In special was a superior of the control of Taxation in the old lands would naturally be more oppressive than before the war. Thousands of homes would be wrecked and the adventurous spirit resulting from the war would lead multitudes to seek new homes on this side of the ocean. As the United States free lands are all exhausted a large proportion of these would flock to Canada. Of greater importance to herself and to others are the problems which Canada has to face in the higher spheres of life. But here, too, there is far more ground for optimism than for for optimism than for pessimism. Though we may not have too much occasion to boast of our politics, there have been many indications in the last few years of a loosening of the partizan prejudices that have been far too pronounced. Union efforts for temperance and other social reforms have been very effective, while individuals and governments have discovered that they could not rely on the support of their constituencies if plainly implicated in graft or corruption.

Still more momentous and perplexing are the questions affecting the Dominion's foreign relations. Canada has been drawn out into the stream of world affairs at an earlier stage of her history than the United States. The war has not only emphasized this, but has shown the intimate connection between all nations. This should lead to an "interpatriotism" corresponding to our reten but by the spirit of good-will. The welfare of each spells the welfare of all. There should, therefore, be not only an Imperial Parliament for the British Empire, but a larger Congress, beginning perhaps with the Anglo-Saxon native the state of the spirit was the foreign policies of

The BORDEN PARTISAN ruse was discovered, of course, and it cost the Borden candidate 27 votes. Admits This in Political Discussion at Rather an expensive untruth.

The Free Press makes the astounding statement that Canada was bankrupt two months ago. And yet it adocated the selling of Victory Bonds to the people, whose security was a bankrupt nation. Such an infamous statement shows to what straits the Borden Government is pushed, when it would allow this nation to be so de famed. If the United States owns Canada, let the people know it. Joe Miller's "The roar of cannons may be heard in London, England, as though only a few miles away, and one can imagine joke book is not quite so funny as the Borden organs these days.

few miles away, and one can imagine the brave soldiers of our Empire holding a trench for dear life, waiting for reinforcements and to propose a referendum, as Laurier has done, is absolutely criminal and all but treasonable," said the speaker. "I feel that the liberty and honor of the Empire are at stake, and that the election of Sir Wilfred Laurier would be a national disaster. I am doing everything in my power to prevent it. Every patriot who is willing to sacrifice something for his country should support the military service act.

The draftees were to be mobilized on December 10. They were to be sent overseas immediately. That was the story told some time ago. In one sub-division there are nine names overlooked. Appeals will be entered in each of these cases.

During the past two days the Gibbons' headquarters have been kept busy answering inquiries. Men and women have been left off the list in every sub-division. On Tu-sday the staff of clerks were rushed from early in the morning until 11 o'clock at night looking up names, taking addresses and getting ready to enter appeals. Dozens of men who had reason to believe that they were not on the lists came in to inquire, while many women telephoned.
