

McG. Clothmense uitings, oatings S' House, Company FOR HOUSES TONISHMENT. OF 20 PER CENT. OHNSON, E STREET. OHNSON, & 362 Yonge St. EN WAREHOUSE. 331 Queen st. w. Goods House. NGEST, North of Queen.

THE FATE OF A FENIAN.

FOOLHOUND GUILTY OF THE MURDER OF KENNY.

Sentence of Death Passed—Evidence of Guilt, the Informer—A Long Excited Speech by the Prisoner.

DUBLIN, Nov. 20.—The jury found Poole guilty of the murder of Kenny after forty minutes' deliberation. The court sentenced the prisoner to death. He addressed the court and admitted he was a Fenian. He cursed England and called for "three cheers for the Irish republic."

Liam's brother-in-law of the prisoner, testified today that he at first thought Kenny had been an informer, but he now believed that revenge for the abduction of a girl led to the murder.

Poole will be hanged Dec. 18. The judge in passing sentence was deeply affected. He said the evidence led to the jury no alternative and he quite concurred in their verdict of guilty.

Before he was sentenced, Poole spoke at length, earnestly at times and in excited tones. He emphatically denied that he was a Fenian. He said he would be proud to go to the scaffold for being one. The object of the Fenian brotherhood was not to commit murder but to free Ireland from tyrannical rule. He acknowledged he was able to distinguish objects for the first time in 14 years. He had been blind and paralysed, and the shock caused by the blow he received on the head awakened the sensibility of the dormant brain. Maybe died some time after he was taken home yesterday.

The manner of a little girl's death. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the child died of the effects of an outrageous assault. Last July the alleged culprit was indicted, but discharged, the child's testimony not being admitted. The girl suffered terribly for four weeks before her death.

A big marriage. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—Patrick O'Brien, the Irish giant, and Christiana Druick, the German giantess, were married today in the German evangelical church. An immense concourse was present, including the mayor and council, the mayor of Allegheny city, John McCullough, Margaret Mather and others.

The American Grace Darling. NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 20.—Miss Lewis, sister of Ida Lewis, "the Grace Darling of America," died this morning from consumption at Lyme Rock lighthouse, within sight of the boat used by her and sister in rescuing many lives from drowning. She was young and handsome.

A safe blown to atoms. DANVILLE, Ind., Nov. 20.—Early this morning unknown parties placed dynamite under the Dewdrop saloon. The explosion blew the building to pieces and shook the town.

UNION MEETS NEWS. The international grocers will amount to ten million dollars more estimated. Many street car conductors at St. Louis, Mo., have been discharged for stealing. All the composers on the Brooklyn Erie Park of street yesterday for an advance of wages.

THE CASE OF MARY WOODS.

The Girl's Sentence Commuted to Fourteen Years' Imprisonment.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The death sentence passed on the Hamilton girl McCabe for the murder of her child several weeks ago has been commuted to fourteen years' imprisonment in the Kingston penitentiary. The papers in connection with the case were forwarded to Hamilton by the evening's mail.

A heavy lawsuit. MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—The case of the Bank of Montreal v. John Rankin for $20,000 came up in the court of appeal today for judgment. The bank claims the money was advanced on a check of defendant, while Rankin pleads that the money was to be used for a criminal action against the directors of the Consolidated bank and was therefore illegal.

An Abusive Appeal to the People. BRANFORD, Nov. 20.—Fitting book places to-day whether the debentures for the bonds to the Erie and Huron railroad should be handed over to E. O. Rickford, the contractor, or whether the village would stand a suit in chancery claiming nonfulfillment of contract, and resulting in a suit.

Principal Dawson has recently been the guest of Mr. Peter Redpath, at Chisholm, Scotland. The Empress Eugenie is a great favorite at Aberdeen, and she makes frequent visits to the barracks.

Geo. Stebbins, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, is expected in London, Eng., shortly on a visit. Robert Collyer says he was led to read Scott's novel by a religious newspaper, which denounced them as immoral.

At a late meeting of the Geographical Society of Erie, France, Prof. Lobano, of Montreal, was appointed resident correspondent of Canada. Mrs. Lydia Linton, the English story-writer, is now over 60 years of age, but still works with her pen and keeps all her social engagements.

Reas Bohrer is suffering from a cancer, and has been critically ill for several weeks. A dangerous surgical operation will be necessary for its removal. The director of the print room of the British museum is authority for the statement that Miss Mary Anderson visited that room under the name of Mrs. Jones, and rescued many lives from drowning. She was young and handsome.

Occur Wilde is going to visit in politics by joining the Liberal party and accepting a seat in parliament. He used to be a conservative and belonged to St. Stephen's club, London. "Sarah Bernhardt," says Oscar Wilde, "is one of the greatest beauties of the age; she is pure and fearless as a woman, and her beauty is of a rare and beautiful type, fresh, sparkling, brilliant, superbly placid."

The Bishop's Chaperon. From the Montreal Gazette. One of our M.P.'s came up from Quebec the other day in the same train with Mr. Moreau, and both got off at Richmond for dinner. On leaving the restaurant the M.P.'s, whose rather absent-mindedness was well known, placed it on his head. On reaching the platform, however, he was very much surprised to find that the M.P. had placed it on his head. The matter was explained in a few minutes, by Mr. Moreau's demand for his hat, which was returned with apologies.

Commercial Notes. From the Winnipeg Free Press. The people of the Northwest are not to be imposed on by idle twaddle about the "Mother Country." They have their commercial interests to look after, and will be guided only by commercial considerations. Freedom of commercial intercourse with the United States is a sine qua non to commercial success, and freedom of commercial intercourse is the only way to that end. Best means to obtain by some means in the near future.

Lorrie's Canadian Experience. From the London World. The Marquis of Lorne leaves no unpleasant memory behind him in Canada; he has been a warmer one than has been heretofore. He succeeded the most popular governor any colony ever knew; he was a prince with him, and with the best will in the world to be gracious and cordial, he has the Argyle manner of obvious forced frankness in its fullest development. Canada has never had a more hard-working governor. He smiled all the time, and shook hands with a conscientious assiduity and a willingness to do the thing as his nature would allow. His life was unceasingly blameless. He was not wholly fortunate in his staff, but it was not expected of him that he should have the instinct to discern that officials who were so naive with him, should be appointed a government house in Canada. As for the princes, the first ball at Rideau had sickened her of the Canadians. It is true that there were unsavory incidents of this function; but there were people about her who ought to have told her how essentially a government house in Canada must in the nature of things differ from a court ball in Buckingham palace.

How a Chinaman can be a Marquis. From the London Illustrated News. In the matter of the Marquis Tseng, "H. A. G." recently from Shanghai, has kindly enlightened me on this point. There are five degrees of nobility in China, for the Chinese terms of which it became necessary to find approximate English equivalents. Hence the duke, marquis, earl, viscount and baron, as applied to Chinese high officers of state, and so on. The noblest of these is the duke, and is hereditary in the following limited sense: The eldest son of an official who has been made a duke becomes at his father's death a marquis; the marquis's eldest son becomes at his father's death an earl; the earl's son becomes a viscount; and so on, there is a fall in rank in each generation until the peerage is extinct.

AMERICAN INVINCIBLES.

A LETTER FROM A MEMBER WHO WOULD BE FREE.

The Perfect Secrecy of the Organization—A New Expedition Afoot—The "Old Man" Profits by Past Experience.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Standard publishes a long letter from a correspondent whose good faith it says is beyond question, who professes to be a member of an American Irish secret society. The writer expresses regret at having joined the organization, and says every one is watching the other, that he is a paid officer, that he must keep himself acquainted with the whereabouts of 228 men, to whom he is required to hand sealed orders, that everything in society is done with the greatest secrecy, and that he has seen the members of the other's business, although several may have similar tasks to perform. The writer believes that some of the members of the society are members of the police, as it is known at headquarters when a member receives a visit and shows B. named had married her the same day, and that he had lived twenty-four years and had a healthy wife, but explained that her first marriage was dissolved, and that she had since been deserted by her husband, and that he had a wife living when he married her. He said that he had been married to her, and that he had a wife living when he married her. He said that he had been married to her, and that he had a wife living when he married her.

Two City Committees. Ald. Wood presided at the meeting of the market and health committee yesterday afternoon. The committee authorized the laying of new sidewalks on the east and west sides of St. Patrick's market. In deferring the petition of the residents around St. Andrew's market the city commissioner said he would remove the tramp stone yard at another part of the town. Inspector Aude reported that some of the butchers of St. Lawrence market submit their stalls to sanitary inspection. He said that the stalls were clean and laid the matter over.

The Poor of County Street. TO THE ED. WORLD.—I was much surprised yesterday by Archbishop Lynch's circular in which he called for aid for the poor of the Roman Catholic diocese of Toronto. The anniversary was celebrated by pontifical high mass at St. Michael's cathedral at 8 o'clock in the morning. The services were impressive and the students of St. Michael's college took a leading part in them.

Mayor McGill of Hamilton is at the Queen's hotel. Last week the site carriers delivered 116,542 letters and 39,519 papers. The eastern division court, opened before Judge McDougall yesterday with 97 cases on the docket. Toronto is now infested with a double dose of tramps, beggars and mud. It is hard to say which is the worst. The semi-civilized committee of the city council met at the city hall last night and transacted routine business.

Mr. Miles appears in front of the court at 8 o'clock in the morning. The coronation of St. Philip's church will hold a concert in Shaftesbury hall on Thursday, Dec. 6, in aid of the building fund. All of the four girls run in by Policeman Cuddy in York street Monday night for vagrancy were fined in the police court yesterday. Major Gray, M.P.P., Chas. F. Mansell, J. Dennis, A. Peterson and H. J. Hill have been appointed a health board for the village of Paiklake.

The Flak Jubilee singers will give one more concert in the Gardens on Friday, Dec. 7. Their last appearance prior to departure for Europe. Chief Justice Richards of the supreme court of Canada, Mrs. Richards and the two Misses Richards are guests at the Roscoe house. They arrived from Ottawa last night. Samuel Pellow and Thos. Herbert elected yesterday before Judge Boyd to be tried by jury on charge of having burgled tools in their possession when arrested the other night. Judge Kingsmill, Walker, W. J. Judge, superintendent Grand Trunk railway, Mr. A. White, general traffic agent of the Midland railway, are all at the Queen's hotel.

Wm. White, a teamster employed by Hendrie & Co., cartage agents, was sent to the central prison for three months by the magistrate yesterday. He embezzled some $15 from his employers. Mr. L. Montford is making all haste with his museum which is to be opened in Old Zion church at Bay and Adelaide streets. It will be run as a dime museum and variety theatre, and good attractions are promised. The following gentlemen were presented yesterday at Ogogode hall as having been called to the bar: J. J. A. Weir, E. Bell, J. Garbutt, F. E. Titus, A. J. Reid, W. H. Barry, C. G. Jarvis, W. J. Wallace and G. Mackenzie.

Messrs. W. D. Matthews & Co. received a telegram yesterday stating that the schooner Florence Howard, laden with 5000 bushels barley had sunk off Salmon Point. The barley belonged to Matthews & Co. The crew was saved. Misses Lonsdale Baynes, who will appear in the new York Philharmonic club in the Gardens on Monday evening next, was born at Buda Pesth, in 1838, of Hungarian parents, and letters from Liszt and other great artists speak in terms of high praise of her artistic accomplishments. Work of the boarding house committee of the N.M.C.A. for October 1883. 207 visits to boarding houses, 58 to hotels, 25 to fire-shed, 9 to public stations, 37 to saloons; 6720 balloons and 4000 tracts were distributed, and 2961 visits paid to young men.

In the Queen's bench division court yesterday judgment was reserved on Mr. Bigelow's application to release Matthe Plais, now serving a term of six months for accepting a bribe in connection with the case of the magistrate convicted for an insufficient evidence.

The trouble between the striking plasterers and the masters came up before Judge Armour at Ogogode hall yesterday and was enlarged till Friday. Chief Justice Wilson, before whom the application for an injunction was originally applied for by the masters, sent for the collectors in the case, Mr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Fairbrother. He informed them that he expected to have taken the case himself, and expressed an opinion that the injunction must fall on the ground that the plaintiffs had not made a full disclosure of the facts of the case in their original application to him, inasmuch as no mention had been made of the letter from the Master Plasterers' Association "buff-coating" the four men Maunders, Duffy, Bloomer and Davidson.

Wilson Lodge Masonic Election. Wilson lodge No. 86, G.R.C., held its annual election of officers last night in Masonic hall, which resulted as follows: Bro. Joseph Clara, W. M.; W. Bro. Joseph Paffin, L. P. M.; Bro. Samuel Brown, S. W. Bro. J. S. King, M. D.; J. W. W. Bro. Hugh McCann, treas.; W. Bro. A. R. Riches and V. W. Bro. Alex. Patterson, auditors; W. W. E. C. Caskey, rep. M. E. Wilson lodge is in a flourishing condition and the election was witnessed by a great concourse of visiting brethren.

THE FATE OF A FENIAN.

FOOLHOUND GUILTY OF THE MURDER OF KENNY.

Sentence of Death Passed—Evidence of Guilt, the Informer—A Long Excited Speech by the Prisoner.

DUBLIN, Nov. 20.—The jury found Poole guilty of the murder of Kenny after forty minutes' deliberation. The court sentenced the prisoner to death. He addressed the court and admitted he was a Fenian. He cursed England and called for "three cheers for the Irish republic."

Liam's brother-in-law of the prisoner, testified today that he at first thought Kenny had been an informer, but he now believed that revenge for the abduction of a girl led to the murder.

Poole will be hanged Dec. 18. The judge in passing sentence was deeply affected. He said the evidence led to the jury no alternative and he quite concurred in their verdict of guilty.

Before he was sentenced, Poole spoke at length, earnestly at times and in excited tones. He emphatically denied that he was a Fenian. He said he would be proud to go to the scaffold for being one. The object of the Fenian brotherhood was not to commit murder but to free Ireland from tyrannical rule. He acknowledged he was able to distinguish objects for the first time in 14 years. He had been blind and paralysed, and the shock caused by the blow he received on the head awakened the sensibility of the dormant brain. Maybe died some time after he was taken home yesterday.

The manner of a little girl's death. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the child died of the effects of an outrageous assault. Last July the alleged culprit was indicted, but discharged, the child's testimony not being admitted. The girl suffered terribly for four weeks before her death.

A big marriage. PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—Patrick O'Brien, the Irish giant, and Christiana Druick, the German giantess, were married today in the German evangelical church. An immense concourse was present, including the mayor and council, the mayor of Allegheny city, John McCullough, Margaret Mather and others.

The American Grace Darling. NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 20.—Miss Lewis, sister of Ida Lewis, "the Grace Darling of America," died this morning from consumption at Lyme Rock lighthouse, within sight of the boat used by her and sister in rescuing many lives from drowning. She was young and handsome.

A safe blown to atoms. DANVILLE, Ind., Nov. 20.—Early this morning unknown parties placed dynamite under the Dewdrop saloon. The explosion blew the building to pieces and shook the town.

UNION MEETS NEWS. The international grocers will amount to ten million dollars more estimated. Many street car conductors at St. Louis, Mo., have been discharged for stealing. All the composers on the Brooklyn Erie Park of street yesterday for an advance of wages.

THE CASE OF MARY WOODS.

The Girl's Sentence Commuted to Fourteen Years' Imprisonment.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—The death sentence passed on the Hamilton girl McCabe for the murder of her child several weeks ago has been commuted to fourteen years' imprisonment in the Kingston penitentiary. The papers in connection with the case were forwarded to Hamilton by the evening's mail.

A heavy lawsuit. MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—The case of the Bank of Montreal v. John Rankin for $20,000 came up in the court of appeal today for judgment. The bank claims the money was advanced on a check of defendant, while Rankin pleads that the money was to be used for a criminal action against the directors of the Consolidated bank and was therefore illegal.

An Abusive Appeal to the People. BRANFORD, Nov. 20.—Fitting book places to-day whether the debentures for the bonds to the Erie and Huron railroad should be handed over to E. O. Rickford, the contractor, or whether the village would stand a suit in chancery claiming nonfulfillment of contract, and resulting in a suit.

Principal Dawson has recently been the guest of Mr. Peter Redpath, at Chisholm, Scotland. The Empress Eugenie is a great favorite at Aberdeen, and she makes frequent visits to the barracks.

Geo. Stebbins, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, is expected in London, Eng., shortly on a visit. Robert Collyer says he was led to read Scott's novel by a religious newspaper, which denounced them as immoral.

At a late meeting of the Geographical Society of Erie, France, Prof. Lobano, of Montreal, was appointed resident correspondent of Canada. Mrs. Lydia Linton, the English story-writer, is now over 60 years of age, but still works with her pen and keeps all her social engagements.

Reas Bohrer is suffering from a cancer, and has been critically ill for several weeks. A dangerous surgical operation will be necessary for its removal. The director of the print room of the British museum is authority for the statement that Miss Mary Anderson visited that room under the name of Mrs. Jones, and rescued many lives from drowning. She was young and handsome.

Occur Wilde is going to visit in politics by joining the Liberal party and accepting a seat in parliament. He used to be a conservative and belonged to St. Stephen's club, London. "Sarah Bernhardt," says Oscar Wilde, "is one of the greatest beauties of the age; she is pure and fearless as a woman, and her beauty is of a rare and beautiful type, fresh, sparkling, brilliant, superbly placid."

The Bishop's Chaperon. From the Montreal Gazette. One of our M.P.'s came up from Quebec the other day in the same train with Mr. Moreau, and both got off at Richmond for dinner. On leaving the restaurant the M.P.'s, whose rather absent-mindedness was well known, placed it on his head. On reaching the platform, however, he was very much surprised to find that the M.P. had placed it on his head. The matter was explained in a few minutes, by Mr. Moreau's demand for his hat, which was returned with apologies.

Commercial Notes. From the Winnipeg Free Press. The people of the Northwest are not to be imposed on by idle twaddle about the "Mother Country." They have their commercial interests to look after, and will be guided only by commercial considerations. Freedom of commercial intercourse with the United States is a sine qua non to commercial success, and freedom of commercial intercourse is the only way to that end. Best means to obtain by some means in the near future.

Lorrie's Canadian Experience. From the London World. The Marquis of Lorne leaves no unpleasant memory behind him in Canada; he has been a warmer one than has been heretofore. He succeeded the most popular governor any colony ever knew; he was a prince with him, and with the best will in the world to be gracious and cordial, he has the Argyle manner of obvious forced frankness in its fullest development. Canada has never had a more hard-working governor. He smiled all the time, and shook hands with a conscientious assiduity and a willingness to do the thing as his nature would allow. His life was unceasingly blameless. He was not wholly fortunate in his staff, but it was not expected of him that he should have the instinct to discern that officials who were so naive with him, should be appointed a government house in Canada. As for the princes, the first ball at Rideau had sickened her of the Canadians. It is true that there were unsavory incidents of this function; but there were people about her who ought to have told her how essentially a government house in Canada must in the nature of things differ from a court ball in Buckingham palace.

How a Chinaman can be a Marquis. From the London Illustrated News. In the matter of the Marquis Tseng, "H. A. G." recently from Shanghai, has kindly enlightened me on this point. There are five degrees of nobility in China, for the Chinese terms of which it became necessary to find approximate English equivalents. Hence the duke, marquis, earl, viscount and baron, as applied to Chinese high officers of state, and so on. The noblest of these is the duke, and is hereditary in the following limited sense: The eldest son of an official who has been made a duke becomes at his father's death a marquis; the marquis's eldest son becomes at his father's death an earl; the earl's son becomes a viscount; and so on, there is a fall in rank in each generation until the peerage is extinct.

A CENTRAL PRISON BLAZE.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE WOODEN-WARE WORKSHOPS.

Loss priced at from $15,000 to $20,000—Fully Covered by Insurance—No Alarm Among the Convicts.

At 5 o'clock last evening about 80 convicts quit work in the wooden ware shop in the central prison yard. Half an hour afterwards a fire broke out in the southeast corner of the building on the second floor. This workshop is leased by Messrs. C. T. Brandon & Co., who manufacture all kinds of woodenware. The shop is 200 feet long, 50 feet wide, two stories high, and like the prison itself is built of white brick. It is situated immediately behind the north wing of the prison proper and only about twenty feet from the main wall.

The premises were well filled with woodenware of different kinds in various stages of completion. The origin of the fire could not be traced to any definite article. The men left off work at 5 o'clock exactly, when everything was apparently all right. The night guards commenced duties at 5.30, and when one of them reached the yard he noticed the fire just breaking out. A telegraphic message was at once sent to the Toronto Bridge company's works near by and box 65 in three minutes was notified. The five sections of the fire brigade east of Yonge street at Court street contingent were called out.

Warden Massey at once gave orders to the guards in charge of each corridor to notify the prisoners that there was no apprehension of danger, and by his proclamation all fears were allayed in the minds of the 150 or so of prisoners confined in the north wing. The firemen found plenty of water in the prison grounds and they were not long in getting the fire under control, although they had gained great headway before the first stream was thrown on it. Eleven lays of hose were kept at work steadily and by 7.30 the fire had nearly burnt itself out. At this hour a heavy fall of rain commenced to descend, which put the finishing touches on the firemen's efforts. The water in the shop was left standing, but the interior was as thoroughly gutted as possible. At the east end of the shop were the boiler and engine; the fire was first noticed in a corner. The exact amount of the loss and the nature of the building is not ascertained by the government. Also the boiler and engine, the shafting and a portion of the machinery in the shop were lost. The risks—that is all the workshops at the central prison and at the reformatory for boys at the Penitentiaries—are divided among the Hartford, Phoenix, Royal Canadian and Sovereign companies. The government has probably $10,000 on this particular building, but the balance of the loss was covered by insurance in five different companies. A rough estimate places their loss at from $5000 to $10,000. The shop was left with two solo told The World reporter that he did not think the entire loss would exceed $15,000. The shop which was the property of the firm of Messrs. Brandon & Co. remained at the prison all night.

The Speluncheon Concert. The attendance at the Horticultural pavilion last night 57 near the members of Col. Mapleton's opera company, was small, but the audience made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Several of the performers were heartily encouraged, and to do the audience to interfere with the conscientious performance of their parts was second. She has a mezzo soprano voice of good compass, fair quality and well-timed. She sings with a full voice, but her lower register is wanting in the vocal timbre which gives to the genuine contralto its requisite tone. Her first number, Goswami's Quando a te haia un sogno, was a fine specimen of a soprano, and this also was second. Of the three male members of the company, Signor Ricci is an excellent basso, Signor Bettini a fine tenor, and Signor Sivo a robust tenor or high baritone. The first of their numbers was a duet by Sivo and Ricci, Bellini's Il Rival. It was rendered in an admirable manner, but the difference in timing between the voices was not sufficiently marked to admit of the highest effect. Ricci—who by the way pronounces English like a native—sang with faultless execution the fine solo Rock'd in the Cradle of the Deep, and for an encore he sang the first act of the opera, Merida Di Proenza. The latter secured him an encore which was well deserved. In an upper register his notes are apt to become harsh but he controls his voice well in other respects, and sings with quite enough of animation for the concert party. Bettini's first appearance was in Sivo's Doni Pure, and instead of his duet with Patti he sang Rossini's Tarantula. The pleasing piece of the program was a duet with Patti he sang Rossini's Tarantula. The pleasing piece of the program was a duet with Patti he sang Rossini's Tarantula.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.

MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY. MEMORIALS MAY PROVE HANDY.