MEN! YOU DID COME! COME AGAIN! IT'S WORTH WHILE

3500 pairs of fine American Shoes for men didn't go in a day—We didn't expect them to—But a few days will see the end of this sensational clearing of a manufacturer's overstock at the rate we've been keeping the parcel desk going since yesterday morning when the sale opened—You know that the goods are seasonable or we wouldn't be offering—You know that they are high-grade or we couldn't risk our reputation in selling them—Tan or black, the toe you like, the heel you want, the sole you prefer, the style that pleases you, laced, buttoned or blucher—And they're hand-made goods right from the benches of one of the best known makers in America—Are to be great values at 5.00 and 6.00 a pair, and we're pushing them over the counters about as fast as we fit them on at

CHIEF JUSTICE ENLISTED

Member of Saskatchewan Judiciary to Speak for Home Mission.

H. K. Caskey, secretary of the Canadian Council, Laymen's Missionary Movement, announced yesterday that arrangements had been completed with Chief Justice J. T. Brown, of the Supreme Court of Saskatchewan to attend all the Western Conventions presenting the home mission side of Canada's missionary problem.

It is believed that the aim of the Laymen's Missionary movement is to bring that of foreign missions. This, however, is an erroneous idea. While the foreign mission problem is of paramount importance, home missions are not neglected. Many of the strongest addresses at the various conventions will be on this subject, and Justice Brown has been chosen as the best man to present it to the west.

Rev. H. C. Priest, secretary of the Missionary Educational movement, has been appointed to attend the conventions to look after the literature and publicity end.

Ottawa has asked for a convention and arrangements have been made to hold one there on Nov. 12, 14 and 15, immediately preceding that of Montreal.

INQUEST ADJOURNED

Doctor Who Conducted Postmortem
Holds to Suicide Theory.

ST. CATHARINES, July 24.—(Special.)—The inquest into the death of Edna Comfort and her three-year-old child, found dead in Beamsville reservoir a month ago, was resumed today, but immediately adjourned for a month, to allow officers of the crown to investigate the many rumors prevalent. The immense crowd of farmers and others present were disappointed at the adjournment. The fruit growers of the surrounding district had evidently taken a holiday to attend, altho this is their busiest time.

Dr. Fairchild, one of the doctors who made the post-mortem, still holds the suicide theory in the case of the mother.

Unites.

The Rhine incidents ate potatoes and all manner of starchy foods. "In order to preserve the unities!" they explained. "The unities!" repeated the theorist in great perplexity. "Yes, only very stout sonnetresses will be able to do full justice to the trifles and things which are destined to be written about us!" declared the Rhine Maidens with prophetic discernment.—Puck.

ROYALTY WAXED UP IN A MONTREAL ROMANCE

Lady, a Grand-daughter of Austrian Emperor—Young Man Incarcerated in Lunatic Asylum.

MONTREAL, July 24.—A romance said to involve a morganatic grand-daughter of Emperor Francis Josef of Austria, an American broker, a Montreal man unable to resist the call of beauty, a divorce action and two habeas corpus proceedings is brought to light by an apparently innocent habeas corpus application which came into the courts to-day.

The application is for the release of Justin B. MacDougal, now detained at the St. Joseph Benoit Asylum, Longue Point, at the instance of his father, who wishes to protect him from the morganatic member of the royal house of Austria with whom he is said to be enamored. The application states that the young man is detained in the asylum against his will and without any legal proceedings. The affidavit in support is signed by royalty in the case.

Just at this juncture Justin B. MacDougal appeared and with him he went to New York to consult lawyers concerning a divorce action, accompanied by her little son. In New York the father kidnapped the son and instituted divorce proceedings on his own account.

MacDougal and Mrs. Hayne returned to Montreal, whereupon the young man's father had him incarcerated. Some time last week a party of his friends motored down at night to rescue him, but were repelled by fire-arms.

In the meantime Mr. MacDougal, sr., has talked with Alma Vecera, and has offered to help her defend herself in the divorce case which her husband is bringing.

Mrs. Hayne, however, seems determined to stick to her other admirer, and was in court with her lawyer, Gaudet, to-day, to take part in the action for securing his release from the asylum.

Just at this juncture Justin B. MacDougal appeared and with him he went to New York to consult lawyers concerning a divorce action, accompanied by her little son. In New York the father kidnapped the son and instituted divorce proceedings on his own account.

CANVASSING THE APPOINTMENTS

Considerable canvassing for the civic appointments to the new harbor commission is being done at the city hall. Joseph E. Thompson is being kept prominently before the controllers and aldermen, and the appointment of H. Langlois is said to be favored by a big Toronto financier. Controller Church is also very much in the running.

A Triumph of Sense.

Under the caption "A Triumph of Sense" Jugend tells this story: "In the lower court of a small town in Saxony William had served faithfully and well as attendant to the presiding judge for many years without ever having received any reward aside from his legal stipend. On the day of adjournment for the season, when visitors had retired, the judge, who was also about to leave, asked: 'William, do you smoke?' Seeing a square box under the judge's arm, he answered respectfully: 'Yes, your honor.' 'I knew it by the smell of your coat,' said the judge, as he walked out."

A Large Attendance.

"What is the cause of all this crowding? It looks as if a convention of some kind were being held here." "There it! This is the first annual meeting of statesmen who have been whitewashed by investigating committees."—Chicago Record-Herald.

SOME WORRY OVER CROPS

Cool Weather in the West Retards Grain But Fears Aren't Great.

The western harvest conditions are now considered more serious than at any time this season. The weather has been rather cool in all three provinces and it is said by some of the farmers that the grain has been at a standstill during the past three weeks. This month has been the coldest in the west for many years past and unless warmer weather comes immediately the harvest will be very late. Cool weather in July, however, is usually followed by a very warm August, and if that is the case this year, the crop will still be 50 per cent. better than last year. The total yield is estimated at 150,000,000 bushels.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

There's hardly anybody who doesn't believe that noise is patriotism. The snarler a woman is the less credit she claims for it when her husband is around. A girl can look as untrodden as an angel even when her shoes are nearly killing her. Red hair grows darker with age, but the temper that goes with it keeps right on brightening up. Some men are so lucky that if a good umbrella is stolen from them at a big gathering they can steal a better one.—New York Press.

The Fishing.

"Did you say the fishing around here was interesting?" "Yes," replied Farmer Corntassed. "The fellow that catches one fish breaks the record."—Washington Star.

The Other Extreme.

"I haven't enough money to startle society with my gown." "In that case, why not go in for barefoot dancing?"—Pittsburg Post.

A Philanthropist.

"My idea of a friend in need," remarked the man with the wilted collar and the sunburnt nose, "is the chap who will hunt you up on a crowded excursion steamer and offer you a bunk in his stateroom, when every berth on the boat is sold and he himself has to double up with some other man to make room for you. Travel on an overcrowded boat brings out the meanness in some men, but it brings out the good in others."—Chicago Tribune.
