taught superstition to deify the source of every good; they worship'd friendship, which animates the moral world, on the same principle as they paid adoration to the sun, which gives life to the world of nature.

I am summon'd on board. Adieu!

To Miss RIVERS, Clarges Street.

Quebec, June 27.

I HAVE this moment your letter, my dear; I am happy to hear my mother has been amus'd at Bath, and not at all surpriz'd to find the rivals you in your conquests. By the way, I am not sure she is not handsomer, notwithstanding you tell
