AERIAL AND AUTO SPORT

Here is shown the route of the Albany to New York flight for which Glen Curtiss won a prize of $10,000.

New York, N.Y., June 1.—Glen H. Curtiss, who steered his aeroplane through the treacherous air currents of the Hudson from Albany to this city Sunday morning, winning the $10,000 prize which had been offered by the New York World, suggested yesterday that an ideal route for another test would be from here to Washington, a distance of some 235 miles, or possibly there and back again, with only enough stops to replenish the store of gasoline.

Such a course, he said, would be more difficult than the trip from Albany to New York, though the air currents would probably be less dan-

ORIGIN OF GOLF FOUND AGAIN

Somebody Learns That Golf Was Introduced Either by French or Dutch -- Played Only in Winter.

Now that the golf season is just coming in it is rather curious to remember that in Holland, where many people think golf came from, it was only played in winter.

All the literary and pictorial records of Dutch golf, says the London Globe, represent it as a winter pastime and played on the ice, and there is literally no evidence that the Dutch ever played it on dry land. There is a miniature in a "Book of Hours" in the British Museum which shows some children playing golf at a hole in the ground, but is French and not Dutch. The Dutch game indeed has little resemblance to our golf except that the weapons are similar. The Dutchmen played at an upright mark, a post or stone or door, instead of a hole.

Golf as we know it is more akin to the ancient French game of jeu de mail, which is still played in the south of France in the neighborhood of Montpellier, and it seems probable if golf is not a purely Scottish creation that it is a modification of the old French game. There was much intercourse between France and Scotland all through the Stuart period, and the French influence on Scottish manners and customs and even on the language was very great. On the other hand, although Holland had much trade with Scotland at the same period there is practically no trace of Dutch influence on anything Scottish today.

It is possible, however, that the Scottish form of golf club was taken from the Dutch. So far as can be judged from the old pictures the Dutch clubs were identical in form and construction with the old makes of Scottish clubs. Of course it is equally possible that the Dutch copied the clubs from the Scotch and the matter of fact there is an old Dutch poem in which a "Kofler" is described as using a "Schotte clek," or Scottish club. But, however that may be, the old Dutch clubs would pass the rules of a golf committee today as "legitimate" weapons, whereas it is to be feared that the weapons used in the French "jeu de mail" would be condemned as croquet mallets.

Whether the Dutch or the French are our golfing ancestors, is perhaps doubtful, but it is certain that at the present day they are our golfing children, for the golf now played in Holland and France is the true Scottish variety directly imported. In Holland the game appears to languish, but in France its progress is nothing less than astonishing.

DANBEY AND MILES WIN AT TENNIS YESTERDAY IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston, June 1.—The closest and most interesting play ever developed in the finals of a tournament for the Massachusetts State doubles championships in tennis was exhibited at Braeburn County Club last today when Nat C. Miles and Arthur Danbey captured the championship by defeating P. J. Sulloway and D. P. Rhodes. The score of the sets was 6-8; 6-3; 4-6 and 6-2.

BOXING ON AT MONCTON

Moncton, June 1.—Dan McDonald, Cape Breton, and Johnny Burns, New York, got together tonight and arranged a ten round bout for next week. Marquis of Queensbury rules will govern. Burns is an 185 pound man and McDonald 175 pounds. If Burns knocks out McDonald inside of ten rounds he is to take net door receipts.

An effort is also being made to bring Johnny McIntyre of St. John here for a bout with young Burns on July 1st. The Moncton high school is making extensive preparations for the athletic meet in St. John next week and hope to carry off a good share of the prizes.

gerous. The difficulties that he anticipates are in the heavily wooded land and the low-lying rivers with high banks, from which he would expect sudden and varying currents, which would try the skill of an aviator.

The first 60 miles of the Glidden tour out of Memphis is along the top of the Mississippi river levee.

The United States Motor Co., has acquired a controlling interest in the Brush Runabout Co., and the Gray Motor Co. The new concern will have an annual output of approximately 25,000 cars.

A speedway to cost $2,000,000 is to be constructed at Clementon, N. J. George Robertson will supervise the building of the track, which is accessible from New York and Philadelphia.

According to government figures taxes were paid on 66,669 automobiles in France last year. Purely commercial vehicles such as trucks and light delivery vans, of which there are a great number, are not included as they are exempt from taxation.

In Rhode Island when a driver is arrested for speeding, he can give his auto as bail. The system of registration is so perfect in the little state that the driver doesn't have to leave his car. He simply gives the officer the number of his license and reports at court when told to.

ST. JOHNS WIN BEST GAME YET

Clippers With Imported Men in Their Line-Up Give Tilley's Aggregation a Run for Their Money Last Evening--Score 1-0 After Seven Innings of Exciting Play.

St. Johns 1; Clippers 0.

Some real baseball was served out to the fans at the Every Day Club grounds last evening when Mr. Tilley's nine took another fall out of McBride's artists, count 1-0.

The game was played under unfavorable weather conditions and upon slippery grounds. Yet perhaps was the snappiest exhibition seen here this season. About 500 witnessed the game and the attendance would undoubtedly have been much larger were it not for the threatening attitude of the weather. The proceedings opened while a light mist was falling, but it gradually cleared away and 7 innings were played. The Tilleyites annexed the game in the first stanza when Boone allowed two of the four hits made off his delivery during the game.

After that the York County man was a puzzle and sent up a deceiving brand of ball, that the St. Johns apparently could not negotiate safely.

Pitcher's Battle.

Bovard was pitched a winning game, allowing but three scattered hits, and giving but one base on balls. It was a pitcher's battle right through, with Bovard having slightly the better of the argument. Geo. Finnimore made his bow to a St. John audience on the Clipper lineup, holding down cushion No. 2, and made an instant hit with his first delivery. He followed with a pretty single and drew four balls. He also fielded in good style and accepted everything going his way in a trappy fashion.

Lauchner, an unknown, also adorned the lineup of Mr. McBride's athletes and looked after left garden in good style. He speared three different flies in national league style and his long drive to center field in the seventh should have been a hit--were it not for Carson's error. Cooper's work in center field for the Clippers won the plaudits of the fans. In the fourth he pulled down Carson's fly and slammed it to second base in time to catch Bovard for a double play. In the fifth he repeated the trick. When he again took a difficult one on the run and nailed Carson off second for a double.

The game was called at 7:05. The Clippers going to the bat. McNutt was issued a pass but was nailed while trying to pass second. T. Howe went out, pitcher to first, and Finnimore also got free transportation. Chase hit safely advancing Finnimore, but Cooper flied out to A. Ramsey. E. Ramsey started the ball rolling for the St. Johns by slamming out a single. Copeland sacrificed and Lynch pummeled one out to center field scoring Ramsey. Ramsey and Crosby grounded and flied out.

After this neither team could get men past second until the seventh when after Cooper grounded out the Lauchner smote the leather on the trade mark with terrific force. It looked like a home run and the fans were wild. Rags Carson chased after it and with a spasmodic leap got the ball within his grasp, but could not tighten his grip in time, with the result that the ball rolled amidst the children who were playing near the clubhouse. In the midst of the commotion Lauchner took three bags. Things were looking prosperous for the McBrideites, when Boone fanned for the third time and Taylor flied out to Bovard.

Following is the official score and summary:

WRESTLING AT CHATHAM TONIGHT

Says the Chatham Commercial: Local sports had an opportunity of seeing an exciting wrestling match on Saturday night. The match took place at the Palace Theatre. Eddie Berry, of Providence, R. I., and Billy St. Clair, of Kansas City, Mo., were the contestants. The first hold was the most exciting. After a terrific struggle lasting twenty-six minutes St. Clair secured a fall. Berry secured the two remaining falls in less time and was declared the victor. Berry has challenged St. Clair to meet him with the condition that he will throw St. Clair three times in an hour or forfeit $50. The contest will take place Thursday night. Previous to the match on Saturday night, Scotty Stewart and Scotty McAusland boxed four rounds.

WEST END LEAGUE.

In the West End league last evening, the Married Men defeated the A. C. S. & Co's nine by the score of 8-4, in a four inning game. The game was played upon a wet slippery field, which prevented fast play.

The battery for A. C. Smith & Co. was Connor and Stewart and for the Married Men Melrose and Laugon.

HIT HARD IS THE SLOGAN AT JEFF'S CAMP

Ben Lomond, Calif., June 1.—"Hit hard" was the order today at James J. Jeffries' camp, when the former champion resumed boxing after a rest of more than a week. Jeff hit down the law to his sparring partners before he began, intimating that if they did not slug he would. The result was immediately noticeable. Bob Armstrong was the first man up. He rushed Jeff from the start and set a lively pace for three rounds. Just before time was called Jeff drove his glove into Bob's middle and Armstrong doubled up with a grunt. Joe Choyinski came next for three rounds, and the pair stepped around in a clever sparring exhibition.

The main event, however, was the two round go with Sam Berger. Jeffries was evidently saving up for his manager and they went at it in a slam-bang fashion, roughing it around the ring until it looked like a good old knock-down and drag out battle. Sam hit hard and Jeff replied in kind much to Berger's discomfort. These bouts were the nearest approach to the real thing since Jeffries started to work. After the boxing came a fast handball game, which Jeffries lost to James J. Corbett. He then punched the bag for half an hour and wound up the day with abdominal exercises.

The opening of Jeffries' private eating establishment, watched over by his wife, was another event of the day. Jeffries, his brother and their wives will be served at this mess, which will be supplied from a private kitchen by a private waiter.

A signed statement was issued by Jeffries today on the recent discussion as to the possible retirement of Tex Rickard as referee and the substitution of Eddie Smith. The statement follows:

"After accepting Mr. Rickard in whom I have every confidence, I can not very well ask him to resign. He is good enough for me. But, in the event of his not wishing to act, then Mr. Smith is acceptable to me. This, however, is decided up to Mr. Rickard, as I cannot accept a man and then ask him to resign. Either man is acceptable to me."

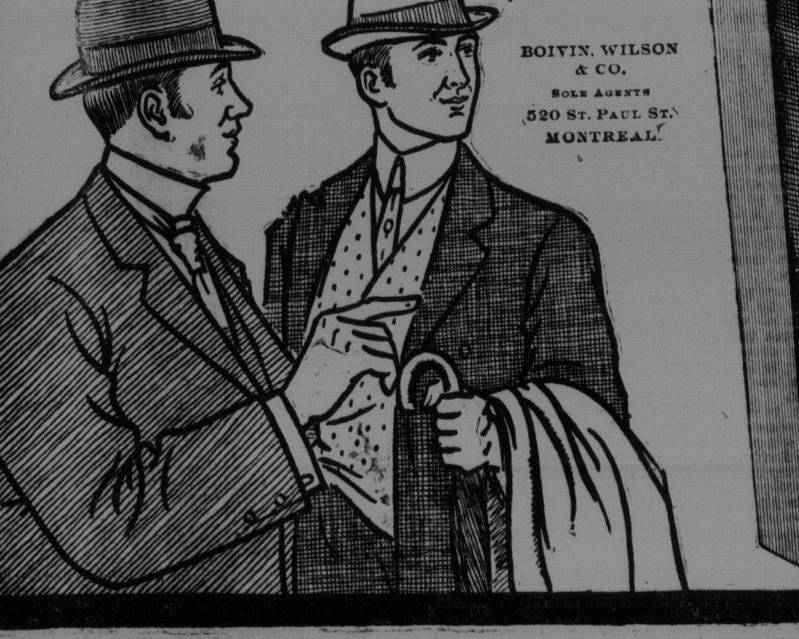

As to whether Wolgast will repeat his victory if he meets Nelson again, I believe he will. Nelson is as game a man as ever stepped into a ring, and will fight until he is killed if necessary, but Wolgast is just as game, can punch as hard, and has far more science than the Dane ever had. My personal opinion is that the Michigan lad has the Dane's number and can spring it any time necessary.
