

WILL SURVEY LINE TO JAMES BAY

Cochrane Member Urges Government to Extend T. and N.O. at Once.

TO OPEN RICH COUNTRY

State of Finances Would Not Warrant Outlay Now, Says Premier.

Malcom Lang, Cochrane, had a motion adopted by the legislature yesterday demanding immediate action on the proposed extension of T. and N.O. to James Bay; but Premier Drury could not accept this recommendation as an immediate mandate in view of financial conditions.

Mr. Lang made an inspiring address, in the course of which he said that at no time in the history of the province could this bill have been introduced with such assurance of support and success as at present. In 1919, he said, Ontario alone brought and paid for $75,000,000 worth of coal from the United States, bought and paid for another $100,000,000 worth of iron and steel from the United States, large quantities of oil and petroleum products, fish and other natural resources.

"We may only hope," he continued, "to induce our people to cease purchasing from the States by furnishing them a product in Ontario to replace the American product. From this broad standpoint alone, the expectation of our production along the lines of this railroad of coal, iron, steel, oil and fish more than justifies the railroad."

The proposal Mr. Lang made is to build from Cochrane to Moose Factory on James Bay. Building from Cochrane 185 miles north to Moose Factory on the mouth of the Moose River where it empties into James Bay, gives us total mileage from Toronto to Moose Factory of 662 miles or a run of 36 hours for passenger trains or fast thru freights with refrigerator cars.

Nine great rivers run northward from the transcontinental to James Bay all eventually joining up with the James River for its final entrance to the bay. They are the Abitibi, Mattagami, French, Rupert, Grand Ron, Kapuskasing, Opinicon, Mistassini, Kabinakogami, French River, Moose River.

The water powers capable of commercial development on these rivers run into approximately 1,500,000 horse power. On the two rivers alone, Abitibi and Mattagami, between which and close to which the proposed railway will run, controlled horse power of nearly 1,000,000.

Cost $11,000,000. Preliminary surveys of the alternative routes of this railway have been made. Careful estimates have been made for the T. and N.O. railway by commission by their engineers and are of record showing the estimated cost in 1912, $5,183,838. To this should be added a later estimated $250,000 for the deepening of the mouth of the river at the docks and terminals to provide a channel with ten feet depth instead of the present six foot channel.

The estimated cost of 1912 must be substantially increased. After conference with railway engineers we are, in order to be on the safe side, adding 100 per cent, and placing an estimate on present day cost at $11,000,000.

MOTHER OF 18 SAYS IT WAS A GODSEND

"From Now On, Tanlac Will Be My Family Medicine," Says Mrs. Grenier.

"Well, this is certainly a coincidence, for the very moment you were coming in I was pouring into the kitchen sink all the costly medicines that had been prescribed for me," said Mrs. Soloman Grenier, to the special Tanlac representative who had called at her residence, 1443 Logan street, Montreal, the other day to ascertain the facts.

"Tanalac is the only thing I found during my three years of ill-health," added Mrs. Grenier, "that has done me any good. I just consider it a godsend to suffering humanity. For at least two weeks in every month I had frightful headaches and would get so dizzy it was difficult for me to walk. Many a time after meals I had almost unbearable cramping pains in my stomach, and, at times, I was so overcome with heart palpitation that I had to sit down. I had no appetite and sometimes got so dizzy that things turned dark and had the appearance of a veil of smoke before my eyes. In order to get relief from these attacks I had to take to bathing my head with ice water. I was constipated the worst kind, had very painful neuralgia in my neck, and did not feel strong enough to attend to my household duties. I could only sleep part of the night and my condition was so distressing that life hardly seemed worth living."

"But I began taking Tanlac about three weeks ago, and am just so glad to see how wonderfully my health is being restored that I want to tell everybody about Tanlac. I have no more headaches, no dizzy spells, since I am able to digest my food properly my heart palpitations have disappeared. My appetite is just fine and I am eating meats—even pork—and anything else I want without the least trouble afterwards. I am no longer constipated, that weak, tired feeling has also left me, and now that I feel strong and relieved I am building up in weight right along. I have already gained five pounds and feel stronger and better than I have since my troubles started three years ago. I am the mother of eighteen children and from this time on I expect Tanlac to be my family medicine. It is so good that I want to make this statement and help others who need it like I did to know about it."

Tanalac is sold in Toronto by sixteen Tamblin Drug Stores. A special Tanlac representative is at the Tamblin store, 117 Yonge street, where he is meeting the public daily.

of Ontario has here available 3000 miles of coast line for fishing purposes. During the year 1919 the fisheries of Canada produced $40,000,000. Ontario of this amount, less than $3,000,000.

2. Agricultural Land.—Internal data has been collected during the past summer, 1919. Photographs taken in August last demonstrate the character of the crops, potatoes, hay and oats grow in abundance.

3. Pulp and Paper Industry.—There is available a paper supply for the world. May we call your attention to the pulp and paper situation today? Eight years ago, in Ontario, it became stagnant and dead. Today it is a wonderful industry, established on a sound and profitable basis with no limitation as to its future importance.

The James Bay extension will open up another pulpwood area, with nine large rivers flowing into the James Bay, down which the raw material may be floated, and with water power in abundance available for power, so that five new industries each equal in capacity to the Abitibi Company may be established.

4. Oil Fields.—During 1919 very important discoveries of petroleum oil shale have been made between the National Railway and James Bay.

5. Precious Metals.—All the expectations realized in the country between North Bay and Cochrane may be fore-shadowed in the new country to be opened up. When steel left North Bay, no precious metal camps had been discovered. There is every reason to expect as the result of the opening up by railroad of the vast new area, that fresh camps of gold, cobalt, silver and nickel will be established. The deposits in the four camps now producing are not a freak or separate location. They indicate the presence of precious metals, widely distributed thruout the pre-Cambrian area.

6. Iron.—At Belcher Islands, in the bay, engineers have examined and reported on $50,000,000 worth of iron ore, available, easy of access, situate on tide water, with deep harbors. The analysis shows there is every reason to expect as the result of the opening up by railroad of the vast new area, that fresh camps of gold, cobalt, silver and nickel will be established. The deposits in the four camps now producing are not a freak or separate location. They indicate the presence of precious metals, widely distributed thruout the pre-Cambrian area.

War conditions taught us as never before the gravity of our situation in Ontario with respect to fuel. Apart from food, raiment and shelter, there is no commodity so necessary as fuel—chiefly coal—to maintain life and carry on commerce and transportation.

Should the United States prohibit coal export, Ontario factories would close their doors within thirty days, unless they had coal, cobalt, silver and nickel or 2000 miles from the west, at a cost of three-quarters of a cent a ton a mile, or $15 freight per ton. The James Bay coal can be laid in Toronto with a freight cost of $3.50 per ton. (Applause.)

Forty Children Admitted.

In the month of March, the Children's Aid Society of Toronto received and investigated 135 complaints and made 263 visits. Forty children were admitted to shelter and 44 were discharged. Including those in residence on March 1, the total number cared for during the month was 97. Among those discharged 16 were placed in good foster homes.

Accused of Fraud.

Roy E. Bastedo, Aylmer avenue, was arrested yesterday by Detective Levitt, charged with fraud. Bastedo is alleged to have obtained $37.50 from the federal emergency fund by claiming he was a returned soldier out of employment. The police charge Bastedo was working at the time and had no right to draw the allowance.

EXPLANATION ASKED FOR ADS. IN THE SUN

Before the legislature yesterday Howard Ferguson spread forth The Farmers' Sun containing a broad sheet advertisement, signed by Hon. F. E. Biggs, and asked what was the object of the generosity.

What is the purpose of this literature and from what provincial fund will it be paid? he asked.

Hon. F. E. Biggs: The late government pursued the same course.

Mr. Ferguson: That is not an answer.

Mr. Biggs: It is issued by a committee to show the people that the money is being expended for the public benefit.

H. H. Dewar called attention to the orders of the day which announced the estate of Frank P. Boyle. He asked why it is not ready for distribution.

Premier Drury: I do not know whether the bill is printed.

WILLS AND BEQUESTS.
Marie Louise Carroll, who died intestate, left estate valued at $22,000, which will be divided equally between her two sisters, Elma Burns Carroll and Katharine Fulton.

Frank P. Boyle, a farmer of Markham township, who died leaving $5,873.

John A. Kinnes, Ella Amy Elizabeth Kinnes, daughter of the late John A. Kinnes, a retired farmer, Maple, has been left the personal estate of her father and a life interest in his real estate, which on her death is to be divided between his grandchildren. The estate is valued at $5,146.

Should the United States prohibit coal export, Ontario factories would close their doors within thirty days, unless they had coal, cobalt, silver and nickel or 2000 miles from the west, at a cost of three-quarters of a cent a ton a mile, or $15 freight per ton.

Money for Surveys. In view of the desirability of extending the T. and N.O. to James Bay, $25,000 would be placed in the estimates for surveys and explorations. He thought the bay the logical outlet for the railway, as it would remove the railway from a position of being a liability and make it an asset. He supported in the main the resolution, with a great deal of faith in its wisdom, but the government would be unwise to commit itself to the immediate construction of the road in view of the financial condition of the province. He accepted fully the resolution as an opinion of the house, as a desirable objective in future policy; but not as an immediate mandate.

"DRY" LEGISLATION HAS THE APPROVAL OF GOVERNMENT

Method of Introduction Leaves All Members Free to Act.

CHARGES OF QUIBBLING

Charged with quibbling, evasion and shirking government responsibility alike to the legislature and the county, Attorney-General Raney was put in a tight corner in the legislature yesterday. He refused to broaden out the answer declared unsatisfactory by the opposition members, to whom it was addressed. It is seldom such language is heard in a legislative body.

Major Tolmie (Windsor) called attention to newspaper statements about the government caucus, the temperance question and the consequent introduction of a bill and a resolution by private members.

The question I would like to ask, said Major Tolmie, is whether the government has any definite policy in regard to the temperance question, which is one of the most important before the house and the country, or whether the government will take the house into its confidence and make known its policy in regard to temperance.

Premier Drury: There are so many questions, As to export warehouses, is that one of them?

Major Tolmie made an affirmative gesture.

Premier Drury: That has been dealt with. As to the referendum on importation it is our wish to leave the house free to express the opinion of all the members.

Leave it to the House.

Major Tolmie: I may have failed to make my question understood. It is: Has the government any definite policy? will the government take the house into its confidence?

Premier Drury: We have a resolution which will be introduced in the matter of the referendum, which we wish to leave to the house.

Howard Ferguson: A resolution and a bill left in the hands of private members. Are we to understand the government has delegated its responsibility to these private members?

Attorney-General Raney: I hope the house will understand what would follow from the resolution, notice of which has been given by a private member. It is in favor of a referendum in accordance with the Dominion act on the importation and bringing into the province of intoxicating liquors.

Another private member has a bill to stop "short circuiting" and prevent importation by persons or companies other than the Ontario license board. This bill would become effective if the referendum carries. But we want members of the house to be free in voting. We ourselves will be free in the matter and we expect members on the opposition side to vote as they see fit.

Howard Ferguson: That does not meet the point. I want the attorney-general to be frank about it.

Mr. Raney: The only answer will be the answer made. You can draw your own inferences.

Howard Ferguson: Mr. Speaker, that is neither frank nor fair to the house or to the country. Does the government take the position that it is not responsible for government measures? I want to know whether this is a government measure introduced by a private member's introduction. I ask the attorney-general is he going to be frank to this house; and I say he must be frank if he is going to proceed with public business.

Mr. Raney: Neither the bill nor the resolution is a government measure. If either had a government measure been introduced by members of the government, As introduced, both have the knowledge and approval of the government.

Mr. Ferguson: The house is entitled to direct answers by the attorney-general and to be informed what the government policy is against the late not be met by any subterfuge. I again ask what is the government policy.

Mr. Raney: The bill and resolution, were introduced with the approval of the government and I ask your ruling, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker: The attorney-general's answer should satisfy the members for Grenville.

Mr. Ferguson: I must differ from you there, Mr. Speaker. (Laughter.)

Major Tolmie returned to the question as put by the speaker, saying he would not go so far as to accuse the attorney-general of quibbling; but he had failed to understand that the government has a policy on temperance.

Mr. Raney: I have no other answer to make.

DEBTOR'S WIDOW WINS OUT.

Justice Latford has dismissed the action brought by Fred M. Hawley, who held a judgment against the late Havelock E. Hand, to have the transfer of certain shares in Bowles' Lunch and the Hamilton Brewing Association to his wife, Jessica H. Hand, set aside and the stock declared part of the estate. Plaintiff alleged that the transfer was without consideration and with intent to defraud the creditors. The defendant, Mrs. Hand, denied fraud and averred that the stock was transferred for consideration.
