

CHAPTER XXIV.—continued.

Tributaries below Quebec — The Estuary of the St. Lawrence — Character of the Coast — Gaspé Bay — Gaspé Peninsula — Mount Albert — Prevailing Winds in the Estuary — Utility of the Barometer — Currents at the Entrance of the Gulf — Icebergs — Main Current of the St. Lawrence — Affected by Winds — Ice in the Estuary and Gulf — Importance of Ice-signals — Value of the Thermometer — Temperature of the Waters of the Estuary and Gulf — Dr. Kelly's Observations

PAGE 50

CHAPTER XXV.

THE GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE.

The Gulf of St. Lawrence — Boundaries — The Bay of Chaleurs — Percé Rock — The Bird Rocks — Kinds of Birds which breed on the Bird Rocks — St. Paul's Island — Dangerous Character of St. Paul's Island and the Bird Rocks — Shipwrecks in the Gulf — The Magdalen Islands — Anticosti — Origin of its Name — Its Area — Timber Resources — Rivers — Character of its Shoals — Shipwrecks on the Coast — Wreckers — Soil of the Island — Peat — Trees — Fruit-bearing Shrubs — Peas — Character of the Seasons — Frost — Fogs — Harbours — Fox Bay — Extensive Peat Deposits — Saw Logs — Geological Features of Anticosti — Scenery — Provision Posts — Importance of Harbours on Anticosti — Value of the Island — Importance in relation to the Fisheries of the Gulf — Importance to Canada — The Bay of Chaleurs — Its Importance as a Port for Steamers — Salt and Salines on Anticosti — Importance of Anticosti to Canada

65

CHAPTER XXVI.

THE VOYAGE TO MINGAN.

A Gulf Fishing Schooner — Berths — Heads and Points — A bright Day in the Gulf — Beautiful Effects of Mirage in the Estuary — Whales — The Sulphur-bottomed Whale — The Gaspé Whale Fishery — The White Whale — Vast Numbers of the White Whale in the St. Lawrence — Esquimaux Mode of capturing the White Whale — Sharks — Why the Captain was thankful for Sharks — Pickled