Lifebuoy for the "Counter-attack"

All day long he's been standing the attacks of dirt, dust, grime, germs and microbes. Now for the counter-attack. Lifebuoy to the front! Its rich, creamy lather for skin, shampoo and bath or for socks, shirts, handkerchiefs, etc., makes short work of "the enemy."

is more than soap, finest of all soaps though it is. Lifebuoy has splendid antiseptic and germicidal power as well—its mission is to clean and purify. Send your soldier a package of Lifebuoy. He'll appreciate it.

Tom Thomson, the Toronto artist, who disappeared on July 8, was drowned at Canoe Lake, Algonquin Park, on that day. The mystery of his sudden disappearance was removed by the discovery of his body in the waters of the lake on Tuesday. George Thomson, of New Haven, Conn., a brother, went to the scene of the drowning and joined in the search. Burial will be made in Algonquin Park. Tom Thomson was 42 years of age, and was an artist of rare ability. His pictures were sought for the collections of the Ontario and Dominion Governments.

"Critics," said Eric Brown in a recent article in The London Studio, "look to him to carry forward the Canadian landscape painting far beyond anything at present realized. Wandering alone the best part of the year in Algonquin Park, insured to hardship and reputed the best guide, fisherman and canoeist in the district, he lives with these wonderful seasons and they live by him. Here, again, is the decorative sense strongly developed and visible in every composition. There is no loss of character; the northland lies before you, whether it is a winding river fringed with spring flowers seen thru a screen of gaunt black pines, or whether the green blocks of melting ice float on blue liberated waters of the lake."

Had fingers crushed.

While employed at the Willard Chocolate Co., yesterday afternoon, Jas. Jolly, 160 Quebec avenue, had one finger on his right hand broken, and one on his left hand crushed when caught in a machine. He was removed to the Western Hospital.
