

CAMPBELLTON WAITS FOR GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER

Pugsley, Tweedie and Hazen Confer

Matter of Aid to Be Dealt With by Cabinets

Conference at Ottawa Monday, and Minister of Public Works Will Press Claims of Stricken Town Strongly on Colleagues — Disease Adds to Sufferings of Victims.

Campbellton, N. B., July 29.—The fate of fire-stricken Campbellton still hangs in the balance, for just what governmental assistance is to be given the town remains a matter of uncertainty.

Hon. William Pugsley, Lieutenant-Governor, Tweedie and Premier Hazen arrived here tonight on the Ocean Limited, after having held a consultation of two hours' duration. Interviewed by the reporter for The Telegraph, they all declared that they had certain plans under consideration, but would divulge nothing definite until the definite had been decided upon. They were accompanied here from Newcastle by Judge McLatchy, G. G. McKenzie, chairman of the relief committee, and Frank Blackhall, who laid before them a statement of the requirements to put the town on a running basis.

The town representatives requested the government to make a grant of $126,000 and pay the interest on their bonded indebtedness for fifteen years as well. Hon. William Pugsley left immediately for Ottawa and the governor and premier will return to their respective homes by this evening's Maritime express. They both made an inspection of the ruins and were thoroughly impressed with the signs of immediate want that are everywhere evident here.

The cause is one, says Governor Tweedie, that demands the immediate financial assistance of all the citizens and municipalities of Canada. "Too much stress cannot be laid upon this fact, for the situation is daily growing more serious."

"I notice a marked change here since my last visit," said Premier Hazen, "and the citizens of Campbellton are to be congratulated for the way in which they are thriving. Their enterprising spirit should certainly be backed up."

Speaking to Judge McLatchy, the premier asked him to accept a personal donation of $500 from the members of his cabinet. "You may depend on me at any time for that amount."

The governor and premier had a conference with Mayor Murray, at which the mayor informed them that the relief committee is doing their best to narrow the free distribution list down to cases of absolute necessity, over 500 appeared in the bread line yesterday, no doubt gathering in an over-supply for Sunday.

As has been frequently said, and cannot be too often repeated, the outside world is going to have much to answer for unless something is done immediately to effect a change in the life which is being led by these stricken people. Not only the winter's rigors are to be dreaded now, but an epidemic of disease. With hundreds of men, women and children with no opportunity of cleansing themselves beyond the occasional wiping off of the hands and face, their condition is deplorable. Added to this the eating of canned goods, part of which is taken from the can in the morning and the remainder not until probably in the evening, is likely to have its ill effect.

Much Sickness.

Homes are what are wanted in Campbellton worst of all. As it is, sickness is now breaking out among the children, as yesterday no less than five cases of measles were reported.

The local militia, under the command of Capt. A. E. G. McKenzie, are still guarding the town and acting as police. The latter force having been in a state of disorganization since the day of the fire. Excellent order is prevailing, and as yet no violations of the liquor law, despite reports to the contrary, have been brought to light. Anyone caught violating this law will, according to the statement given out by Magistrate Matheson, be sent to jail without the option of a fine.

It is not an uncommon sight in the evenings here to see groups of the homeless people huddling under camp fires, some smoking over the days of by-gone happiness, others concurring with one another in their losses. This seems to be particularly the case with the poorer classes.

"What did you lose?" was asked one poor unfortunate in the course of one of these evening reunions. "Well," he replied, "I am not thinking so much of what I have lost as of what is going to become of me and my little ones. It is real hard for a man with a wooden leg, no lungs and ten children on his hands to make a new start in life."

It may seem hard to believe that a case like this is really existing in destitute Campbellton.

Judge McLatchy will leave here on Monday for Ottawa, where, together with Thomas Malcolm, he will make an appeal to the federal government on behalf of the town's stricken people.

Will Try for Federal Aid.

Newcastle, N. B., July 29.—(Special)—Hon. William Pugsley, who came from Campbellton today to meet Governor Tweedie and Premier Hazen, in conference over Campbellton's finances, said to a Telegraph reporter here that he had sent word to Sir Richard Cartwright, acting premier, in Ottawa, and expected to meet Sir Richard and other members of the cabinet with a Campbellton delegation in Ottawa on Monday.

The delegation will be composed of James Reid, M. P., Judge McLatchy and Thomas Malcolm. Hon. Mr. Pugsley will introduce them. "I entertain the hope," he said, "that assistance may be forthcoming. Indeed it is possible, because of Campbellton's importance as a railway centre and the fact that the town was so completely devastated, the government may extend assistance. At all events a strong effort will be made by the delegation and myself."

GOOD WHEAT CROP IN NORTH WEST

Ottawa, July 31.—W. J. White, Canadian immigration inspector, in making a report to the immigration department regarding the crop situation in the prairie provinces, said:

"After an extended trip through the wheat fields, chiefly in central Saskatchewan, interviewing farmers and dealers, I am inclined to think that the total wheat crop for the three provinces will be 100,000,000 bushels. The cool weather is filling out the heads and the yield will then be materially increased. The oat crop requires rain, and hay in many parts is scarce. The wheat crop along the various railway lines is good, excepting in a portion of northern Manitoba and southern Saskatchewan."

DR. CRIPPEN AND TYPIST ARRESTED ON C. P. LINER; BOTH NEARLY COLLAPSE

THE HOUSE OF THE TRAGEDY

Father Point, Que., July 29.—The first act in the Crippen drama, which is holding the attention of the civilized world, was unfolded here this afternoon at this little signal station in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, when Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, stepped down the gang plank of the steamer Laurentic to the deck of the government ship Eureka.

The final scene will unfold itself when the steamer Montrose comes up in the early hours of Sunday morning and the suspects, traveling under the guise of Rev. Mr. Robinson and son, are identified by Mr. Robinson and Dr. Hawley Crippen and Inspector Dew as Dr. Crippen and his typist, Miss Leneve. Then they will be arrested by Chief Gauvreau, of Rimouski, and Detectives McCarthy and Denis, of the provincial police.

With the arrival of Inspector Dew the air is clearing and many rumors of the past few days have been thrown overboard. He was in touch with Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, while the two vessels were within the wireless zone and did not falter for a minute, but walked straight over to where the sleuth from Scotland Yard was standing. Dew took him by the arm and led him to the captain's room under the bridge, where the arrest was made by Detectives McCarthy and Denis. As the steel bracelets clamped his wrists he looked at Dew for a moment and said he was glad the suspense was over.

When Inspector Dew walked up the deck, and when he got near to where Crippen and Dr. Stewart were standing, he stopped and beckoned to Crippen. He did not falter for a minute, but walked straight over to where the sleuth from Scotland Yard was standing. Dew took him by the arm and led him to the captain's room under the bridge, where the arrest was made by Detectives McCarthy and Denis. As the steel bracelets clamped his wrists he looked at Dew for a moment and said he was glad the suspense was over.

While the wireless was cracking its dots and dashes between the White star liner and her humble sister, Rev. Mr. Robinson and his so-called son were in blissful ignorance of the fact that within the range of the wireless wizard the most complete identification was being carried on. Crippen is said to be showing some signs of nervousness, but no one on board has been permitted to guess their identification, with the exception of Captain Kendall, his officers and the wireless operator.

The Montrose is due to reach here early on Sunday morning. This morning she was reported passing through the Straits of Belle Isle and the weather is very clear down the gulf. She should have no difficulty in making Father Point soon after daylight on Sunday. In the meantime Inspector Dew is the guest of Detective McCarthy.

Father Point, Que., July 31.—All doubts as to whether "Rev. Mr. Robinson and son" on board the steamship Montrose, the Crippen and Miss Leneve-Crippen, had been arrested, were settled when the charge of murdering his wife, Miss Leneve, his stenographer—were set at rest this morning when Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, boarded the Montrose and immediately recognized the pair as the people he had been sent after. They were immediately arrested and kept on the boat as prisoners, continuing on to Quebec.

The Montrose arrived off Father Point this morning at 8:30 and was met by a pilot tug, on board of which were Inspector Dew with Chief McCarthy and ex-Chief Denis, of the provincial police, all disguised in oilskins as pilots.

Crippen was walking the deck with Dr. Stewart, of the Montrose. Crippen appeared nervous, and enquired why so many pilots boarded the vessel. Dr. Stewart replied that possibly they were pilots returning after a trip.

The three officers walked the deck until they had a good look at Crippen and Miss Leneve. As soon as Inspector Dew saw them he recognized the two, and gave a prearranged signal to his companions. Immediately Chief McCarthy and Denis moved over and arrested Crippen and Miss Leneve, and took them down to their cabin, where they are now held in charge of Inspector Dew.

Crippen was completely taken by surprise, and became deadly pale when the officers apprehended him, his agitation being such that he was wholly unable to speak. Miss Leneve was seized with hysterics and could not say a word as she was assisted below.

The whole drama was enacted within a few minutes, and as soon as the vessel was under way the Montrose steamed to a steam tender lying by, which enabled the thirty or more press representatives from Great Britain, Canada and the United States to board the Montrose with the regular pilot. The vessel at once proceeded with the prisoners and police to Quebec, where she is expected to arrive shortly after midnight and where Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve will be landed for the necessary formalities in their return to face their trial in London.

The Arrest.

Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve had breakfast as usual this morning. The girl in boys' clothes retired to the cabin, while Crippen packed the deck on the port side. Dr. Stewart, the ship's surgeon, spoke to him just as the pilot boat was within hailing distance. The morning, Mr. Robinson," remarked Dr. Stewart. "Yes," replied Crippen, looking at the fast approaching boat. Then he added: "There seems to be a lot of men in that boat."

Dr. Stewart, in describing the arrest, said, while Crippen had been very nervous since the gulf was reached, he did not seem to be apprehensive of the short stop at Father Point until he saw the boat of men pulling for the ship. Then he turned paler.

When Inspector Dew walked up the deck, and when he got near to where Crippen and Dr. Stewart were standing, he stopped and beckoned to Crippen. He did not falter for a minute, but walked straight over to where the sleuth from Scotland Yard was standing. SUNDAY SHOOTING AT CAMPBELLTON

BITTER STRUGGLE PROMISED IN SPAIN

Government Determined to Enforce Decree for Religious Liberty

NO COMPROMISE

Vatican Welcomes the Fight and Believes that Victory Will Be Theirs—Alfonso Stands By His Premier.

Madrid, July 31.—Premier Canalejas describes the recall of Marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, as "the moment of assumed power."

"The moment of assumed power," he said, "I opened negotiations for a reduction of the religious orders. The Vatican replied, offering less than was offered to the law and authorizing dissenting sects to display the emblems of public worship. As the Vatican replied only with protest, we introduced a bill interdicting further orders until the revision of the concordat had been accomplished."

"When the Vatican finally demanded the suspension of the decrees, as a condition for a continuation of the negotiations, the government, in spite of its desire to avoid a rupture, decided to consider the negotiations abortive and to proceed to carry out its programme by decree and legislation."

"The king approved our course. The situation will not retard the visit of his majesty to England next week."

An official communication by the government throws the entire responsibility of the present trouble on the Holy See. The Liberal newspapers enthusiastically applaud "the virile independence of the government."

The Republican newspapers promise their support, and urge the government to persevere in its policy. The University, a Catholic organ, declares that the Catholics are ready for the struggle.

Vatican Will Fight.

Madrid, July 30.—Notwithstanding the extremely strained relations between the Vatican and the Spanish government the recall of Marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, has produced a great sensation in Rome. The Vatican, in a semi-official communication, says that the recall of the ambassador proves the programme of Premier Canalejas was not arranged with the hope of accord, but with a desire for fight, and the communication adds, he will have it.

The Vatican officials are taking the darkest view of the situation, not only in Spain, but in Portugal as well. They are contending that the extreme parties in both countries, aided by foreign elements, are trying to overthrow the respective monarchies, with the object of uniting the Iberian peninsula under Republican rule. In Spain, it is pointed out, there is, in addition to the French Freemason influence, the English Protestant influence exercised over the king through the Battenbergs, who have established their headquarters in Spain, and in Portugal as well. The Spanish court, consequently, upon the king's marriage.

The hope of the Vatican is that Don Jaime, the Carlist pretender, who has directed a revolution, will raise the Carlist flag and vindicate Catholicism.

The Vatican attacks Premier Canalejas, declaring that he premeditated a rupture as from the beginning of the differences he has on every occasion possible taken two steps backwards in the negotiations for one that he has taken forward. Indeed, since the negotiations with the Holy See with reference to the religious conditions began, the premier has taken the following steps antagonistic to the Vatican:

First, the issuance of an unconstitutional decree favoring non-Catholic creeds, thus violating the Concordat with the Holy See; second, the reproduction of the decree of 1902 against the congregations which was never in force; third, the preparation of the speech from the throne, which contained hostile and threatening expressions against the church; fourth, the projected bill prohibiting the institution of religious houses.

This attitude of the premier the Vatican says, shows that the Spanish government had always aimed contrary to that accord which it pretended to desire. The Holy See repeatedly asked that the government assume a different attitude, pointing out that it was impossible to carry on negotiations efficiently when the second party showed such hostility.

Premier Canalejas answered by recalling the Spanish ambassador, and this, says the Vatican, is a clear confession of his true programme, although he has always said that he was obeying the will of the country.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State has been especially affected by the rupture with Spain. It is reported that he went to the Pope and offered his resignation, which the Pontiff refused.

GOOD WEST INDIES EXHIBIT AT DOMINION FAIR IN ST. JOHN

The Agricultural News, published in Barbados, in its issue of July 9, devotes two pages of editorial comment and instruction upon the Dominion Exhibition to be held in this city in September.

It states that special efforts will be made to give the West Indies adequate representation and that exhibits of former years will be greatly augmented. Particular energy is being put forward this year because of the favorable trade conditions in the company's plant at Brownville (Me.) in which damage to the extent of more than $20,000 was done. The fire occurred about 2:30 o'clock, and it was a few hours before it was finally extinguished.

The fire started in the coal plant, and is said to have been caused through friction of some belt in connection with the motor which was in operation. It soon spread and before long the repair shop, carpenter shops, and other stores were in flames, all of them being quite badly damaged. The fire confined itself to the property of the C. P. R., so that no loss is reported to any private dwellings or business houses.

C. P. R. PROPERTY AT BROWNVILLE BURNED

William Downie, superintendent of the C. P. R. for the Atlantic division, yesterday received word of the disastrous fire which broke out on Wednesday afternoon in the company's plant at Brownville (Me.) in which damage to the extent of more than $20,000 was done. The fire occurred about 2:30 o'clock, and it was a few hours before it was finally extinguished.

Militiaman Shot by Companion

Private Wheeler's Weapon Caused the Sad Accident

Campbellton, N. B., July 31.—A shadowy gloom was cast over the fire-stricken community this afternoon when it was learned that Harold Wheeler, a member of the local militia, and one of the town's most popular young men, had been the victim of a shooting accident as a result of which he is now in a precarious condition.

The accident occurred at noon and was caused by the discharge of a bullet from his own revolver while in the hands of a friend of his named Porsier. The latter was examining the revolver, which was an automatic one, when the discharge took place. The bullet passed through Wheeler's arm and entered his abdomen, rendering him unconscious. He was taken to the relief hospital where he is being attended by Drs. Pinaud and Price.

This is the second serious accident to have taken place here since the day of the fire. That the outside world is gradually being aroused to the seriousness of Campbellton's situation was made evident by the increased number of subscriptions received here on Saturday, more than $1000 being sent. The relief fund is a pleasing feature in connection with it was the fact that the larger part of it came from non-Canadian cities, which up to a few days ago sent in little or no assistance.
