DEGREE FOR N. MTAVISH.

Editor of Canadian Magazine Honored by Acadia University.

Wolville, N.S., May 29.—Newton McTavish, editor of The Canadian Magazine, Toronto, received the honorary degree of master of arts at the graduating convocation of Acadia University today. The honor was conferred on Mr. McTavish for "distinction in literary and pictorial criticism."

Twenty-five members of the graduating class are overseas, and a flag bearing 25 stars had a conspicuous place on the platform of the assembly hall, where the exercises were held.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

With receipts of about 400 cattle on the Union Live Stock Exchange yesterday, coupled with a few good loads and ends of left-over cattle, there was more than enough on the local market yesterday to supply the limited demand.

Representatives from the big packing houses bought very sparingly or not at all, and but for a good deal of outside buying for Montreal, some of it speculative, the local exchange would have been mighty dull. It was, in fact, a very trifling more active, with a slow and draggy but fair clean up, and the prospects for Monday a good deal brighter.

Any sales made yesterday were on the basis of Monday and Tuesday's prices, and there was little to record of an outstanding nature.

The decline has been a severe one and has probably cost some of the shippers who bought hest at country prices a good deal of money, but the general opinion is that good choice cattle will continue to sell at a profit.

Calves were strong and 2½c higher, with receipts of about 450, and sheep were strong and 1½c higher, with receipts of about 100.

The run of hogs was 17½c, with the price 20c, fed and watered, but the feeling was weak and the outlook for a few quotations for next week, according to the packers.
