A FALSE REPORT.—A rumor was industri ously circulated on Sunday and Monday of the present week, that one of the firm of Johnson Bros., pool sellers, cor. Twenty-eighth street and Broadway, New York, had appropriated all the funds and suddenly left or parts unknown. It is needless to say that there is not a particle of truth in the rumor. Both the brothers Johnson enjoy the entire confidence of the business community and never stood in higher public esteem than they now do. It is difficult to trace the report to its rightful source. Mr. Tom Johnson, however, supposes it to originate with some party in the same line of business or with some one who is largely in-terested in the pools on the result of the election. The determination these gentlemen have expressed is not to pay poels on the general result of the Presidential election, until fully assured of that result. Not one cent should be paid out until the result is placed beyond a peradventure. Meanwhile the reputation of these gentlemen should not be

THE WINNER POOTSTER .- This promising filly, though defeated as a two-year old in the Luvant Stakes, at the Goodwood Meeting of 1875, came into prominence at the Liverpool meeting, when, with 100 lbs up, she won the Knowsley Nursery Stakes, over a field of cleven starters, with the odds of 6 to 1 against her. This year she began by winning the Coronation Stakes, for three-year-ola fillies, at Ascot, over the old mile, carrying 123 pounds. She was the favorite and won by a neck. For the Azot Plate she was unplaced to Belham, while for the Park Hill Stakes, on Doncaster, she was third and last to Twine the Plaidan at even weights. WINTER PRACTISE.

A visit to the Guelph Gymnasium the other day showed that although the Base Ball season was over the Maple Leafs were keeping their hands in ; just then Mesers. Sullivan and Lapham were practising, puching and catching. If the New York Clipper man once witnessed the pitching of Sullivan his ideas of a curred delivery might be somewhat modified, as that player is get-ting the pitching of the ball down protty fine. Lapham maker a splendid catcher, and although he said he could catch pretty well, yet he modified the statement by say-ing there was no bat in the way. He thinks that he has not nerve enough to stand a season's catching. Those who have witnessed his play on first base will not be sorry to hear that he intends to stick to that position although he may once in a while "change off."

MUTUALS vs. COBOURG.

Below we give a record of the Mutual Base Ball Club for the past season. From this record it will be seen that they have not lost a single match. The game with the Blue Stockings was declared a draw after a the Silver Stars of Port Hope, were each challenged by the Mutuals, but they failed to answer the challenge. Any person who attended the matches played by this plucky club could not help remarking how well they played together, and how few chances they gave their opponents. The club was organized in 1875, and at present has but very fow equals as an amateur club in the Province.
