ARTILLERY AT DIVINE SERVICE

From Partridge Island to St. Mary's Church—Volunteers From 3rd Regiment With Their Officers

The officers and men of the overseas battery of the 3rd Canadian Artillery now on Partridge Island are in hourly expectation of news from Ottawa calling them to the great camp at Valcartier. Major Magee with Lieutenants Hayes and Kelly yesterday took the head of the company, some 100 men, for a church parade to St. Mary's church. They were brought over from the island in a scow and were met at the wharf by St. Mary's Band. The church was crowded and there was a scene of profound enthusiasm as the fine company marched into the church, whose rector, Archdeacon Raymond, D. D., is a plain of the local artillery batteries.

Local Volunteers. Lieut.-Col. Armstrong stated to a Telegraph reporter yesterday that the number of officers and men who had volunteered for active service had been seriously understated in a newspaper on Saturday. He added that the spirit of the corps was evident from the fact that not fewer than seven officers and 100 men had offered their services for the overseas battery. The officers included Major J. T. McGowan, Major F. C. Magee, Lieutenants R. St. Clair Hayes, L. S. Kelly and D. K. Hazen and two others who do not desire their names published yet. The men include a number of veterans of the South African campaign.

SOME EFFECTS OF WAR.
London, Aug. 22.—The call to the colors for the continental reservists had immediate effect on London restaurants, hotels and boarding houses. London became almost waterless. The old fashioned English waiter is all but extinct. His passing has been deeply regretted by the older generation.

GREAT ARMIES IN DEADLY CONFLICT; RUSSIANS SWEEP VICTORIOUSLY ONWARD

Paris, Aug. 23—11 p. m.—The following official announcement was issued tonight:

"A great battle is now in progress along a vast line extending from Mons to the frontier of Luxembourg. Our troops, in conjunction with the British, have assumed everywhere the offensive. We are faced by the whole German army, both active and reserve. The ground, especially on our right, is thickly wooded and difficult. The battle is likely to last several days."

"The enormous extent of the front, and the great number of forces involved, makes it impossible to follow step by step the movements of each of our armies. We must await the result of the first phase of the combat before we can form any conclusion as to the situation. Otherwise, we should be giving the Germans divergent and contradictory news, since such a battle naturally is made up of actions and reactions, which follow from Donon and the Sables Pass. Those points were no longer of any importance, since we occupied the fortified line, beginning at Grand Couronne de Nancy, Lunville is occupied by the Germans, and at Namur the Germans are making great efforts against the forts, which resist energetically."

Gave His Own Life to Check Germans.
"The forts at Liege still hold. Fort Chateaufort has been the scene of an act of heroism which affirms once more the brilliant valor of the Belgian army. The fort, which commands the railroad to Aix-Le-Chapelle, by Verviers, and the tunnel to Chateaufort, was subjected to an extremely violent bombardment. When it was reduced to a mere heap of ruins, and Major Mameche, the commander, judged that further resistance was impossible, he blocked up the tunnel by running several locomotives into each other, and set fire to the fuses leading to the mines surrounding the forts."

"His mission then accomplished, Major Mameche determined that the German flag should not fly over the ruins of his fort, blew up his powder magazine and perished."

Fighting Between Namur and Charleroi
London, Aug. 23—11 a. m.—An official despatch to the Times from the Company from Antwerp, timed 10.40 o'clock Saturday night, tends to confirm the reports that a great battle began yesterday morning between the French and the Germans. The despatch says: "It is believed that this morning a great battle commenced between the French and German armies between"

LOCAL OFFICERS EN ROUTE TO FRONT

LIEUT. C. J. MORGAN
Second in Command of Overseas Volunteers from 62nd.

CAPT. H. E. C. STURDEE
Commanding Overseas Detachment of the 62nd.

LIEUT. E. H. WELCH
Junior Officer of Overseas Volunteers from 62nd.

DETACHMENT OF 62ND REGT. AWAY

Tremendous Demonstration Marks Departure of Second Contingent From St. John Local Officers Volunteer

Another detachment of St. John volunteers are on their way to the front. By tonight they will be en camped at Valenciennes with thousands of other stalwart and loyal Canadians to begin their seasoning preparatory to their transport overseas to aid the Motherland in her critical hour. Numbering 138 officers and men they left the city on Saturday night, volunteers from the 62nd Regiment, St. John Fusiliers, in charge of three valorous young officers, Captain H. E. C. Sturdee, Lieut. C. J. Morgan and Lieut. E. H. Welch.

Headed by the 62nd regimental band, with a guard of honor of brother officers and men of the 28th dragoons and 3rd Artillery, and a squad of bluecoats from the police force, with the City Cornet, Carlton Cornet and Caledonian Pipe Bands playing spirited airs, the volunteers marched off. They formed in line at the armory, the word of command was given, and swinging jauntily in step to the martial airs of the several bands, the company, cheered by thousands of well-wishing friends along the route, marched along to the Union Depot, where they entrained for the centre of mobilization. Cheer after cheer went up from the vast host of people, men, women and children, who crowded about the men, shook their hands in parting farewell, shouted their names individually in lusty cheers, and seemed reluctant to say the last good-bye.

In vain the platoons of soldiers and police tried to keep the crowds from pressing in. But there were anxious relatives and friends in that great horde and they would not be restrained. Good-naturedly, eagerly, and determinedly they justified their way to where the thin line of red-coated volunteers were standing with only a few minutes to spare before the train pulled out. Only for a minute could one stand to bid farewell and God-speed to the departing volunteers. Then others took the places in the front, and in turn were crowded out by eager ones behind them. At last the men were aboard the train. Soon every window was occupied by a red-coat smiling a greeting to his friends on the platform, and in a few minutes there came the sharp warning "toot" of the engine's whistle, and slowly at first, then faster, the big wheels began to turn, the train to move and with hand playing "God Save the King," and rousing cheers, the second detachment of St. John's volunteers were being carried on the first stage of their journey overseas.

Before they left they had been addressed by His Worship Mayor Frink and inspected by Col. J. L. McAvity, commanding the regiment, and Col. Blaine, former commander. The ladies of the Women's Canadian Club had given appreciative gifts of etables, enough to last a couple of days, and there were other pleasing remembrances as well, including cigars from A. & L. Isaacs, packages of "Footase" from the High School and St. Vincent's Alumnae; chocolate from Wm. Hawker; soaps and

Before they left on Saturday many of the overseas volunteers were remembered with substantial and practical gifts from admiring friends. Several of the remembrances are somewhat similar in their nature, but that is because of the limitations placed upon a soldier's luggage, and the impossibility of anything unless less being carried. Members of St. John Council, 937 Knights of Columbus presented to one of their number, Lieut. Cuthbert J. Morgan, in the club rooms in Coburg street, a handsome set of modern military binoculars in a solid leather case. R. J. Murphy, Grand Knight, made the presentation, while a fitting address was read by W. J. Mahoney, past state deputy. Several hearty cheers were given for the popular young officer. Sergeant J. G. Ennis, traveller for the Lake of the Woods Company, was remembered with several gifts, including a masonic pin, copy of Burns, sets of silk underwear, boxes of cigarettes, and a handsome military wrist watch. Harry Earle, formerly in the employ of the Farmers' Dairy and Produce Co., was made the recipient of a military wrist watch before leaving on Saturday in the overseas detachment, the presentation being made in behalf of several friends.

St. John Officers.

Dr. Murray MacLaren has been appointed medical officer in charge of the military hospital in Quebec during the time that the camp will be in existence at Valenciennes. He left on Saturday night by the 11.30 train to catch the Ocean Limited at Montserrat. He had only received the invitation to act in this post of honor a few days previously and he left almost immediately on receipt of a telegram from Ottawa accepting his volunteer services.

Capt. Ronald A. McAvity, of the 62nd St. John Fusiliers, also received a wire on Saturday accepting his offer of personal service and in about one hour he was ready to go and left on the same train with the 62nd overseas contingent. He did not know definitely to what post he would be assigned.

King Hazen, a son of Hon. J. D. Hazen, has volunteered for service with the 3rd Canadian Artillery, St. John battery.
