MOONLIGHT MURMURINGS.

He who Mrs. to take a kiss. He who Mrs. to take a kiss. When a man goes out in the woods and comes and shows you a picture of his wife, he says, "What shall I do; my wife drinks liquor," he answers, "lick her."

"What do you say for that?" asked an old man of a pretty girl. "Five dollars!" "Ain't you a little dear?" "Why," she replied, "all young men tell me so."

When a Boston woman sees a tramp in the back yard she calls out to him: "You old fossil! I catch you Ploocene footprints around these premises again! I'll break your good old vertebrae and hand your Sibirian remains over to the police."

Sommer time will come again. With its softly blowing zephyr, its lowing kine are in the fields—Some are cows and some are heifers. The temple of our purest thoughts is—science—Mrs. Hal. Beauty without grace is a hook without bait—Nimon de P'elaco. Never kill the married man you hate, watch him try to earn a living in these days of bonanzas and $30,000 blocks of railroad stocks.

"Diana looks" are the names of new bangs introduced into fashionable circles. They are called after the arrow goddess because they quiver whenever a beam comes around and the wearers look cross. It is an "arrowing parades," but needs must when the editor drives and this page is to fill.

"How much are these goods a yard?" said a gentleman in a dry goods store the other day, as he picked up and examined a piece of ruffled silk. "Good question," cried the mercantile clerk, "that isn't for sale. That's the end of a lady's train. She's just gone up to the third story."

An old mine was shown a bag of samples by a nearly-arrived prospector and asked what it would run. He turned the specimen over, held it up to the light, and exclaimed, "That's a good one. You can have the gold in this and catch the silver and not waste the lead, that is might run about a well, about $2 to the ton."

"What kind of a picture would you prefer, Miss?" inquired a photographer of a young lady customer. "Well," was the reply, "take me with an expression as though I were writing a poem about you."
