The chief social event last week, was the surprise party, given by the "N. B. A. Club," on Friday evening. Owing to the weather, they were prevented from going to Mr. Wallace's as was at first intended, but were diverted to Mrs. R. D. Taylor's, where dancing was kept up until a late hour. It was enjoyed, as is everything given by one of the pleasantest hostesses in Bridge Town, on Wednesday evening, at her residence, Queen street, from four until seven.

Mr. Bert Kinney has returned to Horton's Landing. S. S.

SUMMERSIDE.

[Progress is for sale at the Electric Book Store.]

Jan. 9.—The week of prayer ended on Sunday night by a grand union meeting in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Henry Dickie took the key-note and made an excellent address on the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Mr. Dickie was followed by the Rev. Mr. Harding of the Central street baptist church in his usual good style. Then Rev. Mr. Maggs spoke at some length on union and brotherly love. Benediction by Mr. Maggs.

I am sorry to hear that Dr. D. J. McKay has decided to leave us and will henceforth practice in Clifton.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the Presbyterians and their friends on Monday evening. Miss MacKellar had charge of a table to which the children thronged, soap and pipes were provided and prizes given to the successful ones.

MONCTON.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the Moncton Book Store, Main street, and on the street by J. E. McCoy.]

Jan. 11.—When I opened my Progress on Saturday, and turned my eager eye to my own paragraph, my first thought was that one of the western cyclones was so often read about, had struck Moncton office and paid special attention to my society letter; as I knew quite well that I had sent down at least a column. But anxious inquiries elicited the information that it was merely caused by an overworking of the society column, and that all my beautiful notices not only of social events but of the weather, the observance of New Year's day and such-like interesting topics had only been born to bluish unseen, in the waste paper basket. However by special dispensation I have been permitted to reproduce some of my news, which although not by any means as fresh as I could wish, is of too general interest to be quite consigned to oblivion.

In the first place let me apologize most humbly to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Sleeth for having caused them to be mentioned in my letter under the name of Heath. Probably the fault was more mine than that of the compositor.

Two very sudden deaths took place in our circle lately, I say in our circle advisedly because although Mr. George Taylor, late general freight agent of the I. C. R., the news of whose death reached Moncton on Thursday evening, was not a resident of Moncton at the time of his death. He was essentially of our circle, since his home had been in Moncton for many years, and most of his interests were here too. The sad news came as a great shock to his Moncton friends, who had no idea that Mr. Taylor was ill beyond the fact that his health was failing slightly. I believe he was no worse than usual almost up to the day of his death which was caused by hemorrhage of the stomach. Mr. Taylor was a man who was highly esteemed by all classes on account of his kindness of heart, his thorough integrity and his readiness to comfort and aid all those who were in difficulty or distress. He was an active churchman, a faithful friend and an upright citizen and was deservedly beloved by all who knew him. Mr. Taylor was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, but came to Canada at a very early age, and entered the railway service when quite a young man. He had been on the I. C. R. since 1872. He was superannuated on the first of last November on account of his failing health, and removed at once to Bedford, N. S., where he died.

Mr. Taylor had been a widower for many years, and left two children, a son, George, wife of Mrs. A. J. Crosswell, rector of Springfield, Kings county, and Mr. J. J. Taylor C. E. of Virginia, U. S. The funeral services took place on Saturday, the body being taken to Sackville, N. S., the interment having been postponed until the arrival of Mr. James Taylor from Virginia. Mr. Taylor leaves numerous friends in Moncton who will sincerely mourn his sudden death.

Another very sad death was that of Mr. John B. Elliott which took place at his boarding house on Main street at a late hour on Saturday week. Mr. Elliott had not been feeling well for some time, but was able to attend to his business as usual, and was even feeling rather better on Saturday than on Friday, when he was suffering from an attack of rheumatism. Shortly after retiring, at about eleven o'clock he was seized with a violent coughing and when the occupants of the house hastened to his room to offer assistance, they found him in a dying condition. A physician was called, Dr. Purdy, was summoned at once, but death had taken place before he arrived. Mr. Elliott was a son of the late John Elliott, a well known merchant of Moncton. He was born in St. John, was unmarried and had completed his 50th year. He was a native of Moncton, the son of Mr. H. A. Whitney of Moncton, Mrs. Cleveland of Texas, and Mrs. Morris, Miss Elliott, the daughter of Mr. Elliott of Boston. The funeral which was largely attended, took place on Sunday afternoon from Mr. Whitney's residence.

Mrs. Foster, of Dorchester, is spending a few days in town visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Cooke.

Mr. H. G. Wadman received the sad news on Saturday afternoon of the death of his little son Lester who occurred at his residence on Friday of typhoid fever. The child was spending the winter with his grandparents and was taken ill on the first of December, but was thought to be recovering.

There was a very beautiful service held in the Wesley Memorial church on New Year's day, the music being under the direction of Mr. J. B. Baird of Woodstock. A feature of the service deserving special mention was the duet "Jesus Lover of my Soul," by Miss Baird and her sister, in which they accompanied themselves upon the guitar and violin. It was simply exquisite, and I have heard it spoken of repeatedly in terms of warmest commendation.

Another Moncton man has recently become a benefactor, or rather one who was for so many years a resident of Moncton that he is almost looked upon as one of ourselves. I refer to Mr. George F. Fair, who was in business in Moncton for ten years and recently removed to Butte City, Montana. Mr. Fair was married on the 11th of last month, at St. Paul, Minn., to Mrs. Jennie Cullen, formerly of Moncton. Mr. and Mrs. Fair will reside in Butte City in future. Their Moncton friends will unite in wishing them a good and happy life.

There would almost seem to be an epidemic of weddings abroad, judging by the number of Moncton people who have taken the alkali trains upon their recent nuptials. The latest wedding was that of Miss Toole, eldest daughter of Mr. Benjamin Toole, of this city, who was married on Wednesday morning at the Central Methodist church to Mr. Fred Chapman of the I. C. R. officiated by Mr. R. A. Chapman, inspector of fisheries. The service was performed by Rev. John Read, in the presence of a large number of guests. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left almost immediately after the ceremony, by the morning express, for Halifax, where they will spend some days. They were accompanied to the station by a number of friends, who speeded them upon their journey with good wishes and shouts of "Go!"

Miss Harris, Miss Wright, and Miss Dewar went down to St. John last week, to spend a short time with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wolf Spurr. Miss Harris and Mr. J. H. Harris attended the Bachelor's ball in the Mechanics' Institute.

Mr. J. Taylor's Moncton friends will be sorry to hear that he is quite ill in Halifax, where he arrived last week to attend his father's funeral.

Mrs. Joseph Bain of Truro who was spending a few days with her parents in Moncton, returned home on Saturday.

Miss Campbell left town last week for St. John, where she will spend the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. George McCreedy entertained the Whist club, and a few other friends besides, on Thursday evening, and a very pleasant evening was spent by those who were fortunate enough to be of the number.

We have had a very pleasant outbreak of gaiety lately and some delightful parties. Miss Sarah Stronach set the example on Wednesday with a small but most enjoyable party. Mrs. McCreedy followed, and on Friday evening the party of the season was given by Mrs. C. D. Thomson in honor of her guests, the Misses Taylor, who were accompanied by some twenty or thirty guests. The evening was ideal, the music perfect, the floor all that could be desired and the supper delicious. It is not to be wondered at that the rosy hours flew and breaking up time came all too soon.

On Monday evening Mrs. F. W. Sumner gave a delightful little dance for her sister, Miss Alice McEwen, on the eve of her return to Mount Allison, and as it is impossible not to do with Mr. and Mrs. Sumner as host and hostess.

Miss Henniger, departs on Friday morning for Halifax, to spend a few weeks visiting friends.

Miss George Cole, daughter of Mr. E. E. Cole, returned to Mount Allison, Ladies' College on Saturday, after spending last Christmas at home.

Miss Godfrey of Dorchester, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Fleet of King street.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jones, left town on Monday evening for a short visit to Boston, from thence they will proceed to the South visiting several Southern cities, and remain a few days in New Orleans.

Mr. John A. Simpson of the I. C. R. audit office, died on Monday, after a long illness. He was a very general favorite with all who knew him, his kind heart and sterling character, having won numerous friends. He was but nineteen years of age, and his early death is greatly to be regretted.

Mr. R. W. Jack, of British Columbia, is in town again, the guest of Mrs. C. F. H. Campbell.

Jack intends returning to British Columbia shortly.

Miss Peters, of Moncton, is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harris.

Mr. Edward Harris, son of Mr. C. P. Harris, who has been spending the Christmas holidays at home, returned to Mettill College last week, to continue his medical studies.

The new organ has been put in place in the central Methodist church, and a recital had been given last Friday, Professor Ryder, of Boston, was to play, Mrs. Harrison, of Sackville, to sing, and other attractive features had been arranged, when the harmony of the proceedings was rudely disturbed by Mr. L. W. Blaney, Collector of Customs, swooping down like an avenging angel upon the organ and setting it, thereby causing a great deal of excitement in the audience and other circles. I cannot say whether Mr. Blaney has actually removed the organ to his home and taken it to the customs house, there to be held in derision until it is ransomed, or as the unsuspicious traveller is pointed upon by the consequent, indifferent brigands, but I do know that
