CAMPBELLTON, NEW BRUNSWICK TUESDAY, AUGUST 3RD, 1909.

THE UNITED STATES TARIFF.

The conference tariff bill has passed the United States House of Representatives by a small majority of twelve. This leaves the modified measure with only the Senate between it and the statute book. The history of the proceedings is this:—

First the House bill, introduced by Chairman Aldrich, made some important reductions in the Dingley tariff, generally pursuing the course of downward revision, but making few radical changes.

Then came the Senate bill, bearing the name of Aldrich, which was generally more nearly conservative than the Dingley bill. This measure was substantially an upward revision.

At this point President Taft intervened and used his influence to modify the Aldrich bill by reducing its schedule of duties on raw material.

Meanwhile the Senate and House were taking the regular course provided for in case of conflict of opinion. Each chamber appointed representatives to a conference and the joint committee proceeded to frame a compromise measure. The President constituted himself an informal member of the conference by holding daily interviews with his friends in both delegations and persistently urging upon the Republican legislators the binding obligations of the tariff platform.

While the conference bill is mainly the Senate bill it contains some striking modifications on which Mr. Taft had set his mind, and which will go some way to "save the face" of the framers of the tariff platform. These modifications include reduction of the tariff on rough lumber from $2.60 to .25, free hides, and some mitigation of the iron, steel and coal duties.

Concerning these, President Taft can say with Polonius "A poor thing, but mine own."

This slightly reformed Senate bill has passed the House by a majority of 110. This indicates a narrow escape. The Republican opposition in this chamber claims that the downward revision has been headed off. Moreover, the tariff platform is the Senate bill, and the House bill is a mere compromise measure. The House bill is not expected to pass the Senate as it is expected that the Senate will accept the measure as representing a great triumph for their chamber.

While Congressmen object to the compromise bill as too high, seeing that it is much higher than their own, the Senate may object to it as too low. But as the President's modifications on the Senate bill will be compared with the Senate's changes in the House bill it may be expected that the Senate will accept the measure as representing a great triumph for their chamber.

British Columbia is soon to have a plebiscite on the liquor question. Great is the rejoicing in Cretia. All the foreign troops have left the island.

An Ohio Irishman says that the "quicker way to get through a crowd is to go around it."

Bierliet has one advantage. His name cannot be confused with anything else. You've got to remember it all by yourself.

The Toronto Globe prints an editorial on "The Passing of the Hero Man." He has not passed, he has only changed. He is now the "salaried assistant."

In the excitement about the flying machine several people forgot all about the real thing. On inspection, however, the "flying" thing is found to be still there.

Ashegga, which is said to be of excellent quality, has been found in large quantities in Afghanistan and a native company has been formed to work the deposits.

In 1900 the population of Europe was 200,000,000. In 1905 it was 400,000,000. Malthus was wrong in his calculations concerning the number the Continent could support. He did not see scientific progress in productivity.

Toronto furniture dealers held a meeting the other day to adopt a standard for the finish of furniture. A large family of boys will finish it as quick as anything we know.

The latest craze among the ultra-fashionable of London is to have dirty faces. It is needless to say the modest way of letting people know that they have an automobile to crawl under.

An Indiana girl had her hair stolen while she was asleep. Why will women leave their hair around so carelessly on chairs, bureaus, drawers and the like—Kingston Standard.

A big gold and silver strike is reported from Sturgeon Lake, on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

An arch to span Niagara nearer to the Falls than the present foot bridge may be one of the memorials to the hundred years of peace on this continent.

THE ONLY ONE

"William," she shouted in a voice fit to be heard in the next street, "I am not the only one in the world that I can allow to talk to me in that way."

"And who is that, Mr. May I ask?"

"Why, you, my dear," he gently removed his feet from the table.

Mrs. Jeff Flaherty, Belmont, Ont., writes:—"In the month of September, last, my youngest child took Summer Complaint and the doctor had very little hope for her. My neighbor told me to get Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so that night I sent my daughter to get it, and when she came home I gave her the first dose, and in half an hour there was a change for the better, and after the third dose she was completely cured. We feel it is far and beyond any other remedy for Summer Complaint and besides it saves paying a doctor. I advise everyone to use it. Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Fowler's. The original and only Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is manufactured only by The T. M. M. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35 cents.

THE MORAL OF THE SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT OF THE BIRLOT AIRPLANE ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL APPEARS TO BE, ACCORDING TO THE EXPERT, THAT THE MAJORITY OF THE WORD SHOULD FORWORTHY CONSIDER THEIR FEELS TO THE "HONOR" AND SHOULD DISCARD THEIR INFANTRY REGIMENTS AND CASUALTY SQUADRONS, RESERVING ONLY THEIR ARTILLERY, WITH WHICH TO DESTROY THE TOWERS OF THE ALPS!
