

Geographics are the backbone of the Department. They play a key role in identifying and promoting Canadian interests in our bilateral relationships. Following is a paper outlining some of the contemporary pressures geographics face, and suggestions on how to improve these divisions' effectiveness. The views expressed are those of the author.

16500130

Dept. of Foreign Affairs
Min. des Affaires étrangères

DEC 1 2004

Return to Departmental Library
Retourner à la bibliothèque du ministre