

GUNMEN ON 5TH AVENUE GET $20,000 GEMS

Tie Up Girl and Man in a Jewelry Store Near Police Station.

SHOP WAS SCENE OF MURDER IN 1920

Young Robbers Leave by Elevator After Looting Safe at Noon.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The jewelry firm of Barnett Robinson & Co., on the seventh floor of 643 Fifth avenue, a block away from the police Fifth avenue headquarters, was held up and robbed of gems worth $20,000, shortly before noon, by two young men. It was in this building that Edwin W. Andrews, a jeweler, was murdered when resisting a $50,000 robbery in 1920.

The bandits descended calmly by the elevator after looting the Barnett Robinson safe. They left behind them a girl clerk of the firm and a man client who entered while the robbery was in progress. Both were wired to chairs. The bandits showed knowledge of the place they were to rob. Ordinarily business is done by the partition through a window in the partition separating the inside office from the entrance room. The first bandit, who wore no disguise, presented himself at this window and smiled at Miss Sophie Kotler, 21 years old, who was in charge of the shop. He was a pleasant-looking boy, not far from her age, and he seemed to be sure Miss Kotler was alone.

Girl Opens the Safe.

"Now, open that safe, dearie," he said pointing to the safe and motioning with his revolver.

He did not point it at her and spoke quite gently, the girl says. She opened the safe. The two men assured themselves that none of the inner drawers were locked. Then they took picture wire from their pockets, ordered the girl into a chair and tied her and, curiously, but with some care not to hurt her. One of them produced a gun and stepped toward the young woman, but they decided it was unnecessary.

Then they rifled every compartment in the safe. Their hands came principally of emeralds and sapphires.

As they prepared to depart a man appeared at the door and asked worth $2,000 taken from his pocket. The new arrival was Alfred Edwards, 27 years old. He was employed by Charles T. Dougherty Co. Jewelers. He had been sent by the firm to return the bracelet which had been loaned to the Dougherty Company by Robinson.

The two bandits quickly wired Edwards to a chair and then they turned warning that there would be shooting if the man or girl made an outcry for ten minutes. Then they turned to the hall, pressed the elevator button and descended without attracting suspicion.

NOT YET 24, CLAIMS UNUSUAL RECORD

Enlisted in Canadian Army When 13; Goes 35,000 Miles Since January.

LONDON, July 14.—Stephen William Harvey, who has just enlisted in the 10th Hussars (Prince Henry's regiment now at Aldershot) would probably be justified in describing himself as the most traveled and experienced young recruit the British army has ever had.

These are the principal events in his varied career, though he will not be 24 until next November:

Joined the Canadian army at 13, and was for long the youngest member of the fighting forces.

Fought at Ypres (1915), the Somme, and Vimy Ridge before he was 15.

Won the Military Medal and the Croix de Guerre. Wounded twice.

Went to Archangel with the Russian expeditionary force after the armistice. Imprisoned for nine months by the Bolsheviks. Nearly starved to death.

Returned to Canada; traveled to Australia first class; "down and out" nearly starved again; worked a passage on a Canadian vessel; became ill. Was landed at Fiji to recover.

Again returned to Canada, worked his way across to Halifax, joined the Canadian navy.

Invalided out, after 18 months' service; worked his passage to England, shipped as a steward on the Aorangi for Australia, afterwards sailed round the world; operated on at sea and nearly died again.

Has traveled 85,000 miles since January 2 of this year.

He is a fair, ruddy-faced boy, looking just a trifle older than his years, which is not surprising.

WEEK-END COLLEGE PLANNED IN BOSTON

University Innovation Is Designed to Help in Teachers' Improvement.

BOSTON, July 14.—A "Week-End College" is the newest educational development in Boston. The innovation, one of the many made in the last few years by Boston University, was announced by Dean Arthur I. Wilder of the university's School of Education, under auspices of which the "Week-End College" will be conducted. Sessions will begin in the autumn.

Teachers wishing to work for higher academic degrees or to improve their professional equipment, but who find it impossible to carry on full time university work, will be the chief beneficiaries under the new arrangement, although all students will find opportunity to train for the teaching profession through week-end college work.

The innovation will not imply a new Faculty or new courses of a radically different type from the regular program of Education programme. It will mean a readjustment of the courses so that Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday mornings will be filled. In this way students will be able to carry on about one-half as much college work as those who attend the entire week.

Isn't Nature Wonderful?

Lucas Malet—"We are all, whether old or young, very actually the age morning declares us to be, and too often unfatteringly discloses. But with the subsequent difference that, whereas the old grow younger as the day goes on, losing some of their staidness, the young grow older, losing some of their freshness."

CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF WHITE INDIANS

Rice, Explorer, Back From South America, Tells of Rare Tribe.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, who returned on the Cunarder Mauretania from his seventh expedition into the heart of South America, told of the discovery of a tribe of white Indians at the headwaters of the Parima River who spoke a language entirely their own.

Dr. Rice also discovered that the Rivers Orinoco and Parima did not have the same source but were 75 miles apart through an impenetrable country.

The explorers recalled that he had started his first expedition 23 years ago to survey and lay out an area of 5,000 square miles in the Colombian Caquetá, Brazilian Amazonas and Venezuelan Guayana, while carrying out at the same time investigations of biological, geological and medical character.

He explained that the entire country through which he had journeyed with his Indian guides has now been mapped by traverses, which will, in themselves, determine points, or stations, with correct latitude, longitude and azimuth measurements. Dr. Rice said he intended to compile data from the notes he had made on his last expedition which will later be published in book form with maps of the countries he had explored.

Conference on U. S. Anthracite Wages to be Resumed This Afternoon.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 14.—The sub-committee of anthracite operators and miners, charged with working out a new contract effective September 1, will resume their labors this afternoon upon the arrival of Alvin M. H. of Hasleton, selected to act as chairman at last Friday's session. Mr. Mackey who has presided over wage conferences for many years, will have a voice but no vote in the proceedings. The discussion today is expected to be crucial in nature and to center about the ability of the operators to pay the increase demanded by the miners without seriously impairing the markets for the product, and reducing the number of working days in the mines. The miners are expected to persist in their argument, presented last week, that profits of the operators are sufficiently large to permit granting of the increases asked without increasing the cost of fuel to the domestic consumer.
