Military Bands Engaged To Furnish Music For Fair.

Rivaling in point of interest and magnitude exhibitions anywhere Canada, and completely eclipsing all former records of its own, the Western Fair, which will open a little more than a month hence, will be an exposition of which people of London and Western Ontario may justly feel proud. Programs outlining the events to be staged daily are off the press and are now being distributed by Secretary A. M.

The program itself is put up in smal booklet form and besides, affording patrons an intimate acquaintanceship with each day's doing contains picture of some of the entertainers who will delight fair audiences. Group phot graphs of the Great War Veterans' The Free Press Photo band, the band of the Seventh Fusiliers and also of the First Hussars organization, which will supply the music, are shown, as is also a front view of th new and imposing manufacturers' build-Vaudeville acts of variety, including acrobatic stunts, comedy and thrilling features, will be presented to the audiences during fair week. Fireworks of multi-hued colors will enhance the entertainment in the evening. Of particular interest is a pageant to be staged on Friday, September 14, by an Ohio producing company. It will form an elaboration on the subject of "The Early Days of London and Western Ontario." A large number of London people will take part in this event, as will also be the case on the day following, when the London Hunt Club
