

LIFE ON A CAROUSEL

Round and round it goes;
Where it stops, nobody knows.

by
Laurel Pardy
1985, revised 1994

The author is a twenty-five year veteran of the Canadian foreign service. Postings to India, Africa, the United States and Central America provide the experience on which her observations are based. Her two children started their foreign service life at ages two years and three months respectively and accompanied their parents throughout their school years. She was active in the Foreign Service Community Association, serving as President from 1992-1994 and has been a regular contributor to bout de papier since 1985. It is through these articles that the author is best known, sharing her insights and comments on the rotational lifestyle with other members of the foreign service.
