

Manhattan College, when his task was interrupted, and himself snatched away by inexorable death in the midst of his usefulness.

Frere Ogerien came to this country in the month of May last, having been deputed by the Superior-General of his Order, for the purpose of collecting and forming cabinets of Natural History for the Colleges of the Christian Brothers in America and elsewhere. He was also engaged, by several scientific societies of France, to enrich their museums with such specimens as he might gather on this continent.

In the prosecution of this object, he travelled through the United States and Canada, collecting, with remarkable success, a considerable number of both mineral and zoological specimens, and admiring with delight the grand natural scenery of our hemisphere. He had only recently returned from his interesting tour, and betook himself to his favorite labor, when his career was suddenly ended.

His funeral obsequies took place on the 16th December, the day after his death, in the Church of the Annunciation, at Manhattanville. A Solemn Requiem was offered up by the Rev. Father Breen, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Wm. Clowry, of St. Gabriel's, as deacon, and the Rev. Francis Guicheteau, of De La Salle Institute, as subdeacon. The Brothers of the College, with their students, were in attendance, as also deputations from Manhattan Academy, St. Theresa's Academy, De La Salle Institute, and the Protectors. At intervals during the solemn service the mournful strains of the College band bespoke in pathetic tones the sorrow of all who knew the worth of that humble Religious. In his premature demise, science has lost one of her favorite sons, and Manhattan College one of its most distinguished professors.

The deceased was titular member of several scientific societies in France, officer of the French Academy, and was honored with seventeen medals. But the greatest title of Frere Ogerien, his crown and glory, is that from his infancy he was a true and faithful follower of his Divine Master, and from his youth, a humble, simple and devoted child of the venerable De La Salle.—Requiescat in pace—Amen—N. Y. Tablet.

THE LATE MR. McDONALD OF THE TRANSCRIPT.—We regret to have to announce the death of Mr. McDonald, so long a resident of this city, and for thirty years proprietor of the Transcript. Mr. McDonald leaves behind him an untarnished character for honesty and kindness of disposition, and notwithstanding his long connection with the press it may safely be said that he does not leave a single enemy. The biographical sketch which appears in the Witness is no more than a just tribute to the deceased. The Witness says:—By the death of Mr. McDonald, formerly proprietor of the Transcript, Montreal has lost one of her oldest and most highly-esteemed citizens and the printing profession one of its oldest and best members. Mr. McDonald was born 1798 in the parish of Chronyard, Inverness-shire, but the family moved to Glasgow when he was five years old. In that city he learned the printing business, and in 1815 emigrated to Canada. The family went to Lochiel, in the County of Glenargy, but Mr. McDonald remained in Montreal working at his trade in the Gazette office then owned by Mr. Brown. In 1824 he became foreman of the Herald office, then owned by Archibald Ferguson, Esq., and continued to fulfil in a very able manner the duties of that responsible position till Mr. Ferguson sold the establishment in 1834. Mr. McDonald then formed a partnership with Mr. John Lovell and commenced the Transcript, of which he afterwards became sole proprietor, and which he carried on for thirty years. He then, on account of advancing age, disposed of it, and under the name of the Daily News and Weekly Transcript it is still continued by his first partner.—Daily News.

THE ST. BRIDGET'S ASYLUM ASSOCIATION, QUEBEC.

Pursuant to advertisement, the members of this association held their annual meeting in the Hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic and Literary Institute, on Thursday, the 24th of December, 1869.

The Reverend Bernard McGauran, President, in the chair.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

After which the Reverend President stated the object of the meeting to be the reception of the annual report of the Committee, and statement of the Treasurer, (both of which would be read) and the election of a committee for the ensuing year. He regretted that the attendance of members was not larger, but at the same time thanked those present, for their attendance; he stated that a very favorable opportunity now presented itself of securing the assistance of Nuns, to take charge of the Asylum, on terms highly favorable to the Institution. He congratulated the Association on the great success which had attended their labors, and instanced the fact that the debt on their property was now only $3400, whilst there was more than sufficient money in hand to pay off this sum; that of the debt of $6,800 created in 1867, $3,400 had already been paid exclusive of interest. His further remarks are, in substance, contained in the following:—

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO THE ST. BRIDGET'S ASYLUM ASSOCIATION.

GENTLEMEN.—In reviewing the operations of the past year, your committee would respectfully state: the New Building remains in the same condition as at last report; it being considered prudent to defer its construction till the entire debt due upon it be discharged.

Considerable improvements have, however, been otherwise effected. Some alterations and repairs have been done in the Old Building; a larger portion of the garden has been cultivated; the earth and rubbish of the foundations and superstructure which had remained have been removed; and the grounds cleared and levelled: this adds to the appearance of the site, which when under culture, will have a pleasing effect.

At last report there were in the Asylum (besides the regular staff of the institution,) 27 adults and 20 children; since which nine adults and 16 children have been admitted. During the year, 7 of the former have died and four have gone to their friends. Of the children 13 have been adopted by families, and five have been taken by parents.

The by-laws require two of the committee in rotation every Friday, to report on the state and wants of the Institution. These visitors have every facility of observing its internal arrangements; they bear pleasing testimony to the sufficiency of wholesome food distributed, the healthy appearance of the inmates and the uniform regularity and comfort prevalent throughout. Thus the designs for which it has been founded are being satisfactorily accomplished under the able management of the Lady superintending.

The religious wants of the inmates are attended to by one of the clergy of the St. Patrick's Church. Divine service is celebrated on Sundays and Holydays, and occasionally during the week. The services of a leading Physician—charitably proffered—are retained, and the constant attendance of a first class school mistress is devoted to the instruction alone of the children.

The ladies of the congregation, who have been ever ready to assist the Association, held a bazaar in the month of October last, but owing to circumstances beyond their control, the proceeds were not as large as on former similar occasions. The net amount realised was $1,029 37.

An amount of two thousand four hundred dollars had been offered by an aged gentleman for a life annuity of £54. This sum the committee accepted, and which, with twelve hundred dollars from the proceeds of the bazaar and other sources, they have paid over on account of the mortgage of four thousand dollars, reducing their liabilities to four hundred dollars. This latter sum is the actual balance of the mortgage now remaining due.

It may be observed that your committee have had no ordinary difficulties to surmount during the past 13 years in procuring the necessary resources for the purchase and maintenance of an expensive establishment, unlike most others of its kind, in as much as it has no fixed revenue, is destitute of any self-support and altogether dependant on charity alone. With few exceptions, the adults from age or physical debility are unfit to perform any useful employment or even to assist themselves, and the children, some orphans, others abandoned by their parents require in many cases to be nursed.

Many subscriptions to the Building Fund remain unpaid, these sums if collected would assist materially in discharging the remaining liabilities and finishing the Asylum. Subscribers are earnestly requested to forward the good work by paying the amounts they have voluntarily promised.

The Committee would submit, the greatest danger to be apprehended and avoided, is the overcrowding disproportionate, to means—this, though often causing the refusal of very deserving applications, has sometimes been disregarded; therefore in view of securing permanent stability, they would recommend to their successors, diligent supervision in regard to the mode and number of admissions.

The present extent and anticipated increase in usefulness of the Institution suggests the necessity of providing a permanent system of internal management having the power to perpetuate itself; Your Committee would therefore recommend that the Reverend President be requested and empowered by the Association, to procure the services of Nuns to this end,—the ownership of the property of course remaining with the Association.

The committee would express their renewed obligations to the charitable differing in creed, for the support and sympathy accorded and also to the early firm friends, whom public announcements from time to time indicate as still most generous benefactors.

The committee would draw particular attention to the princely munificence of the late James Gibb, Esq.; his donation to the Asylum is six thousand dollars. This gentleman was liberal in life—in death his charity has seldom been equaled.

Should the same zeal as displayed in the past, characterise the future direction, under whatever phase,—whether lay or religious,—the benefits to the destitute must be very great; and once clear of debt, of the permanency of your Asylum as one of the benevolent institutions of the country there need be no fear entertained.

In conclusion while tendering grateful acknowledgements to all, and soliciting a continuance of usual favors in aid of a deserving undertaking; your committee would reiterate their heartfelt gratitude to a Merciful Providence, who has favoured their efforts and vouchsafed assistance whence least expected.

The whole respectfully submitted.
B. MCGAURAN, Ptre.,
President.

FATHER LANGRAN.—This eloquent gentleman has just returned from a preaching tour in the valley of the Ottawa, and will leave for Granby and Burlington on a similar mission in the course of the present week.

CANADIAN FISHERIES FOR CANADIAN FISHERMEN.—The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has invited tenders for the charter of six swift sailing fore and aft schooners, measuring from about sixty to one hundred and thirty tons, with suitable boats to each vessel for marine police purposes on the sea coasts of Canada. The crews are to be provided and the vessels provisioned at the expense of the Government, and the charters are to run from 1st April to 1st November. The Government have not decided to take action in this matter until after the 1st of March. From the discontinuance of the treaty of Reciprocity to the present time, our fishery arrangements with the United States have been merely provisional. They were conceded by us on that understanding, and have been continued on the assumption that we were just on the eve of settling the terms of a new treaty. But the longer we have continued to allow the Americans access on liberal terms to our fisheries, the more evident it has become that they are not disposed to make any concessions to us in return. In New England the idea is prevalent that the present arrangement is the best they can have, to catch our fish without let or hindrance, and to impose duties on the fish that are caught by our fishermen for the American market. Every year that this arrangement continues the idea takes stronger hold of the American mind that it is no more than they are entitled to, and it would indicate the most culpable indifference on our part, not merely to the interests of the Maritime Provinces, but to the future prospects of Reciprocity between the entire Dominion and the United States, if this matter were not firmly dealt with without further delay.

GANANOQUE, Jan. 11.—This morning about five o'clock the body of an unknown man was found on the railway track near Gananoque Station, fearfully mutilated. He is supposed to have been run over by a special train going west. Deceased is supposed to be about 50 years of age, bald headed, grey hair and moustache, had on a grey flannel cloth over coat, grey tweed under coat, black pants and blue cloth cap. No papers of identity were found on his person. From the evidence at the Coroner's Inquest, held by Dr. McCrum, he was on his way to Perth. The inquest has adjourned till to-morrow.

Our despatches from St. Paul indicate that Vicar General Thibault's mission has borne some fruits. He has had earnest conferences with the insurgents, and there is talk of sending a deputation to Ottawa to make terms. The St. Paul Press almost abandons already its hopes of North-Western annexation. It is probable that the Vicar General has detached the clergy from Riel, which will greatly weaken his power.—Toronto Globe.

RAB RIVEN—Chicago, Jan. 11.—A special despatch to the Tribune, dated Fort Abernethy, Jan. 5 (via St. Cloud, Jan. 10), says:—Advices received to day from Red River state that the Canadians taken prisoners have not been sent across the line but are yet in jail. Dr. Schultz has been caught, and is made to carry water for the rest of his companions, with a yoke about his neck. The people are bitter against Gov. Smith; of the Hudson Bay Company. They allowed Father Thibault [who is said to be endorsed with authority from Rome] to come in, but he is kept under guard, and is not permitted to talk to the half-breeds. De Salaberry was refused permission to come on with Dr. Tupper's daughter and Capt. Cameron, and is returning with the Canadian surveying party who went up last summer.
