Armies Seven Spend a Quiet 3 Months

Reconnoitering Parties in Constant Touch, but Losses Are Unimportant—Clash on Friday Last Ended in a Russian Reverse.

Fusan, July 25.—The past three months with both armies has been the quietest period of the entire war. There have been no engagements at the front, the only encounters being those of reconnoitering expeditions sent out by both armies with a small total of losses.

The Russian and Japanese lines are seven miles apart. The Russians maintain a screen of cavalry outposts, some miles in front of their trenches to guard against reconnoitering forces from both sides to traverse the neutral zone, frequently feeling the strength of the others at the front and making a small weekly list of killed, wounded and captured.

The fight reported on Friday was the first of its kind which has occurred east of the railway. Two Russian reconnoitering forces approached the Japanese line, one about twenty miles, the other seventy miles east of the railway. The first contingent consisted of two squadrons of cavalry, the second of two battalions of infantry. Both retired after brief encounters.

MODERATE INDEMNITY ONLY AND PEACE TRULY WANTED

Spokesman of Japanese Plenipotentiaries Says War Must End for Humanity's Sake.

New York, July 25.—That Japan will demand an indemnity from Russia in the negotiations for peace, and that the war will be declared an end, at the conclusion of the negotiations at Portsmouth, N.H., next month, is the belief of Baron Komura, head of the Japanese peace mission, as voiced by Ainar Sato, official spokesman for the baron. The party arrived here today.

Mr. Sato, in an interview to-night, said: "I am confident that peace will be successfully negotiated by the appointed delegates. The Japanese will be guided by moderation, and no excessive demands will be made, but the sentiment in Japan and Russia is for peace, and in the interests of humanity and propriety there must be peace."

The cost to Japan, however, has been great. The war is costing Japan one million dollars a day, and there is a feeling that there ought to be an indemnity.

Horse, Wagon and Driver Somersault Over Fence and Down Hill; Unhurt

Trolley Bumped Into Blind Equine at Dundas-Street Bridge and the Animal Reaches Railway Tracks After a Most Surprising Flight Thru Space.

After having his wagon jolted by a street car while crossing over Dundas-street bridge, causing horse, wagon, driver and all to plunge thru the railing at the eastern end of the bridge, a horse and wagon fell into a 50-foot embankment, dashed thru a second fence and finish on the railway tracks below, where the animal reached a most surprising flight thru space.

The horse fell and the wagon described a complete circle over the top of the bridge. Mr. Mills, who was driving the horse, was thrown out of the seat and landed on the ground. The horse and wagon followed, and striking the top of the bridge, the horse and wagon fell into a 50-foot embankment, dashed thru a second fence and finish on the railway tracks below, where the animal reached a most surprising flight thru space.

London, July 25.—The members of the opposition in the house of commons, practically led by John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, who was the mainspring of the recent defeat of the government yesterday (Tuesday) inaugurated their threatened plan of making government business impossible, and in pursuance of which, they managed to keep the house in stormy session until 3 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Redmond's determination to block government business is a constant recourse to closure as the only means of advancing business. Supporters of the government, warned by the recent disaster, loyally stood by Mr. Redmond, maintaining a majoritarian policy in the neighborhood of 60.
