

They were last seen on the evening of Friday, Oct. 8th, in and around the college, and first became conspicuous by their absence early the following morning. They are all of tender years and very "fresh" complexion. Mr. Taylor, '08, asks.

The first regular meeting of the Wycliffe College Students' Mission Society was held Thursday evening last. The reports of some thirty students, who were engaged in mission work during the summer, were heard. The men seem to have done splendid work in their various fields. Some amusing experiences were recorded, notably that of Mr. Spriggs, which was quite "eggs"-traordinary.

Our old friend, G. W. McKee, accompanied by his genial smile, was in town last week representing the Detroit Gas Works. Some rude person has suggested that "Mac" had a complete line of samples with him.

That historic landmark, the erstwhile excuse for a sidewalk in front of the college, is now, we rejoice to see, no more; and in its place is, — nothing. Our friends would fain pass by on the other side were it not that there is no other side. We "still have hopes our latest hours to crown," that the youngest freshman may live to see a new sidewalk in the room of the old.

Mr. Spriggs complains that he has been subjected to considerable annoyances during the past summer from the moroseness and ill-temper of his "sulky cart." From our limited knowledge of natural history, we opine that the said vehicle must have been a mongrel species.

Wycliffe was represented in the sports on Field Day by Messrs. W. Ellis and H. A. Ben Oliei. The former entered in the half-mile race, and the latter in the quarter-mile, and the two hundred and twenty yards' dash, in which he came third. We hope Wycliffe men will not grow weary of well-doing, and that they will be heard from again on future field days.
