NAME DEACONESS AT NEW ST. JAMES'

Miss F. Margrett Appointed as "Strangers" Friend

Miss Frances Margrett, Hyman street, was recently appointed deaconess at New St. James' Presbyterian Church at a meeting of the session and board of management.

Miss Margrett will take up her duties shortly. Her work will be carried on principally among the "stranger" girls and women of the city and as a visitor and helper in the congregation of the church. In taking up the work here Miss Margrett will be the only active deaconess in the city.

Miss Margrett is the daughter of the late Rev. Albert Margrett, former pastor of Olivet Congregational Church, Toronto, and Mrs. Margrett, of this city. She took her early training at the missionary training school at Nyack, N. Y., and completed her course with six months' training at the "nursing school" of the same institution. Later she was employed for some time as deaconess at Knox Church, "Young Women's House," Toronto.

Weddings

Williams-Stanley.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the United Church, Lucan, a charming autumn wedding took place, when Lella Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stanley, of Denfield, became the bride of George Berton Williams, of this city, son of Mrs. Williams and the late John Williams, of Craig street.

Rev. Mr. Brown officiated and the bridal music was played by Mrs. Gibbons, organist of the church. Before the service Miss Irene Walls sang charmingly "Because," and at the signing of the register "Bridal Dawn" was sung. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a lovely sleeveless gown of white crepe marcelle with long bodice and bouffant draped panels of chantilly lace, caught at the girdle with ornaments of pearls and sapphires. Her veil of white tulle was arranged cap fashion under a narrow circlet of pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a shower of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Anna Stanley, sister of the bride, and Gertrude Williams, sister of the groom. The groom was given away by his father, who wore a tuxedo and carried a basket of posies. Fred Stanley, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the ushers were Harold L. Williams, of London, and Clarence Stanley, of Denfield. The bridegroom's gifts to the bridesmaids and soloist were bracelets set with brilliants; to the best man and ushers, cuff links; to the organist, a brilliant brooch; to the flower girl, a ring. The church was attractively decorated with autumn flowers, arranged by the women of the congregation. At the home of the bride's parents a reception was held and a wedding supper served; pink and white decorations were effectively used. Mrs. Stanley, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of black satin-faced crepe and georgette with motifs in Oriental coloring, black hat and corsage of roses. Mrs. Williams, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black satin gown with Spanish lace; becoming black hat and corsage of roses.

The ceremony at the church was marked by the presentation to the bride of a handsome Bible, as she is the first bride to be married in the church since union.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on a motor trip to Montreal and Quebec, the bride traveling in a navy tailored suit and large black hat, with rust color and showing a French flower at the side, and an Isabella fox choker, the gift of the groom.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mrs. George Baker and Lindsay Baker, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Collins, of Windsor; Mrs. Alma Mitte, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Williams, of Stratford, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams, of St. Thomas.

Saxton-Miller.

A wedding of interest took place recently at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, Corunna, when their daughter, Margaret, was united in marriage to Clarence Saxton, of Port Burwell. Rev. J. J. Mondt, of Port Burwell, officiated.

Brett-McLennan.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place yesterday at the Church of the Redeemer, which was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, when Winnifred Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. McLennan, Wilson avenue, became the bride of George L. Brett, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brett, St. James street. Rev. A. S. H. Cree officiated.

Crow-Sinclair.

At 2 o'clock yesterday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ball, Mabel street, the marriage was solemnized of their cousin, Eva Bernice Sinclair, R.N. of New York, daughter of Mrs. J. Mills, of Tillsonburg, to Matthew Roy Crown, also of New York City. Rev. A. Burgess officiated and the bridal music was played by Miss Madeline White. The house was prettily decorated in a color scheme of mauve and white. The bride was charmingly gowned in white crepe de chine and wore a hand-embroidered tulle veil with bandeau of pearls. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Vernon Ball attended the bride. After a wedding luncheon, served to some 35 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Crown left on a motor trip through Canada, the bride traveling in a green gown with gray felt hat and wrap and shoes to match and a fur neckpiece, the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside in New York City. The bridegroom's gift to the matron of honor was a cameo brooch and to the best man a silver cigarette case.

Wallaceburg Guild.

The reopening of the Ladies' Guild, of St. James Anglican Church, Wallaceburg, was held in the parish hall when arrangements were made for the fall work, and $25 in talent money was turned in by the collectors. At the close of the business the members were entertained at supper by the officers and a social time was spent. The president of the guild is M. H. J. McDougall.

DEFERS DECISION ON ESTATE CLAIM

Woodstock Woman Claims Foster Father Promised Property

WILL BEQUEATHED NOTHING

Suits for "Commission" on Deal for Plant Dismissed

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 30. — Claiming that the late William Clarkson, her foster-father, had repeatedly promised to leave all his possessions to her in return for many years of work on his farm and had failed to do so in his will, Mrs. M. Brownlee, wife of Dr. Brownlee, brought action in the Supreme Court here to-day to secure possession of the estate.

The evidence of Mrs. Brownlee and several other witnesses was to the effect that she had been legally adopted by Mr. Clarkson and had worked on his farm most of her life up to the time of her marriage in 1922, and had received no payment, but that Mr. Clarkson had promised to leave everything to her. The latter statement was corroborated by many neighbors. The only defense was that, in Mr. Clarkson's will, nothing was left to Mrs. Brownlee. Justice Kelly reserved his judgment, but summed up strongly in favor of the plaintiff, saying that if the legal aspect of the case was cleared up, he felt the plaintiff was entitled to remuneration for the work she had done towards building up the estate.

DISMISSES CLAIMS.

Justice Kelly, in Supreme Court here this morning, delivered his judgment in the action for $5,000 brought by Edwin Holden, of this city, against the La France Textiles, Limited, and Bernard Davis, president of the company, by dismissing both actions. The plaintiff claimed that Davis had promised to pay $5,000 to Holden in connection with the purchase of the Sterling Textile Company's plant by his company, and had failed to pay.

In his judgment Justice Kelly dismissed the action against the company on the ground that it was not in existence when the alleged offer was made, and against Davis on the ground that the promise was not in writing as required by the statute of fraud. He said, however, that Holden had a moral claim against Davis, and suggested that the costs against the plaintiff be waived, which was agreed to by the defendant.

DECLARES BOYS NEVER BETTER

Brother Barnabas Defends the Lads of To-Day

URGES TRAINED LEADERS

OTTAWA, Sept. 30. — "Boys were never better than they are to-day," Brother Barnabas, director of boy welfare work for the Knights of Columbus, told the Child Welfare Conference to-night.

The church, the home and the school no longer supplied sufficient occupation for the boy as they used to do, said Brother Barnabas. The modern age had deprived many boys of their heroes in that fathers were so often and for long hours away from home, and in the fact that usually the school teacher was a woman and not a man. "No wonder many boys think they ought to keep the cops from getting fat."

"The boy is coming into his own these days. We must all be boys' leisure time. The new science of 'boyology' with its club program to fill the leisure time is going to solve our difficulties. We must train experts in this science and use no others in boy work."

The other speakers were Mrs. Robert W. Reford, of Montreal, and Prof. E. D. MacPhee, director of research department of psychology, Toronto University.

WELCOME PASTOR WITH "AT HOME"

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson Are Honored at Dundas Center

Rev. E. A. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson were guests of honor at a congregational "at home" at Dundas Center United Church last night. The guests were received by the officers of the church organizations, and with William Henman as chairman, an excellent program was given.

J. J. Farnell Morris was the program convener and the artists contributing included Mrs. Frederick Schfield, soloist, and Mrs. Sturgis, reader. Brief welcome addresses were given by representatives from each organization.

Games and contests were enjoyed and after a delightful social "get-together" refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Mrs. Dawson Kenney, assisted by the members of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Ashplant and Mrs. W. J. Weekes poured tea and coffee at a lovely table centered with a basket of marigolds.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

October 1—You are amiable, attractive and faithful and of a happy disposition. You enjoy luxury and ease, but can adapt yourself to other conditions. You are sensitive, kind and generous. You like music and art and get much enjoyment from both. You should not marry in a hurry.

Your birthstone is the opal, which means hope. Your flower is the hop. Your lucky colors are yellow and white. Clean windows and mirrors with lukewarm water and a few drops of ammonia. Then polish with a dry chamol.
