of commerce, and many police officials in Galicia, are compromised by the documents recently seized by the authorities in the offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway throughout Austria. More than one hundred arrests have been made in Galicia.

BUNTY BACK ONCE MORE AND JUST AS BONNIE

Graham Moffat's Comedy Was Presented at the Grand an Thanksgiving.

The "Scotch mist" which hung over the city Monday evening did not prevent a capacity audience witnessing the performance of Mr. Graham Moffat's pretty little Scotch comedy, "Bunty Pulls the Strings." A good house also greeted the matinee performance, and both audiences were well pleased with the production.

Miss Daisy McNaughton was the only member of the company who was with the original company which presented the play here in April last. Her characterization of Bunty, "general manager" of the fortunes of the Biggar family and incidentally those of herself and her lover, William Sprunt, left nothing to be desired. She appeared to even better advantage than on the occasion of her previous visit.

The supporting company, with one or two exceptions, was extremely good. Grace Richardson, as "Aunt Susie," played a difficult role in a natural manner, or at least in as natural a manner as "Aunt Susie's" character would permit. Mr. J. H. Heron, as Tammas Biggar, put enough reality into his presentation of the phlegmatic but determined to arouse the contempt of his audience, thereby bringing out some of the best points in the play.

William Sheafe was a lively Rab Biggar, and received good support in Ester Ford as Teenie Dunlop. John McFarlane as Bunty's fiance, William Sprunt, was popular with the audience, and his work was on the whole satisfactory.

The play itself needs no commendation. It is a delightful little sketch of Scottish life half a century ago. The comedy is of a clean and wholesome variety, and is most refreshing. The scenery effects were simple but attractive, and the quaint costumes of the players added greatly to the attractiveness of the production.

The Stratford-Upon-Avon Players. The first opportunity to see the famous Stratford-Upon-Avon Players, headed by Mr. Benson, will be given London theatregoers Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening, with a special matinee on Saturday. These famous Shakespearean actors come to Canada weighed down with the praise and good wishes of all their famous contemporaries. Mr. Benson's visit to this continent has long been urged by all those Canadians who have had the privilege of seeing his and his company's performances in the Memorial Theatre in the Shakespearean birthplace. Four of Shakespeare's plays will be given in London, commencing on Thursday evening, "The Taming of the Shrew"; Friday, "King Henry IV.," Saturday matinee, "Twelfth Night"; Saturday evening, "Hamlet." An entirely new scenic equipment has been made for this tour, and the costumes and properties are from designs executed for the Shakespearean Memorial Theatre. Seats on sale.
