

In Boston this has been very apparent. This class work is not limited to members of the church. It is open to all, regardless of race, creed, or sex. The home conditions of those affected is made the subject of careful study.

MEAT AND DAIRY INSPECTION.

The time is not far off when there will be a much more thorough system of inspection of the meat and milk supplies for the people. The present system of meat inspection is only of use when the meat is to be exported. It is of no use in the case of home consumption. Steps will have to be taken to make sure that tuberculous cattle and hogs are not slaughtered and their meat placed on the market, and the milk from tuberculous cows cannot find its way to the table.

MEDICAL AFFAIRS IN ONTARIO.

That things medical in Ontario are not quite what they ought to be is apparent to all who look below the surface. We have referred to these topics in the past and do so again.

The medical degree of the University of Dalhousie carries with it the right to practise in the Maritime Provinces. The medical degrees of McGill and Laval do the same for their holders in Quebec. The University of Manitoba is accepted by the medical council of that province. Thus the medical degrees in all these provinces entitle their possessors to practise in their own provinces.

Turning to Ontario, we find quite a different state of affairs. The graduates in medicine of the University of Toronto, of Queen's University, and the Western University must pass the examinations prescribed by the Ontario Medical Council before they can enter upon practice in Ontario.

But this is not all. The amended Roddick bill, creating a Dominion Medical Council, states in section 8 (a) that "No candidate shall be eligible for any examination prescribed by the council unless he is the holder of a provincial license, or unless he presents a certificate from the registrar of his own Provincial Medical Council that he holds a medical degree accepted and approved by the Medical Council of the said province."

The medical graduates of all the provinces of Canada may go up to the Dominion Medical Council and secure a Dominion qualification if they wish, with the exception of those from the province of Ontario. This is a serious handicap on the Ontario Universities. It is the plain duty of the government to see that this is remedied.
