

h.
he
d.

"THIS is a serious matter my boy, and you must remember, that if death should ensue from any cause, at a time when you are not protected by life insurance, the loss will not fall on you, but on those who look to you for protection."

"Well I'll think about it, am inclined however to take the chances myself. I have not worried much about it yet."

O. L.